Habits of the Heartland Lyn C. Macgregor,2013-09-15 Although most Americans no longer live in small towns images of small town life and particularly of the mutual support and neighborliness to be found in such places remain powerful in our culture In Habits of the Heartland Lyn C Macgregor investigates how the residents of Viroqua Wisconsin population 4 355 create a small town community together Macgregor lived in Viroqua for nearly two years During that time she gathered data in public places attended meetings volunteered for civic organizations talked to residents in their workplaces and homes and worked as a bartender at the local American Legion post Viroqua has all the outward hallmarks of the idealized American town the kind of place where local merchants still occupy the shops on Main Street and everyone knows everyone else On closer examination one finds that the town contains three largely separate social groups Alternatives Main Streeters and Regulars These categories are not based on race or ethnic origins Rather social distinctions in Viroqua are based ultimately on residents ideas about what a community is and why it matters These ideas both reflect and shape their choices as consumers whether at the grocery store as parents of school age children or in the voting booth Living with and listening to the town s residents taught Macgregor that while traditional ideas about community especially as it was connected with living in a small town still provided an important organizing logic for peoples lives there were a variety of ways to understand and create community Saturday Review of Literature ,1952-07 American Folk Art for Kids Richard Panchyk,2004-09-01 Drawing on the natural folk art tendencies of children who love to collect buttons bottle caps shells and Popsicle sticks to create beautiful imperfect art this activity guide teaches kids about the history of this organic art and offers inspiration for them to create their own masterpieces The full breadth of American folk art is surveyed including painting sculpture decorative arts and textiles from the 17th century through today Making bubblegum wrapper chains rag dolls bottle cap sculptures decoupage boxes and folk paintings are just a few of the activities designed to bring out the artist in every child Along the way kids learn about the lives of Americans throughout history and their casual relationships to everyday art as they cut stencils sew needlepoint samplers draw calligraphy birds and design quilts Important folk artists

such as the last surviving Shakers the legendary Grandma Moses and the Reverend Howard Finster are also explored in sidebars throughout the book Soviet Life ,1980 Let it Shine High Museum of Art,2001 During 1996 and 1997 T Marshall Hahn donated a substantial portion of his collection of contemporary folk art to the High Museum of Art in Atlanta His gift was the first major collection of self taught art primarily from the South to be given to a general interest American museum The Hahn Collection comprises more than 140 paintings works on paper and sculptures created by more than forty artists and is particularly strong in work by African American self taught artists The three essays in this book provide a context for this extraordinary gift An interview with Hahn by Lynne E Spriggs the High s Curator of Folk Art traces his personal collecting history An essay by Joanne Cubbs the High s first curator of folk art explores conceptual and aesthetic themes common to Southern folk art and an essay by Lynda Roscoe Hartigan Chief Curator at the Smithsonian American Art Museum presents an overview of the developing awareness of and market for Southern folk art The catalogue section features color reproductions and short essays on eighty five of the most significant objects in the Collection The Sourcebook of Architectural & Interior Art Jill Schaefer,2004-09 Raised in Clay Nancy Sweezy,1994 Raised in Clay is a remarkable portrait of pottery making in the one of the oldest and richest craft traditions in America Focusing on more than thirty potters in North Carolina Georgia Alabama Texas Mississippi and Kentucky Nancy Sweezy tells how Annual Report National Endowment for the Arts, Reports for 1980 19 also include the Annual report of the National Council on the Arts
