different aesthetics and their religious beliefs particular as these are reflected in their attitudes towards death The Challenge of Keats, 2016-09-27 Two centuries after his birth in October 1795 John Keats occupies a secure place in the canon of great literature of the western world But for much of the nineteenth century and even during periods of the twentieth century his right to such a position was not so firmly established On the bicentenary of Keats's birth various Italian scholars along with specialists from English speaking countries decided to take advantage of the occasion not only to render homage to a poet whose greatness now seems unchallenged but also to accept his continuing challenge to his readers The contributors to this volume re-examine some of the harshest criticisms of Keats from Byron onwards and some of the unconditional exaltations of the poet in order to discover possible sites between the two for new critical impulses and fertile re-evaluations of his achievement Under five headings Romantic Truth Textual Readings History and Myth Keats and Other Poets and Painting and Music the essays in this book appraise the historical cultural contexts that nurtured Keats's creativity discuss the influences and interrelationships among Keats and other poets and consider Keats's artistry as revealed in the analyses of particular texts Mesmerized Alison Winter, 1998-12 List of Illustrations Acknowledgments Introduction An Invitation to the Seance 1 Discovery of the Island of Mesmeria 2 Animal Magnetism Comes to London 3 Experimental Subjects as Scientific Instruments 4 Carnival Chapel and Pantomime 5 The Peripatetic Power of the New Science 6 Consultations Conversations and Institutions 7 The Invention of Anesthesia and the Redefinition of Pain 8 Colonizing Sensations in Victorian India 9 Emanations from the Sickroom 10 The Mesmeric Cure of Souls 11 Expertise Common Sense and the Territories of Science 12 The Social Body and the Invention of Consensus Conclusion The Day after the Feast Notes Bibliography Index Copyright Libri GmbH All rights reserved Elizabeth Barrett Browning Simon Avery, 2011 In this study Simon Avery considers a range of Elizabeth Barrett Browning's poems drawn from across her career in order to examine the concern with the search for a meaningful home which underpins much of her writing Dickens's Style Daniel Tyler, 2013-07-04 Charles Dickens generally regarded as the greatest novelist of the Victorian age was known as The Inimitable not least for his distinctive style of writing This collection of twelve essays addresses the essential but often overlooked subject of Dickens's style with each essay discussing a particular feature of his writing All the essays consider Dickens's style conceptually and they read it closely demonstrating the ways it works on particular occasions They show that style is not simply an aesthetic quality isolated from the deepest meanings of Dickens's fiction but that it is inextricably involved with all kinds of historical political and ideological concerns Written in a lively and accessible manner by leading Dickens scholars the collection ranges across all Dickens's writing including the novels journalism and letters Victorian Poetry in Context Rosie Miles, 2013-07-04 Victorian Poetry in Context offers a lively and accessible introduction to the diverse range of poetry written in the Victorian period Considering such issues as reform and protest gender science and belief this book sets out the social and cultural contexts for the poetry of a fast changing era Sections on Victorian poetics form and

Victorian voices introduce the key literary contexts of poetry's production and poetic innovations of the period such as the dramatic monologue are highlighted. At the heart of the book is a focus on the importance of attentive close reading with original readings offered of well known texts alongside those that have recently received renewed attention within scholarship. The book also offers an overview of critical approaches to several key texts and discussion of how Victorian poetry has remained influential in the twentieth and twenty first centuries. Kojo Laing, Robert Browning and Affiliative Literature Joseph Hankinson, 2022-12-13 This book compares the Victorian British poet Robert Browning and the twentieth century Ghanaian poet and novelist Kojo Laing, two writers whose texts frequently foreground multi-scalar transregional cartographies, points of connection and translation and imaginative kinships between different linguistic and cultural communities. Starting from the numerous and surprising points of connection and resemblance between both authors' texts, this book puts pressure on critical practices that would keep writers like Laing and Browning separate, positing instead the importance of paying attention to the transnational, cross-cultural and cross-temporal imaginative relationships texts themselves generate. By comparing two writers whose texts represent different points of view on a number of shared and congruent contexts, this book seeks an original way of understanding the relationship between texts and post-colonial contexts. Texts and other texts: Browning's and Laing's shared tendency to foreground trans- and post-national cartographies of relation and difference and their similarly translational aesthetics both demand a probing of the disciplinary separation between English Literature and Comparative Literature as well as literature and comparison and a fresh awareness of the ways in which literature itself makes comparisons and affiliations. It also involves a version of world literature intent on accentuating the relational world's linguistic, imaginative, ethical that texts themselves generate, a criticism sensitive to the ways in which writers from different times and places can still be seen to overlap.

The Shelleys and the Brownings Rieko Suzuki, 2022-01-13 This book is about the intertextual relationships between the works of the Shelleys and the Brownings. While a lot of research has been done on the relationship between Percy Bysshe Shelley and Robert Browning, virtually nothing has been said about the links between Mary Shelley and Robert Browning and very little on the connections between the Shelleys and Elizabeth Barrett Browning. Rieko Suzuki seeks to address this blind spot by focusing on three areas in particular: firstly, the way that Browning's later poems reflect back on and re-engage with Shelley's work; secondly, Mary Shelley's influence on Browning's early poems; and thirdly, Shelley's presence in and influence on Elizabeth Barrett Browning's writing. In mapping out the various ways in which texts relate to other texts, the book also identifies a number of important thematic threads that run throughout the work of all four writers. These include theories of history and historical consciousness, providing a further dimension to the question of influence. They also include ideas about exile, gender, liberal politics and cultural heritage, central to almost all the texts discussed here as the Shelleys and the Brownings in different ways and in varying contexts tried to negotiate the possibility of a more tolerant and resilient social political and cultural environment

Shelley and the Apprehension of Life Ross Wilson, 2013-08-15 Percy Bysshe Shelley in the essay On Life 1819 stated We live on and in living we lose the apprehension of life Ross Wilson uses this statement as a starting point to explore Shelley's fundamental beliefs about life and the significance of poetry Drawing on a wide range of Shelley's own writing and on philosophical thinking from Plato to the present this book offers a timely intervention in the debate about what Romantic poets understood by life For Shelley it demonstrates poetry is emphatically living melody which stands in resolute contrast to a world in which life does not live Wilson argues that Shelley's concern with the opposition between living and the apprehension of life is fundamental to his work and lies at the heart of Romantic era thought Julia Wedgwood, The Unexpected Victorian Sue Brown, 2022-03-08 Though Julia Wedgwood is still remembered as a commentator on the work of her uncle Charles Darwin and for her brief but intense friendship with Browning her contemporary standing as a writer the thoughtful woman par excellence has been obscured as has her role in the pioneering days of women's higher education and the first campaigns for female suffrage Based on her extensive correspondence and unusually wide ranging work this biography unites the private person and the public writer It also looks at her many relationships with leading Victorian cultural figures including not only Darwin and Browning but George Eliot Mrs Gaskell Harriet Martineau Frances Power Cobbe F D Maurice Richard Hutton Arthur Munby and the young E M Forster It considers the challenges facing a single deaf Victorian woman in establishing her own independent but unconventional life List of Foreign Office Records to 1878 Preserved in the Public Record Office Great Britain.
