ignore Essays on Music Gary Tomlinson author of Metaphysical Song An Essay on Opera This book is both a major achievement by its author editor and a remarkable act of scholarly generosity for the rest of us Until now English translations of Adorno's major essays on music have been scattered and often unreliable Until now there has been no comprehensive scholarly treatment of Adorno's musical thinking This volume remedies both problems at a single stroke It will be read equally and eagerly for Adorno's texts and for Richard Leppert's commentary on them both of which will continue to be essential resources as musical scholarship seeks increasingly to come to grips with the social contexts and effects of music No one knows Adorno better than Leppert and no one is better equipped to clarify the complex interweaving of sociology philosophy and musical aesthetics that is central to Adorno's work From now on everyone who reads Adorno on music whether a beginner or an expert is in Richard Leppert's debt for devoting his exceptional gifts of learning and lucidity to this project Lawrence Kramer author of Musical Meaning Toward a Critical History Travel and Drugs in

Twentieth-Century Literature Lindsey Michael Banco, 2013-01-11 This book examines the connections between two disparate yet persistently bound thematics mobility and intoxication and explores their central yet frequently misunderstood role in constructing subjectivity following the 1960s Emerging from profound mid twentieth century changes in how drugs and travel were imagined the conceptual nexus discussed sheds new light on British and North American responses to sixties counterculture With readings of Aldous Huxley William Burroughs Alex Garland Hunter S Thompson and Robert Sedlack Banco traces twin arguments looking at the ways travel is imagined as a disciplinary force acting upon the creative destabilizing powers of psychedelic intoxication and exploring the ways drugs help construct travel spaces and practices as at times revolutionary and at other times neo colonial By following a sequence of shifting understandings of drug and travel orthodoxies this book traverses fraught and irresistibly linked terrains from the late 1950s up to a period marked by international postmodern tourism As such it helps illuminate a world where tourism is continually expanding yet constantly circumscribed and where illegal drugs are both increasingly unregulated in the global economy and perceived more and more as crucial agents in the construction of human subjectivity Encyclopedia of the Essay Tracy Chevalier, 2012-10-12 This groundbreaking new source of international scope defines the essay as nonfictional prose texts of between one and 50 pages in length The more than 500 entries by 275 contributors include entries on nationalities various categories of essays such as generic such as sermons aphorisms individual major works notable writers and periodicals that created a market for essays and particularly famous or significant essays The preface details the historical development of the essay and the alphabetically arranged entries usually include biographical sketch nationality era selected writings list additional readings and anthologies Wandering into Brave New World David Leon Higdon, 2013-10-01 Wandering into Brave New World explores the historical contexts and contemporary sources of Aldous Huxley's 1932 novel which seventy years after its initial publication remains the best known and most discussed dystopian work of the twentieth century This new study addresses a number of questions which still remain open Did his round the world trip in 1925 1926 provide material for the novel Did India's caste system contribute to the novel's human levels Is there an overarching pattern to the names of the novel's characters Has the role of Hollywood in the novel been underestimated Is Lenina Crowe a representative 1920s flapper Did Huxley have knowledge of and sources for his Indian reservation characters and scenes quite independent of and more accurate than those of D H Lawrence's writings Did Huxley's visit to Borneo contribute anything to the novel New research allows substantive answers and even explains why Huxley linked such figures as Henry Ford and Sigmund Freud It also shows how the novel overcomes its intense grounding in 1920s political turmoil to escape into the timelessness of dystopian fiction

The Psychology of Culture Shock Colleen A. Ward, Stephen Bochner, Adrian Furnham, 2001 Crossing cultures can be a stimulating and rewarding adventure It can also be a stressful and bewildering experience This thoroughly revised and updated edition of Furnham and Bochner's classic Culture Shock 1986 examines the psychological and social processes involved in intercultural contact including learning new culture specific skills managing stress and coping with an unfamiliar environment changing cultural identities and enhancing intergroup relations The book describes the ABCs of intercultural encounters highlighting Affective Behavioural and Cognitive components of cross cultural experience It incorporates both theoretical and applied perspectives on culture shock and a comprehensive review of empirical research on a variety of cross cultural travellers such as tourists students business travellers immigrants and refugees Minimising the adverse effects of culture shock facilitating positive psychological outcomes and discussion of selection and training techniques for living and working abroad represent some of the practical issues covered The Psychology of Culture Shock will prove an essential reference and textbook for courses within psychology sociology and business training It will also be a valuable resource for professionals working with culturally diverse populations and acculturating groups such as international students immigrants or refugees

Pleasure and Guilt on the Grand Tour Chloe Chard, 1999 This work examines the forms of language that map out Italy as an imaginative topography of pleasure within British and French travel writing over the period 1600 to 1830 It considers the tour with reference to strategies of description and themes

Parisian Fields Michael Sheringham, 1996 Perhaps no world city has so many resonances on so many levels as Paris Cafe society demi monde the intellectual life film makers and writers Paris has fragmented socially sexually intellectually and linguistically into many fields Parisian Fields sets out to investigate some of these The writers investigate how Paris has been both seen and shaped by tourist guides how its topography has been represented and allegorized by film makers like Godard Clair Vigo and Renoir how the city has responded to new Parisians for example Afro American musicians and dancers such as Josephine Baker and to previously marginalized Parisians gays and women Literary analysis film social and gender theory perspectives on urbanism here are many provocative and innovative views of the open field of Paris which will appeal to anyone interested in French cultural and literary studies or just in the City of Light herself With essays by Roger Clark Nicholas Hewitt Jon Kear Tom Conley

Michael Sheringham Alex Hughes Adrian Rifkin Belinda Jack Verena Andermatt Conley and Marc Aug Global West, American Frontier David M. Wrobel, 2013-10-15 This thoughtful examination of a century of travel writing about the American West overturns a variety of popular and academic stereotypes Looking at both European and American travelers accounts of the West from de Tocqueville's Democracy in America to William Least Heat Moon's Blue Highways David Wrobel offers a counter narrative to the nation's romantic entanglement with its western past and suggests the importance of some long overlooked authors lively and perceptive witnesses to our history who deserve new attention Prior to the professionalization of academic disciplines the reading public gained much of its knowledge about the world from travel writing Travel writers found a wide and respectful audience for their reports on history geography and the natural world in addition to reporting on aboriginal cultures before the advent of anthropology as a discipline Although in recent decades western historians have paid little attention to travel writing Wrobel demonstrates that this genre in fact offers an important and rich understanding of the American West one that extends and complicates a simple reading of the West that promotes the notions of Manifest Destiny or American exceptionalism Wrobel finds counterpoints to the mythic West of the nineteenth century in such varied accounts as George Catlin's Adventures of the Ojibbeway and Ioway Indians in England France and Belgium 1852 Richard Francis Burton's The City of the Saints 1861 and Mark Twain's Following the Equator 1897 reminders of the messy and contradictory world that people navigated in the past much as they do in the present His book is a testament to the instructive ways in which the best travel writers have represented the West The Psychology of Culture Shock Colleen Ward, Stephen Bochner, Adrian Furnham, 2005-08-11 This thoroughly revised and updated edition of the classic Culture Shock examines the psychological and social processes involved in intercultural contact including learning new culture specific skills and managing stress Bibles and Baedekers Michael Grimshaw, 2014-12-05 Contemporary tourism and travel have become a form of religion a new opiate of the masses However could Church and theology be religious forms of tourism and travel Bibles and Baedekers offers a theology of tourism and exile for a modern and postmodern world It examines the ways in which location identity and movement have made use of religious texts and metaphor and questions the relative absence of secular texts and ideas in theology The theology of the tourist and traveller is one of new experiences the acquisition of identity through movement Bibles and Baedekers uniquely applies this to the postmodern Christian embodying the fulfilment of Bonhoeffer's religionless Christianity dislocated from both a secular and religious world Travel Writing Carl author. (Carl Edward) Thompson, Travel Writing Casey Blanton, 2002 Traces travel writing's evolution from classical times to the present focusing on Anglo American work since the eighteenth century Examines texts by James Boswell Mary Kingsley Graham Greene Peter Mathiessen Naipaul and Chatwin
