Introduction

This course is designed to provide students with a comprehensive understanding of the principles and practices of project management. The course covers the entire project lifecycle, from initiation to closure, and includes practical applications of project management tools and techniques.

Course Objectives

By the end of this course, students will be able to:

- Identify the key components of a project and the roles of the project manager.
- Develop a project charter and a project management plan.
- Execute project tasks and manage project risks.
- Monitor project progress and communicate effectively with stakeholders.
- Close a project and evaluate project performance.

Prerequisites

Students should have a basic understanding of business and management principles. No prior experience with project management is required, but it would be beneficial.

Course Materials

The primary textbook for this course is "Project Management: The Process, Product, and Practice" by Rita Mulholland. Additional materials, including case studies and articles, will be provided throughout the course.

Assessment

Students will be assessed through a combination of quizzes, assignments, and a final project. The final project will require students to apply their knowledge to a real-world project scenario.
