Performing Ethnicity, Performing Gender Bettina Hofmann, Monika Mueller, 2016-09-01. Performance and performativity are important terms for a theorization of gender and race/ethnicity as constitutive of identity. This collection reflects the ubiquity, diversity, and historical locatedness of ethnicity and gender by presenting contributions by an array of international scholars who focus on the representation of these crucial categories of identity across various media, including literature, film, documentary, and music video performance. The first section, Political Agency, stresses instances where the performance of ethnicity/gender ultimately aims at a liberating effect, leading to more autonomy. The second section, Diasporic Belonging, explores the different kinds of negotiations of ethnic performances in multi-ethnic contexts. The third part, Performances of Ethnicity and Gender, scrutinizes instances of the combined performance of ethnicity and gender in novels, films, and musical performances. The last section, Cross-Ethnic Traffic, contains a number of contributions that are concerned with attempts at crossing over from one ethnicity into another by way of performance.

A Grammar of Cupeño Jane H. Hill, 2005-12. In one of the most thorough studies ever prepared of a California language, Hill's grammar reviews the phonology, morphology, syntax, and discourse features of Cupeño, a Uto-Aztecan Takic language of California. Cupeño exhibits many unusual typological features, including split ergativity, that require linguists to revise our understanding of the development of the Uto-Aztecan family of languages in historical and areal perspective.

Recovering the Word Brian Swann, Arnold Krupat, 1987-01-01. These essays by linguists, folklorists, anthropologists, literary theorists, and poets bring to a new level of sophistication the structural analysis of Native American literary expression. Their common concern is for the appreciation and elucidation of Native American song and story and for a historical, philosophical, psychoanalytic, and linguistic kind of commentary. The essays address the overlapping issues of presentation and interpretation of Native American literature: How to present in writing an art that is primarily oral, dramatic, and performative; How to interpret that art both in its traditional forms and in its later written forms.
