Cooper's Novels: The Redskins James Fenimore Cooper, 1864

The Nature of Trauma in American Novels Michelle Balaev, 2012-06-11 This book examines literary trauma theory from its foundations to its implementations and new possibilities A n analysis that reconsiders the meaning and value of traumatic experience by demonstrating the diversity of its forms in contemporary American novels in an effort to deepen the discussion of trauma beyond that of the disease driven paradigm in literary criticism today The author's model views trauma and the process of remembering within a framework that emphasizes the multiplicity of responses to an extreme experience and the importance of contextual factors in determining the significance of the event In order to demonstrate this new approach she focuses her discussion on late modern canonical and emergent American novels that deal with trauma In analyzing the narrative methods authors employ to portray suffering she found two major patterns the use of landscape imagery to convey the effects of trauma and remembering and the use of place as a site that shapes the protagonist's experience and perception of the world

Rangeland Systems David D. Briske, 2017-04-12 This book is open access under a CC BY NC 2.5 license This book provides an unprecedented synthesis of the current status of scientific and management knowledge regarding global rangelands and the major challenges that confront them It has been organized around three major themes The first summarizes the conceptual advances that have occurred in the rangeland profession The second addresses the implications of these conceptual advances to management and policy The third assesses several major challenges confronting global rangelands in the 21st century This book will compliment applied range management textbooks by describing the conceptual foundation on which the rangeland profession is based It has been written to be accessible to a broad audience including ecosystem managers educators students and policy makers The content is founded on the collective experience knowledge and commitment of 80 authors who have worked in rangelands throughout the world Their collective contributions indicate that a more comprehensive framework is necessary to address the complex challenges confronting global rangelands Rangelands represent adaptive social ecological systems in which societal values organizations and capacities are of equal importance to and interact with those of ecological processes A more comprehensive framework for rangeland systems may enable management agencies and educational research and policy making organizations to more effectively assess complex problems and develop appropriate solutions

Postmodernism, Twenty-First Century Culture, and American Fiction Matt Graham, 2024-07-19 Postmodernism's end is a complex and contentious topic Yet one overarching consensus emerges the postmodern has been surpassed This book poses a thought experiment challenging this position what if postmodernism persists within the twenty first century Rather than designate a new epoch or coherent movement this book interrogates the fragmented contradictory and counterintuitive endurance of postmodern aesthetics within post Cold War America An alternative use of postmodern aesthetics becomes possible when they are decoupled from their twentieth century historical location Collectively these repetitions posit a postmodern continuum contrasting the widely called for succession of postmodernism via this decoupling When postmodern aesthetics are no longer unconsciously repeated within their cultural moment this emergent shift within a period after postmodernism presents an alternative historical positioning and use After their cultural vanguard postmodern aesthetics become a confrontation of the chaotic realism of an inescapable post Cold War capitalism tapping into this cultural zeitgeist through literature
