Canadian Plains Research Center,2004 The more than 175 biographies in this volume together tell the story of writing in Saskatchewan As David Carpenter notes in his Introduction to the volume The writers whose lives are told in these pages are part of an extraordinary cultural community that has touched and been touched by the people and landscape of this province Wife No. 19, Or, The Story of a Life in Bondage Ann Eliza Young,1876 The Magical Pine Ring Margaret Bedrosian,1991 Margaret Bedrosian s pioneering interdisciplinary study examines the continuing effect of Armenian history on Armenian American writing Using the work of ten Armenian American poets and fiction and non fiction writers she shows the continuing impact on Armenian Americans of cultural symbols myths and attitudes carried over from the Old World and explores the ways in which two cultures meet conflict and become integrated in the imagination Through analysis of writers actual or fictionalized experience The Magical Pine Ring provides an understanding of the Armenians specific concerns as Armenians and as immigrants the effect of their self awareness as Armenians on their adaptation to America the typical and stereotypical situations and personalities that emerged with time and the key values and beliefs that endured even as names were changed and assimilation blurred physical and social demeanor Bedrosian also explores the directions Armenian American writers have taken in portraying group history and the nature of their self discovery as Armenian Americans For the most part this literature is not a direct outgrowth of the mainstream of Armenian literature The relationship of the writer discussed here is one of spirit of ancestral sympathies burdens and responsibilities These writers register the pain of exile and alienation as they weave images of yearning and loss celebration and futuristic vision into their writing Through their crossroads identity in America these writers add to our understanding of the Armenian diaspora The Story of Avis Elizabeth Stuart Phelps,1877 The Big Horse and Other Stories of Modern Macedonia Milne Holton,1974 It was not until after the Second World War and the successful struggle of Tito s partisans and the forging of a new Yugoslavia that Macedonia realized in some measure her autonomy as a republic federated within that new state It was only then that she had her own university that Macedonian became the teaching language of her schools and that she achieved a variety of self government It is pride in these achievements that has shaped the consciousness of her people This collection offers for the first time in English representative stories of 20 writers all of whom are still living and all of whom began their careers after 1945 They are the writers of at least two generations Some were partisans but some never knew war and are still in their twenties or thirties Their stories range from rather traditional work in imitation of Russian or European masters to radical experiments in the anti story Going Top Shelf Michael P.
