Department of Transportation,1984 Defence Planning for Small and Middle Powers Tim Sweijs,Saskia van Genugten,Frans Osinga,2024-08-01 This book examines the processes practices and principles of defence planning in small and middle powers Small and middle powers are recalibrating their force postures in this age of disruption They are adapting their defence planning and military innovation processes to protect the security of their nations The purpose of this book is to explore defence planning and military innovation in 11 contemporary case studies of small and middle powers in North America Europe the Middle East Asia and Oceania Employing a structured focused comparison framework it traces patterns in the choices of small and middle powers across the following themes 1 alliances dependencies and national ambitions 2 approaches processes methods and techniques and 3 military innovation strategies and outcomes Breaking new theoretical ground it offers a three pronged typology distinguishing between the strategic defence planner the transactional defence planners and the complacent defence planner The book offers a rich array of insights into cases that fall across different geographies strategic cultures and governance systems These insights can help guide discussions on how to structure decision making structures arrive at ambition levels formulate priorities select partners and design defence planning and military innovation processes This book will be of much interest to students of defence studies security studies public policy and international relations as well as to professionals in defence planning The Future of the City Kheir Al-Kodmany,Mir M. Ali,2013 Drawing on the experience of several cities from different parts of the world this text provides a global perspective on the urbanization phenomenon and tall building development and examines their underlying logic design drivers contextual relationships and pitfalls Back to Basics Martin Jack Desmond,2004 The rural areas of the Pacific Northwest region have been economically suffering for over ten years The urban areas have been economically suffering for over four years This book describes how we can create economically and environmentally sound jobs by utilizing our greatest natural resource in the Pacific Northwest region our forests We can choose to embrace a future to create good jobs in our region that will withstand the rigors of global job outsourcing and improve our environment Six points to economic securityPoint 1 The United States and the Pacific Northwest have a lack of good jobs economic recovery Point 2 Global outsourcing is one of the factors for the loss of good jobs America is increasingly unable to create good jobs that are able to compete against low wages from Asia Point 3 Over three quarters of Forest Service lands in Oregon and Washington are at moderate to high risk from destructive wildfires because of large accumulations of brush and small trees Point 4 The federal government spent over 1.5 billion in both 2000 and 2002 to suppress wildfires Point 5 Rather than spend increasing sums of money on wildfire suppression the federal government should sell excess small trees on our public lands to reduce the fuels accumulation The sale of the trees would generate funds to pay for more fuels treatment Point 6 Private companies and public agencies would hire Americans to work in the woods to reduce the fuels buildup and to process the woody biomass in the mills and ethanol conversion plants We could use the ethanol fuel to power our vehicles We would reduce our 60% dependence on imported oil from the politically unstable Middle East and other foreign countries We could produce more lumber to reduce our 30% dependence on imported lumber from other countries We could reduce the threat of wildfires We could also build up our forests to store excess carbon dioxide to combat global warming
