Virtual Principles in Aircraft Structures M. Gatewood, 2012-12-06 The basic partial differential equations for the stresses and displacements in classical three dimensional elasticity theory can be set up in three ways 1 to solve for the displacements first and then the stresses 2 to solve for the stresses first and then the displacements and 3 to solve for both stresses and displacements simultaneously These three methods are identified in the literature as 1 the displacement method 2 the stress or force method and 3 the combined or mixed method Closed form solutions of the partial differential equations with their complicated boundary conditions for any of these three methods have been obtained only in special cases In order to obtain solutions various special methods have been developed to determine the stresses and displacements in structures The equations have been reduced to two and one dimensional forms for plates beams and trusses By neglecting the local effects at the edges and ends satisfactory solutions can be obtained for many case The procedures for reducing the three dimensional equations to two and one dimensional equations are described in Chapter 1 Volume 1 where the various approximations are pointed out

Collaborative Product and Service Life Cycle Management for a Sustainable World Richard Curran, Shuo-Yan Chou, Amy J. C. Trappey, 2008-08-31 Collaborative Product and Service Life Cycle Management for a Sustainable World gathers together papers from the 15th ISPE International Conference on Concurrent Engineering CE2008 to stimulate the new thinking that is so crucial to our sustained productivity enhancement and quality of life It is already evident in this new century that the desire for sustainable development is increasingly driving the market to reach for new and innovative solutions that more effectively utilize the resources we have inherited from previous generations with the obvious responsibility to future generations Human productivity and progress can be positively engineered and managed in harmony with the provision and needs of our natural environment One century on from the industrial revolution this is now the time of the sustainable revolution requiring holistic technological process and people integrated solutions to sustained socio economic enhancement
