Cowards Weapon:

A Concordance to the Poems of Robert Browning, The Wordsworth Dictionary of Quotations Connie Robertson,1998 Quotations have exercised a particular fascination for humanity since the birth of recorded language and their potency in the age of the soundbite is stronger than ever We revel in quotations compete to know them love them hate them and inscribe them in books and on buildings and this freshly revised and updated dictionary includes a wealth of new material among its 13 000 familiar serious outrageous witty and thought provoking entries The Wordsworth Dictionary of Quotations is an essential work of reference for every writer journalist and speech maker as well as being a treasure trove for the browser and the simply curious From the Roman poet Ovid s observation that Judgement of beauty can er what with the wine and the dark to Oscar Wilde s that Experience is the name everyone gives to their mistakes there is a wide diversity of sayings to add spice to our conversation and enrich our daily lives The book is alphabetically arranged by author and indexed by keyword for ease of use

Lepanto 1571 Nic Fields,2021-05-04 A military historian s enlightening reassessment of the famous 16th century naval battle between the Ottoman Empire and Pope Pius V s Holy League The battle of Lepanto has long been considered one of the decisive naval battles of history Yet the savage fighting on October 7th 1571 left the strategic map unchanged The defeated Ottoman Turks were able to replace their losses and launch a new fleet the following year In Lepanto 1571 historian Nic Fields reexamines the battle and concludes that its importance was psychological It sank the perception of Ottoman dominance and the inevitability of Islam s westward encroachment beyond the Balkans With over 200 ships per side it was the largest naval battle in sixteen centuries and the last major fight between fleets composed entirely of the muscle driven galley These slender ships were the direct descendants of the Classical trireme but carried cannon and marines bearing firearms although massed archery and cold steel still played a major role on the fateful day Nic Fields gives an excellent account of this fascinating and spectacular battle

Youth Identities, Localities, and Visual Material Culture Kristen Ali

Eglinton, 2012-10-06 This invaluable addition to Springer's Explorations of Educational Purpose series is a revelatory ethnographic account of the visual material culture of contemporary youths in North America The author's detailed study follows apparently dissimilar groups black and Latino in a New York City after school club and white and Indigenous in a small Canadian community as they inflect their nascent identities with a sophisticated sense of visual material culture in today's globalized world It provides detailed proof of how much ethnography can add to what we know about young people's development in addition to its potential as a model to explore new and significant avenues in pedagogy Supported by a wealth of ethnographic evidence the analysis tracks its subjects responses to strikingly diverse material ranging from autobiographical accounts by rap artists to the built environment It shows how young people from the world's cultural epicenter just like their counterparts in the sub Arctic construct racial geographic and gender identities in ways that are subtly responsive to what they see around them blending localized characteristics with more widely shared visual references that are now universally accessible through the Web The work makes a persuasive case that youthful engagement with visual material culture is a relational and productive activity that is simultaneously local and global at once constrained and enhanced by geography and possesses a potent and life affirming authenticity Densely interwoven with young people's perspectives the author's account sets out an innovative and interdisciplinary conceptual framework affording fresh insights into how today's youth assimilate what they perceive to be significant Supported by a wealth of ethnographic evidence the analysis tracks its subjects responses to strikingly diverse material ranging from autobiographical accounts by rap artists to the built environment It shows how young people from the world's cultural epicenter just like their counterparts in the sub Arctic construct racial geographic and gender identities in ways that are subtly responsive to what they see around them blending localized characteristics with more widely shared visual references that are now universally accessible through the Web The work makes a persuasive case that youthful engagement with visual material culture is a relational and productive
