Black Lives in Britain Jeffrey Green, 2025-02-27 People of African descent in the British Isles have been widely overlooked in both British social history and the history of Black people. Located in country towns as well as large cities, their contributions spanned diverse roles and professions. Some people of African descent became doctors and medal-winning soldiers, while others were trapped in slavery or sex work. Black individuals participated in political and imperial reform as well as in groups that supported fellow Black communities. Many migrated to Africa, Australia, Jamaica, or New Zealand. Drawing from contemporary newspapers, historical archives, the writings of descendants and veterans, school and government files, and memoirs, this book offers an in-depth study of the role of Black people in British history. It examines how people of African descent were affected by cultural snobbery, racism, and imperialism and sheds light on the many other aspects of the varied lives of Black people in Britain from 1830 to 1940. Despite rarely being contextualized in their age, people of color did not solely exist as stigmatized outsiders; they participated in English society as teachers, government officials, tradespeople, and in many other roles.

Historic Buildings Mary A. Vance, 1985 The Match Girl and the Heiress Seth Koven, 2016-04-19 How two extraordinary women crossed the Victorian class divide to put Christian teachings into practice in the slums of East London. Nellie Dowell was a match factory girl in Victorian London who spent her early years consigned to orphanages and hospitals. Muriel Lester, the daughter of a wealthy shipbuilder, longed to be free of the burden of money and possessions. Together, these unlikely soulmates sought to remake the world according to their own utopian vision of Christ's teachings. The Match Girl and the Heiress paints an unforgettable portrait of their late nineteenth-century girlhoods of wealth and want and their daring twentieth-century experiments in ethical living in a world torn apart by war, imperialism, and industrial capitalism. In this captivating book, Seth Koven chronicles how each traveled the globe: Nellie as a spinster proletarian laborer, Muriel as a well-heeled tourist and revered Christian peacemaker, anticolonial activist, and humanitarian. Koven vividly describes how their lives crossed in the slums of East London where they inaugurated a grassroots revolution that took the Sermon on the Mount as a guide to achieving economic and social justice for the dispossessed. Koven shows how they devoted themselves to Kingsley Hall, Gandhi's London home in 1931, and Britain's first people's house, founded on the Christian principles of social sharing, pacifism, and reconciliation, and sheds light on the intimacies and inequalities of their loving yet complicated relationship. The Match Girl and the Heiress probes the inner lives of these two extraordinary women against the panoramic backdrop of shop floor labor, politics, global capitalism, counterculture, spirituality, and pacifist feminism to expose the wounds of poverty and neglect that Christian love could never heal.

Bibliography of Printed Works on London History to 1939 Heather Creaton, Tony Trowles, 1994 The history of London is so important in national and indeed international terms it seems extraordinary that this is the first general bibliography of the subject to appear. It contains over 22 000 selected references to books and articles on the history of London from the Dark Ages to the beginning of the Second World War. The whole of the former GLC area plus the City is covered. Arrangement is by subject and there is a substantial analytical index. Material for the bibliography was collected from specialist libraries all over London and beyond. It is a starting point for any enquiry about London's development over the centuries whether from the academic historian, the amateur or the general enquirer. A supplement is planned to cover new material on the period.

Literary Fiction Tourism

Nicola E. MacLeod, 2024-03-22. This timely and insightful book critically reviews the synergistic relationship between books, literary culture and the practices of tourism. The volume sets literary fiction tourism within its historical, theoretical and managerial context and explores the current provision of literary tourism sites and experiences. It focuses on literary fiction and the interplay between imaginative worlds, literary reputation and tourism. The volume explores a variety of literary tourism forms in a global context such as biographical sites, imaginative sites, literary trails and book towns, identifying the challenges associated with interpreting and managing them for visitors. Current international case studies allow readers to understand this most ancient of touristic activity within its contemporary context. This book offers new insight into the diversity of the literary tourism landscape, the range of experiences and visitors and the variety of interpretive responses that may be appropriate. The relationship between literary fiction and other forms of media such as film and digital culture are also explored. International in scope, this volume will be of interest to students of tourism, heritage studies, cultural studies and media studies as well as those interested in literary tourism more specifically.
