Modern Britain Bruce L. Kinzer, Molly Baer Kramer, Richard Trainor, 2022 The essays in this volume taken together span the era of British history from 1780 to the present that has engrossed the attention of Brian Harrison in a career of more than fifty years In keeping with his diverse interests they vary widely in subject matter Yet each contributes in some fashion to an appreciation of the complexities of reform in modern Britain Throughout his career Harrison has demonstrated an unwavering interest in social movements and pressure groups He has analysed the organisation of reform movements and their bases of support explored the aspirations and beliefs motivating individuals to start or join such movements and examined the ideas and ideals shaping their conception of human improvement No one has done more to show that the significance of a reform movement's triumphs and disappointments can be grasped only in relation to the forces amassed to resist its claims. The essays gathered here on the Harrisonian theme of reform and its complexities form an acknowledgment of the massive mark their honouree has made on the study of modern British history. They are preceded by a Foreword composed by Keith Thomas and an editorial Introduction tracing the course of Harrison's scholarship and connecting that scholarship to the substance of the essays. The volume encompasses both wide-ranging analytical investigations and telling case studies. All have new things to say on the subject of reform and its complexities in modern Britain.

Landless Households in Rural Europe, 1600-1900 Christine Fertig, Richard Paping, Henry French, 2022. First comparative study of landless households brings out their major role in European history and society. The numbers of landless people, those lacking formal rights to land or possessing only tiny smallholdings, grew rapidly across post-medieval Europe as rural population and economic growth divided landowners and farmers from increasingly landless rural workers. But they have hitherto been relatively neglected, a gap which this volume covering Scandinavia, Germany, Austria, Netherlands, Belgium, Britain, France, and Spain from the sixteenth to the early twentieth centuries aims to fill, making creative use of a diverse range of unexplored sources. Instead of concentrating on the well-documented cases of landholding peasants, it explores the many different experiences of the numerous rural landless. It explains how their households were formed, often in the face of economic difficulties and official hostility; how all the members of a family contributed to its survival; how the landless related to other social groups and negotiated access to vital resources; and how they adapted as rural society was changed by war, politics, agrarian and industrial development, government policy, and welfare systems.

The Countryside of East Anglia Susanna Wade Martins, Tom Williamson, 2008. The countryside we enjoy today has a very long history, but many of its key features were created in the relatively recent past as this book shows It investigates how the landscape of a particular area of England East Anglia developed in the period of the so called Great Depression beginning in 1870 An Atlas of

Northamptonshire Tracey Partida,David Hall,Glenn Foard,2013-01-08 An Atlas of Northamptonshire presents an historical atlas of the greater part of Northamptonshire the first quarter having been published as An Atlas of Rockingham Forest It presents in map form the results of fieldwork and documentary research undertaken since the mid 1960s to map the landscape of the whole of Northamptonshire prior to enclosure by Parliamentary Act This is the first time a whole county has been completely studied in this way and the first time a whole county has had an accurate view of its medieval landscape with details of the medieval fields woods pastures and meadows which have been mapped by ground survey of archaeological remains confirmed where possible from aerial photographs and early maps It is also the first time a county has been mapped showing all pre parliamentary enclosure providing comprehensive data for the difficult theme of early enclosure in a midland county Complete relevant historic map sources are listed many in private possession and not lodged with county record offices Settlements are discussed based on the detailed mapping of every house depicted on historic maps as wells the extent of earthworks which provides much new evidence relative to settlement development in the Midlands As well as being highly relevant for anyone studying medieval settlements and enclosure it illustrates how GIS can be used to present a very large amount of historical and landscape data for any region The clearly laid out maps in full colour throughout contain an immense amount of data which together provide a fascinating new portrait of this historic county Apostles of Inequality

Jim Handy,2022-03-31 Between 1760 and 1860 the English countryside was subject to constant attempts at agricultural improvement Most often these meant depriving cottagers and rural workers of access to land they could cultivate despite evidence that they were the most productive farmers in a country constantly short of food Drawing from a wide range of contemporary sources Apostles of Inequality argues that such attempts driven by a flawed faith in the wonders of capital did little to increase agricultural productivity and instead led to a century of increasing impoverishment in rural England Jim Handy rejects the assertions about the benefits that accompanied the transition to improved agriculture and details the abundant evidence for the efficiency of smallholder peasant agriculture He traces the development of both economic theory and government policy through the work of agricultural improver Arthur Young 1741 1820 government advisor Nassau William Senior 1790 1864 and the editors and writers of the Economist as well as Adam Smith and Thomas Robert Malthus Apostles of Inequality demonstrates how a fascination with capital promoted by political economy and farmers desires to have a labour force completely dependent on wage labour fostered widespread destitution in rural England for over a century

Richard Congreve, Positivist Politics, the Victorian Press, and the British Empire Matthew Wilson,2025-04-08 This book is about the life and times of Richard Congreve This polemicist was the first thinker to gain instant infamy for publishing cogent critiques of imperialism in Victorian Britain As the foremost British acolyte of Auguste Comte Congreve sought to employ the philosopher's new science of sociology to dismantle the British Empire With an aim to realise in its place Comte's global vision of utopian socialist republican city states the former Oxford don and ex Anglican minister launched his Church of Humanity in 1859 Over the next forty years Congreve engaged in some of the most pressing foreign and domestic controversies of his day despite facing fierce personal attacks in the Victorian press Congreve made overlooked contributions to the history of science political economy and secular ethics In this book Matthew Wilson argues that Congreve's polemics in the name of Humanity served as the devotional practices of his Positivist church The Coming of Age of the Green Community Erik Bichard, 2013-10-01 People organising to protect their environment is not a new phenomenon but the groups that have been pushing for environmental change since the 1970s have not convinced sufficient numbers make sustainable decisions or to lead sustainable lives Governments have serially failed to do the job at the international level Now climate change resource depletion and widening social aspirations threaten to destabilise human society unless sustainable change can be influenced from another direction The Coming of Age of the Green Community explores the activities of a new generation of community led initiatives that may herald the beginnings of the next wave of activism Erik Bichard combines the testimonies of dozens of group activists with historic evidence and the views of a range of commentators from a variety of disciplines to put forward reasons why some green community groups succeed while others fail He concludes with a valuable prescription for both existing and emerging groups on how to be sustainable both over time and in their actions This book address one of the key questions of the twenty first century has the local perspective on this universal concern finally come of age Flinders Essays in Economics and Economic History Ralph Shlomowitz, 2009 Papers prepared for a conference in 2005 held to honour the three founders of the economics discipline at Flinders University Class and Community in Provincial Ireland, 1851-1914 Brian Casey, 2018-04-26 This book explores the experience of small farmers labourers and graziers in provincial Ireland from the immediacy of the Famine until the eve of World War One During this period of immense social and political change they came to grips with the processes of modernisation By focusing upon east Galway it argues that they were not an inarticulate mass but rather they were sophisticated and politically aware in their own right This study relies upon a wide array of sources which have been utilised to give as authentic a voice to the lower classes as possible Their experiences have been largely unrecorded and this book redresses this imbalance in historiography while adding a new nuanced understanding of the complexities of class relations in provincial Ireland This book argues that the actions of the rural working class and nationalists has not been fully understood supporting E P Thompson's argument that their aspirations were valid in terms of their own experiences Enlightenment's Frontier Fredrik Albritton Jonsson, 2013-06-18 DIV Enlightenment's Frontier is the first book to investigate the environmental roots of the Scottish Enlightenment What was the place of the natural world in Adam Smith's famous defense of free trade Fredrik Albritton Jonsson recovers the forgotten networks of improvers and natural historians that sought to transform the soil plants and climate of Scotland in the eighteenth century The Highlands offered a vast outdoor laboratory for rival liberal and conservative views of nature and society But when the improvement schemes foundered toward the end of the century northern Scotland instead became a crucible for anxieties about overpopulation resource exhaustion and the physical limits to economic growth In this way the rise and fall of the Enlightenment in the Highlands sheds new light on the origins of environmentalism div      Transactions of the Royal Historical Society: Volume 13 Royal Historical Society,2003-12-18 The Transactions of the Royal Historical Society publish an annual collection of major articles representing some of the best historical research by some of the world s most distinguished historians Volume thirteen of the sixth series includes the following articles Presidential Address England and the Continent in the ninth century Vikings and Others According to ancient custom the restoration of altars in the Restoration Church of England Einhard the sinner and the saints Migrants immigrants and welfare from the Old Poor Law to the Welfare State Jack Tar and the gentleman officer the role of uniform in shaping the class and gender related identities of British naval personnel 1930 1939 Writing fornication medieval Leyrwite and its historians Resistance reprisal and community in Occupied France 1941 1944 There is also a themed section which looks at Architecture and History      Lifescapes Jeremy Burchardt,2023-05-11 A compelling study of the influences that shape our responses to landscape through eight modern British lives      Worthy Efforts: Attitudes to Work and Workers in Pre-Industrial Europe Catharina Lis,Hugo Soly,2012-07-26 In Worthy Efforts Catharina Lis and Hugo Soly offer an innovative approach to the history of perceptions and representations of work in Europe throughout Classical Antiquity and the medieval and early modern periods      A History of Gardening, 1800-1960: Transforming Gardens Across Two Centuries Angela Youngman,      Informal Urban Agriculture Michael Hardman,Peter J. Larkham,2014-10-01 The book explores how unused and under used urban spaces from grass verges roundabouts green spaces have been made more visually interesting and more productive by informal and usually illegal groups known as guerrilla gardeners The book focuses on groups in the English Midlands but the work is set in a broad international context and reveals how and why they undertake this illegal activity Guerrilla gardening is usually viewed uncritically and promoted as a worthwhile activity this study provides a more balanced evaluation and focuses on its contribution in terms of local food production      The Routledge Companion to Britain in the Nineteenth Century, 1815-1914 Chris Cook,2005-11-30 The Routledge Companion to Britain in the Nineteenth Century 1815 1914 is an accessible and indispensable compendium of essential information on the Victorian and Edwardian eras Using chronologies maps glossaries an extensive bibliography a wealth of statistical information and nearly two hundred biographies of key figures this clear and concise book provides a comprehensive guide to modern British history from the end of the Napoleonic Wars to the outbreak of the First World War As well as the key areas of political economic and social development of the era this book also covers the increasingly emergent themes of sexuality leisure gender and the environment exploring in detail the following aspects of the nineteenth century parliamentary and political reform chartism radicalism and popular protest the Irish Question the rise of Imperialism the regulation of sexuality and vice the development of organised sport and leisure the rise of consumer society This book is an ideal reference resource for students and teachers alike

Rural Women Workers in Nineteenth-century England

Nicola Verdon, 2002 The range of women's work and its contribution to the family economy studied here for the first time Despite the growth of women's history and rural social history in the past thirty years the work performed by women who lived in the nineteenth century English countryside is still an under researched issue Verdon directly addresses this gap in the historiography placing the rural female labourer centre stage for the first time The involvement of women in the rural labour market as farm servants as day labourers in agriculture and as domestic workers are all examined using a wide range of printed and unpublished sources from across England The roles village women performed in the informal rural economy household labour gathering resources and exploiting systems of barter and exchange are also assessed Changes in women's economic opportunities are explored alongside the implications of region age marital status number of children in the family and local custom women's economic contribution to the rural labouring household is established as a critical part of family subsistence despite criticism of such work and the rise in male wages after 1850 NICOLA VERDON is a Research Fellow in the Rural History Centre University of Reading
