Backing Into the Limelight Alexander Games, 2002 Alan Bennett is one of Britain's most popular living writers Alexander Games comedy critic of the Evening Standard examines the life of this private man and sheds new light on his work Alan Bennett Kara McKechnie, 2007 Alan Bennett is one of the UK's most well known and successful writers He has acted written directed presented or edited in almost every conceivable dramatic medium including stage print media radio film and television This book is the first to focus on his often neglected work for television from the mid 1960s right through to the present It encompasses formats such as the single play the rarely seen 1970s collaborations with Stephen Frears and Lindsay Anderson the two Talking Heads series perceived as a reinvention of the television monologue and his autobiographical documentaries While providing a context of television drama in which Bennett's output is embedded this study also provides compact overviews of his work in other media English Filming, English Writing Jefferson Hunter, 2010-04-05 Jefferson Hunter examines English films and television dramas as they relate to English culture in the 20th century He traces themes such as the influence of U S crime drama on English film and film adaptations of literary works as they appear in screen work from the 1930s to the present A Canterbury Tale and the documentary Listen to Britain are analyzed in the context of village pageants and other wartime explorations of Englishness at risk English crime dramas are set against the writings of George Orwell while a famous line from Noel Coward leads to a discussion of music and image in works like Brief Encounter and Look Back in Anger Screen adaptation is also broached in analyses of the 1985 BBC version of Dickens's Bleak House and Merchant Ivory's The Remains of the Day Contemporary Authors Lisa Kumar, 2004-06 A biographical and bibliographical guide to current writers in all fields including poetry fiction and nonfiction journalism drama television and movies Information is provided by the authors themselves or drawn from published interviews feature stories book reviews and other materials provided by the authors publishers Edinburgh's Festivals David Pollock, 2023-08-04 In August 1947 an migr Austrian opera impresario launched the Edinburgh International Festival of Music and Drama to heal the scars of the Second World War through a celebration of the arts At the same time a socialist theatre group from Glasgow and other amateur companies protested their exclusion from the festival by performing anyway inventing the concept of fringe theatre Now the annual celebration known collectively as the Edinburgh Festival is the largest arts festival in the world incorporating events dedicated to theatre film art literature comedy dance jazz and even military pageantry It has launched careers from Peter Cook and Dudley Moore in Beyond the Fringe to Phoebe Waller Bridge with Fleabag mirrored the political and social mood of its times shaped the city of Edinburgh around it and welcomed a huge all star cast including Orson Welles Grace Kelly Yehudi Menuhin and Mark E Smith's The Fall and many many more This is its story Michael Reeves Benjamin Halligan, 2003-11-08 Michael Reeves died at age 25 in 1969 between the end of Swinging London and the collapse of the British film industry an apt candidate to represent all that could have been This critical biography claims Reeves as the great lost auteur of British cinema and traces his conception of film back to his childhood and formative experiences Benjamin Halligan examines Reeves films in the context of the times citing The Sorcerers and Witchfinder General as foreshadowing and critiquing the psychedelic and revolutionary zeitgeist Reeves's earlier work on the fringes of the freewheeling European exploitation cinema is also covered with particular emphasis on his Revenge of the Blood Beast A National Joke Andy Medhurst, 2007-09-18 Comedy is crucial to how the English see themselves This book considers that proposition through a series of case studies of popular English comedies and comedians in the twentieth century ranging from the Carry On films to the work of Mike Leigh and contemporary sitcoms such as The Royle Family and from George Formby to Alan Bennett and Roy Chubby Brown Relating comic traditions to questions of class gender sexuality and geography A National Joke looks at how comedy is a cultural thermometer taking the temperature of its times It asks why vulgarity has always delighted English audiences why camp is such a strong thread in English humour why class influences what we laugh at and why comedy has been so neglected in most theoretical writing about cultural identity Part history and part polemic it argues that the English urgently need to reflect on who they are who they have been and who they might become and insists that comedy offers a particularly illuminating location for undertaking those reflections OK2BG Jack Dunsmoor, 2015 OK2BG is narrative nonfiction a Memoir about a guy who wants to be a Mentor preferably to a teenager so they can have a decent meaningful conversation about stuff preferably with a kid at risk or just otherwise lost in order to help both the teenager as well as the determined subject of this story realize their unique potential find or reinforce their place in the world Overall a chronicle about the author's attempt over several years to understand the question of why do I want to be a Mentor which eventually helps him become a more insightful person Subsequently in September 2010 after a plague of teen suicides Jack turns his attention to researching gay biographies into optimistically appropriate groups of books for gay kids at risk from bullying After 5 years Jack has categorized 2 000 books in the form of Memoirs Biographies Autobiographies written by or about 1 000 allegedly gay men The primary message in OK2BG is to read reassess before you run asunder The National Theatre Story Daniel Rosenthal, 2013-11-07 Winner of the STR Theatre Book Prize 2014 The National Theatre Story is filled with artistic financial and political battles onstage triumphs and the occasional disaster This definitive account takes readers from the National Theatre's 19th century origins through false dawns in the early 1900s and on to its hard fought inauguration in 1963 At the Old Vic Laurence Olivier was for ten years the inspirational Director of the NT Company before Peter Hall took over and in 1976 led the move into the National's concrete home on the South Bank Altogether the NT has staged more than 800 productions premiering some of the 20th and 21st centuries most popular and controversial plays including Amadeus The Romans in Britain Closer The History Boys War Horse and One Man Two Guvnors Certain to be essential reading for theatre lovers and students The National Theatre Story is packed with photographs and draws on Daniel Rosenthal's unprecedented access to the National Theatre's own archives unpublished correspondence and more than 100 new interviews with directors playwrights and actors including Olivier's successors as Director Peter Hall Richard Eyre Trevor Nunn and Nicholas Hytner and other great figures from the last 50 years of British and American drama among them Edward Albee Alan Bennett Judi Dench Michael Gambon David Hare Tony Kushner Ian McKellen Diana Rigg Maggie Smith Peter Shaffer Stephen Sondheim and Tom Stoppard

British and Irish Dramatists Since World War II. John Stanley Bull, 2005 Embraces the work of writers working in theatrical traditions ranging from the classic well made play to the most radical avant garde pieces This variety is indicative of the fact that this period is one of the most important in British drama comparable to the late Elizabethan Jacobean and post Restoration eras in terms of the quantity and quality of new work and surpassing both of them in the sheer variety of theatrical offerings New Statesman, 2001 Playing Gay in the Golden Age of British TV Stephen Bourne, 2019-11-22 The television set the humble box in the corner of almost every British household has brought about some of the biggest social changes in modern times It gives us a window into the lives of people who are different from us different classes different races different sexualities And through this window we've learnt that perhaps we're not so different after all Playing Gay in the Golden Age of British TV looks at gay male representation on and off the small screen from the programmes that hinted at homoeroticism to Mary Whitehouse's Clean Up TV campaign and The Naked Civil Servant to the birth of Channel 4 as an exciting alternative television channel Here acclaimed social historian Stephen Bourne tells the story of the innovation experimentation back tracking and bravery that led British television to help change society for the better Having it So Good Peter Hennessy, 2007-05-03 Having It So Good evokes Britain emerging from the shadow of war and the privations of austerity and rationing into growing affluence Peter Hennessy takes his readers into the front rooms where the Coronation was watched on television to the classrooms and now coffee bars of 1950s Britain and also into the secret Cabinet rooms in which decisions about the British nuclear bomb were taken and plans made for the catastrophe of nuclear war He brings to life the ageing Churchill in his last faltering spell as Prime Minister the highly strung Anthony Eden taking his country to war in the teeth of American opposition and world opinion and the rise of Supermac Harold Macmillan gliding over problems with his Edwardian insouciance Above all Having It So Good captures the smell and the flavour of an extraordinary decade in which affluence and anxiety combined to produce their own winds of change Sport, Leisure and Culture in the Postmodern City Stephen Wagg, 2016-04-01 The widespread concept of the postmodern city is frequently linked to the decline of traditional manufacturing industries and a corresponding wane of white working class culture In place of these appear flexible working practices a diversified workforce and a greater emphasis on consumption leisure and tourism Illustrated by an interdisciplinary study of Leeds a typical postmodern city this volume examines how such cities have reinvented themselves commercially politically and spatially over the past two decades The work addresses issues like cultural policy city centre development sport leisure and identity and explores different urban processes in relation to changing configuration of class gender and ethnicity in the postmodern city BFI
