Classic monsters are primarily the creatures of legend touched by the supernatural or created by the madness of men who venture where no man should go: the good old monsters who lurked in gloomy settings of Central European villages, ancient castles, and tombs; moulding mansions and stone laboratories filled with mazes of bewildering equipment and sounds of humming of electricity in dark nights and violent storms. From A to Z, Hollywood Monsters inspired by Edgar Allan Poe, Bram Stoker, and Mary Shelley. Videohound's Family Video Retriever Martin Kohn, Visible Ink Press Staff, 1996-09 Loads of listings, indexes, and categories for cross referencing and a very useful distributor guide. Virginian Pilot Parent's Magazine contributing editor and family entertainment reviewer Martin Kohn makes it fun and easy to select videos the whole family can enjoy from The Hunchback of Notre Dame to The Phantom. This fully updated and enhanced new edition presents 1,000 new reviews including 500 new kidvids plus warnings about drugs, violence, and sexual content. With a total of more than 4,000 films for children or the whole family, this is by far the biggest and most comprehensive family guide on the market. Apocalypse Then Mike Bogue, 2017-08-11 The United States the only country to have dropped the bomb and Japan the only one to have suffered its devastation understandably portray the nuclear threat differently on film. American science fiction movies of the 1950s and 1960s generally proclaim that it is possible to put the nuclear genie back in the bottle. Japanese films of the same period assert that once freed the nuclear genie can never again be imprisoned. This book examines genre films from the two countries released between 1951 and 1967 including Godzilla 1954, The Mysterians 1957, The Incredible Shrinking Man 1957, On the Beach 1959, The Last War 1961, and Dr Strangelove 1964 to show the view from both sides of the Pacific. Cinema and Popular Geo-politics Marcus Power, 2013-09-13 With a detailed range of approaches, this new collection investigates how cinematic narratives can and have been used to portray different political threats and dangers. Including a range of chapters with a contemporary focus, it studies issues such as how the geopolitical world has been constructed through film, how cinema can provide explanatory narratives in periods of cultural and political anxiety, uneasiness, and uncertainty. Examining the ways in which film impacts upon popular understandings of national identity and the changing geopolitical world, the book looks at how audiences make sense of the geopolitical messages and meanings contained within a variety of films from the US productions of Hollywood to Palestinian, Mexican, British, and German cinematic traditions. This thought-provoking book draws on an international range of contributions to discuss and fully investigate world cinema in light of key contemporary issues. This book was previously published as a special issue of Geopolitics. New York Magazine, 1988-08-29 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country. With award-winning writing and photography.

covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea New York Magazine ,1989-01-02 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Internet Children's Television Series, 1997-2015 Vincent Terrace,2016-08-22 Created around the world and available only on the web internet television series are independently produced mostly low budget shows that often feature talented but unknown performers Typically financed through crowd funding they are filmed with borrowed equipment and volunteer casts and crews and viewers find them through word of mouth or by chance The fifth in a series focusing on the largely undocumented world of internet TV this book covers 573 children's series created for viewers 3 to 14 The genre includes a broad range of cartoons CGI live action comedies and puppetry Alphabetical entries provide websites dates casts credits episode lists and storylines
