Emerging Technologies for Education Zuzana Kubincová, Tianyong Hao, Nicola Capuano, Marco Temperini, Shili Ge, Yuanyuan Mu, Paolo Fantozzi, Jing Yang, 2024-07-15 This two volume set constitutes the revised selected papers of several workshops which were held in conjunction with the 8th International Symposium on Emerging Technologies for Education SETE 2023 held in Sydney Australia in November 26 28 2022 3 The 46 revised full papers presented in this book were carefully reviewed and selected from 23 submissions The SETE 2023 presented the following six workshops 1st International Workshop on Cognitive Neuroscience of Language Learning CLNN 2th International Workshop on Digitalization In Language And Cross Cultural Education DLCCE 6th International Workshop on Educational Technology for Language Learning ETLL 2nd Workshop on Hardware And Software Systems as Enablers for Lifelong Learning HASSELL 9th International Workshop on Peer Review Peer Assessment and Self Assessment in Education PRASAE Researching and Applying Metaphor in the Real World Graham Low, Alice Deignan, Lynne Cameron, Zazie Todd, 2010 It has become increasingly clear that metaphor needs to be explored in terms of the social and discourse context in which it is used especially where the aim is to address real world problems The notion of real world metaphor research has been developed to describe this important area of investigation This book starts by describing the nature and scope of real world metaphor research and then illustrates through 17 detailed mainly empirically based studies the different areas it can apply to and different methodologies that can be employed Research problems are explored in areas such as artificial intelligence language teaching and learning reconciliation dialogue university lecture discourse poetry and wine description Methods include corpus analysis experimentation discourse analysis cross cultural analysis and genre analysis In each case the empirical studies refer back to Gibbs s opening overview of real world research The result is an invaluable and cross referenced collection of papers addressing real world problems Conversation Analytic Research on Learning-in-Action John Hellermann, Søren W. Eskildsen, Simona Pekarek Doehler, Arja Piirainen-Marsh, 2019-11-04 This volume offers insights on language learning outside the classroom or in the wild where L2 users themselves are the driving force for language learning The chapters by scholars from around the world critically examine the concept of second language learning in the wild The authors use innovative data collection methods such as video and audio recordings collected by the participants during their interactions outside classrooms and analytic methods from conversation analysis to provide a radically emic perspective on the data Analytic claims are supported by evidence from how the participants in the interactions interpret one another s language use and interactional conduct This allows the authors to scrutinize the term wild showing what distinguishes L2 practices in our different datasets and how those practices differ from the L2 learner data documented in other more controlled settings such as the classroom We also show how our findings can feed back into the development of materials for classroom language instruction and ultimately can support the implementation of usage based L2 pedagogies In sum we uncover what it is about the language use in these contexts that facilitates developmental changes over time in L2 speakers and their co participants interactional practices for language learning Second Language Acquisition and Universal Grammar Lydia

White,2003-03-06 This authoritative 2003 textbook provides an overview and analysis of current second language acquisition research conducted within the generative linguistic framework Lydia White argues that second language acquisition is constrained by principles and parameters of Universal Grammar The book focuses on characterizing and explaining the underlying linguistic competence of second language learners in terms of these constraints Theories as to the role of Universal Grammar and the extent of mother tongue influence are presented and discussed with particular consideration given to the nature of the interlanguage grammar at different points in development from the initial state to ultimate attainment Throughout the book hypotheses maintaining that second language grammars are constrained by universal principles are contrasted with claims that Universal Grammar is not implicated relevant empirical research is presented from both sides of the debate This textbook is essential reading for those studying second language acquisition from a linguistic perspective Key Issues in Chinese as a Second Language Research Istvan Kecskes,Chaofen Sun,2017-06-26 Key Issues in

Chinese as a Second Language Research presents and discusses research projects that serve as theoretical grounding for improving the teaching and learning of Chinese as a second language CSL in order to help researchers and practitioners better understand the acquisition development and use of CSL With the exception of the first chapter which is state of the art each chapter makes an attempt to bring together theory and practice by focusing on theory building and theory application in practice The book is organized around areas where most future research is needed in CSL phonology semantics grammar and pragmatics Consisting of contributions from an international group of scholars working on cutting edge research this is the ideal text for researchers graduate students and practitioners in the area of Chinese as a second or foreign language

Papers on Linguistics and Child Language Vladimir Honsa,M. J. Hardman-de-Bautista,2018-02-19 No detailed description available for Papers on Linguistics and Child Language Journal of Pan-Pacific Association of Applied Linguistics ,2006 Innovation in Language Learning and Teaching Richard Smith,Tim Giesler,2023-06-15 By adopting a historical perspective this edited collection of papers takes a fresh look at a key concept in applied linguistics that of innovation A substantial introduction advocates historical re evaluation of this notion via exploration of its rise to prominence while the ten subsequent chapters present in depth case studies of apparently successful as well as ineffective innovations from the early eighteenth to the late twentieth century Language learning teaching developments in Brazil China England France Germany and Italy are considered along with global innovations in language learner lexicography while the languages considered include Chinese English French Italian Latin Portuguese and Spanish Various types of primary source material are utilized illustrating the possibilities of applied linguistic historiography for both students and academics new to the field

The book questions ideas of perpetual innovation and progress supporting the adoption of more critical perspectives on change and innovation in applied linguistics and language teaching

Intercultural Language Teaching and Learning Anthony J. Liddicoat, Angela Scarino, 2013-02-05 This wide ranging survey of issues in intercultural language teaching and learning covers everything from core concepts to program evaluation and advocates a fluid responsive approach to teaching language that reflects its central role in fostering intercultural understanding Includes coverage of theoretical issues defining language culture and communication as well as practice driven issues such as classroom interactions technologies programs and language assessment Examines systematically the components of language teaching language itself meaning culture learning communicating and assessments and puts them in social and cultural context Features numerous examples throughout drawn from various languages international contexts and frameworks Incorporates a decade of in depth research and detailed documentation from the authors collaborative work with practicing teachers Provides a much needed addition to the sparse literature on intercultural aspects of language education

Challenges and Innovations in Speaking Assessment Larry Davis, John M. Norris, 2024-09-19 The assessment of second language speaking ability has played a central role in the evolution of language testing theory and practice Educational Testing Service ETS has been a primary innovator in all dimensions of speaking assessment since the 1970s addressing critical challenges through the advent of new test designs scoring practices and measurement technologies to make especially large scale standardized testing of speaking ability a reality This volume presents a sample of key ETS research and development efforts related to speaking assessment over the years The contributors highlight diverse contributions to conceptualizing the speaking construct designing speaking test tasks scoring speech samples marshalling technologies for test delivery and automated scoring and developing end to end speaking assessment procedures The first part emphasizes how some of the earliest large scale speaking assessments were designed and put into practice The second part features research and development related to speaking assessments in the TOEIC and TOEFL testing suites emphasizing their validity and scoring The third part introduces research based innovations in testing new and more nuanced speaking constructs and in using automated scoring of speech to address diverse assessment needs The volume will appeal to language testing professionals and test score users in illuminating how ETS has influenced the development of speaking assessment as well as pointing to multiple directions for future research and practice Current Index to Journals in Education ,2002

Toward Second Language Acquisition E.C. Klein,2012-12-06 This book uniquely illustrates how second language acquisition SLA data can instigate linguistic exploration and help inform linguistic and acquisition theory in crucial ways It also offers new perspectives toward our understanding of the relationship between first and second language acquisition Universal Grammar UG and the target language input Specifically examination of the L2 development of pied piping and preposition stranding in English questions and relative clauses shows that the required preposition is frequently omitted by learners who have demonstrated accurate subcategorization knowledge of verbal complements in related declarative constructions The null prep data in the L2 grammar leads to an important cross linguistic investigation of this largely ignored syntactic phenomenon in the world s languages it also motivates exploration of the complex English input learners receive as positive evidence An analysis of null prep piping and stranding is posited including the relevant principles and parameters of UG involved Based on this linguistic analysis alternative explanations for the L2 phenomenon are offered representing challenges to UG and markedness based accounts of second language acquisition Such challenges will be of interest to linguists as well as to students teachers reseachers and scholars interested in second language acquisition particularly in its relationship to UG Resources in Education ,2000-04
