Alternatives Black Feminism In The Postimperial Nation:

AlterNatives Ranu Samantrai, 2002 This is the history of the black British women's movement of the 1980s comprising women of African Caribbean and South Asian origin and its place in postwar British politics racism and feminism Race, Ethnicity and the Women's Movement in England, 1968-1993 Natalie Thomlinson, 2016-04-08 This book is the first archive based account of the charged debates around race in the women's movement in England during the second wave period Examining both the white and the Black women's movement through a source base that includes original oral histories and extensive research using feminist periodicals this book seeks to unpack the historical roots of long running tensions between Black and white feminists It gives a broad overview of the activism that both Black and white women were involved in and examines the Black feminist critique of white feminists as racist how white feminists reacted to this critique and asks why the women's movement was so unable to engage with the concerns of Black women Through doing so the book speaks to many present day concerns within the women's movement about the politics of race and indeed the place of identity politics within the left more broadly Feminist Studies Hemangini Gupta, Kelly Sharron, Carly Thomsen, Abraham Weil, 2025-06-02 Feminist Studies An Introductory Reader offers a unique approach to teaching and learning feminist thought Crafted with the movement and translation of ideas in mind this book is broken into four sections Feminist Epistemologies Feminist Ontologies Feminist Orientations and Resistance Each chapter includes two well known classic texts that commonly appear in Feminist Studies classes as well as two new texts written by scholars who engage critique and extend those ideas in their work In addition the book is accompanied by a companion website which includes discussion questions assignment ideas lesson plans and other materials useful for classroom instruction Feminist Studies An Introductory Reader is designed for those new to feminism as well as more seasoned feminist thinkers It is an ideal resource for students in introductory and advanced feminist theory courses as well as those interested in social scientific and humanistic inquiry more broadly

Reconstructing Identity Nicholas Monk, Mia Lindgren, Sarah McDonald, Sarah Pasfield-Neofitou, 2017-07-31 This book examines the notion of identity through a multitude of interdisciplinary approaches It collects current thinking from international scholars spanning philosophy history science cultural studies media translation performance and marketing each with an outlook informed by their own subject and a mission to reflect on a theme that is greater than the sum of its parts This project was born out of a dynamic international and interdisciplinary pedagogical experience While by no means a teaching guide or textbook the authors experience of sharing the module with their students reinforced the fluidity and elusiveness of identity and its persistent facility to escape disciplinary classification Identity as a subject for analysis and discussion and as a lived reality for all of us has never been more complex and multi faceted Each chapter of this singular collection provides a lens through which the concept of identity can be viewed and as the book progresses it moves from ideas based in disciplinary contexts biology psychiatry philosophy to those developed in multi and inter disciplinary contexts

The Palgrave Handbook of Critical Race and Gender Shirley Anne Tate, Encarnación Gutiérrez Rodríguez, 2022-03-07 This handbook unravels the complexities of the global and local entanglements of race gender and intersectionality within racial capitalism in times of MeToo BlackLivesMatter the Chilean uprising Anti Muslim racism backlash against trans and queer politics and global struggles against modern colonial femicide and extractivism Contributors chart intersectional and decolonial perspectives on race and gender research across North America Europe Latin America the Caribbean and South Africa centering theoretical understandings of how these categories are imbricated and how they operate and mean individually and together This book offers new ways to think about what is absent present and why how erasure works in historical and contemporary theoretical accounts of the complexity of lived experiences of race and gender and how as new issues arise intersectionalities re emerge in the politics of race and gender This handbook will be of interest to students and scholars across the social sciences and humanities

Innocent Subjects Terese Jonsson, 2020-12-20 In a time of intensified global white supremacist and patriarchal violence anti racist feminist movements and analyses have never been more vital Women of colour are at the forefront of these struggles worldwide but are white feminists really by their side Despite a rich history of Black and postcolonial critiques of racist and imperial feminist politics racism still exists within contemporary British feminism To explain why Terese Jonsson examines the history of feminism over the last forty years She argues that Black feminism s role in shaping the movement has been marginalised through narratives which repeatedly position white women at the centre of the story from the women s liberation movement in the 1970s to today Analysing the ways in which whiteness continues to pervade feminist literature as well as feminist debates in the liberal media Jonsson demonstrates that despite an increased attention to race intersectionality and difference stories told by white feminists are shaped by their desire to maintain an innocent position towards racism

Resist, Organize, Build Sarah Crook, Charlie Jeffries, 2022-08-01 The 1980s was a period of political and social tumult in Britain and the United States Facing resurgent conservative forces feminist and queer activists organized in ways that not only resisted conservative hegemony but also helped to forge new communities communications and futures Resist Organize Build casts new light on grassroots campaigns in Britain and the US looking at feminist and queer work on university campuses within anti racist and anti imperialist movements in reframing the family reproduction and health and in the establishment of new magazines book series and publishing houses The collection brings together emerging and established scholars to position historical work on the two national contexts side by side drawing out similarities and differences Taking care to center historically marginalized voices the collection gives students and scholars insight into and examples of the work of activist groups in a time that has many resonances with our own

Retrieving the Human Rebecka Rutledge Fisher, Jay Garcia, 2014-08-25 An interdisciplinary consideration of Paul Gilroy s contributions to cultural theory and understandings of modernity In the more than twenty years since the publication of his book The Black Atlantic Paul Gilroy has become a leading Afro European intellectual whose work in the cultural studies of race has influenced a number of fields and made the study of black Atlantic literatures and cultures an enduring part of the humanities The essays in this collection examine the full trajectory of Gilroy s work looking beyond The Black Atlantic to consider also his work in the intervening years focusing in particular on his investigations of contemporary black life in the United States histories of human rights and the politics of memory and empire in contemporary Britain With an essay by Gilroy himself extending his longstanding examination of fascism racial thinking and European philosophical thought in addition to an interview with Gilroy this volume features Gilroy s own words alongside other scholars alternative conceptualizations and critical rereadings of his works Feminist,

Queer, Crip Alison Kafer, 2013-05-16 A critical analysis of how social and academic discourses treat disability and how they affect disabled lives This book breathes the poetics of disability life a life that is consistently under threat in a way that is complex clear highly accessible and grounded in the politics of everyday life For this reason it may not be just that this book is highly teachable which it is this is a book that must be included in any disability studies queer theory and feminist theory curricula Canadian Journal of Disability Studies In Feminist Queer Crip Alison Kafer imagines a different future for disability and disabled bodies Challenging the ways in which ideas about the future and time have been deployed in the service of compulsory able bodiedness and able mindedness Kafer rejects the idea of disability as a pre determined limit She juxtaposes theories movements and identities such as environmental justice reproductive justice cyborg theory transgender politics and disability that are typically discussed in isolation and envisions new possibilities for crip futures and feminist queer crip alliances This bold book goes against the grain of normalization and promotes a political framework for a more just world Feminist Queer Crip makes significant contributions to our understanding of how disability works in the world contributions that no other academic book in the recently emergent field of interdisciplinary disability studies has done so thoroughly Journal of Literary and Cultural Disability Studies Ambitious doggedly interdisciplinary and accessibly written It retains political sharpness while remaining determinedly optimistic about queer crip futures QED Kafer interrogates the ableist assumptions that pervade social and academic discourses and offers a critique of how these assumptions are put into practice in ways that directly affect the lives of people with disabilities This is an original and comprehensive work that brings together disability studies feminist theory and queer theory Licia Carlson Providence College Race, Gender and Educational Desire Heidi Safia Mirza, 2008-11-19 This book is a great genealogy of black women s unrecognised contributions within both education and the wide social context I think it constitutes an important piece of work that is totally missing from the existing literature Diane Reay Professor of Education Cambridge University Race Gender and Educational Desire reveals the emotional and social consequences of gendered difference and racial division as experienced by black and ethnicised women teachers and students in schools and universities It explores the intersectionality of race and gender in education taking the topic in new challenging directions and asking How does race and gender structure the experiences of black and ethnicised women in our places of learning and teaching Why in the context of endemic race and gender inequality is there a persistent expression of educational desire among black and ethnicised women Why is black and ethnicised female empowerment important in understanding the dynamics of wider social change Social commentators academics policy makers and political activists have debated the causes of endemic gender and race inequalities in education for several decades This important and timely book demonstrates the alternative power of a black feminist framework in illuminating the interconnections between race and gender and processes of educational inequality Heidi Safia Mirza a leading scholar in the field takes us on a personal and political journey through the debates on black British feminism genetics and the new racism citizenship and black female cultures of resistance Mirza addresses some of the most controversial issues that shape the black and ethnic female experience in school and higher education such as multiculturalism Islamophobia diversity race equality and equal opportunities Race Gender and Educational Desire makes a plea for hope and optimism arguing that black women s educational desire for themselves and their children embodies a feminised prospectus for a successful multicultural future This book will be of particular interest to students academics and researchers in the field of education sociology of education multicultural education and social policy Heidi Safia Mirza is Professor of Equalities Studies in Education at the Institute of Education University of London and Director of the Centre for Rights Equalities and Social Justice CRESJ She is also author of Young Female and Black Routledge

Black Mothers and Attachment Parenting Patricia Hamilton,2022-06-14 Drawing on black feminist theorizing this outstanding work examines black mothers engagements with attachment parenting and shows how it both undermines and reflects neoliberalism Special Relations Howard Malchow,2011-02-18 Special Relations reevaluates Anglo American cultural exchange by exploring metropolitan London s culture and counterculture from the 1950s to the 1970s It challenges a tendency in cultural studies to privilege local reception and attempts to restore the concept of Americanization in this critical era of mass tourism professional exchange and media globalization while acknowledging an important degree of cultural hybridity and circularity The study begins with the influence of American modernism in the built environment and in Swinging London generally and then moves to its central project the re exploration of British counterculture the anti war movement student rebellion hippies popular music the alternative press and the late Sixties triad of black feminist and gay liberationisms as intimately tied to American experience and to American agents of cultural change Special Relations retrieves these phenomena as more central and enduring in British metropolitan life than the current orthodoxy allows and subjects to sharp critical scrutiny prevalent assertions of cultural authenticity in their British variants Finally the book looks at aspects of the turn against modernism and the counterculture in the 1970s Black and Postcolonial Feminisms in New Times Heidi Mirza,Cynthia Joseph,2013-10-18 This book is a compelling collection of essays on the intersection of race gender and class in education written by leading black and postcolonial feminists of colour from Asia Africa and the Caribbean living in Britain America

Canada and Australia It addresses controversial issues such as racism in the media exclusion in higher education and critical multiculturalism in schools Introducing new debates on transglobal female identity and cultures of resistance the book asks How does black and postcolonial feminisms illuminate race and gender identity in new global times How are race gender and class inequalities reproduced and resisted in educational sites How do women of colour experience race and gender differences in schools and universities This book is a must for political and social commentators academic researchers and student audiences interested in new feminist visions for new global times This book was published as a special issue of Race Ethnicity and Education

Political Blackness in Multiracial Britain Mohan Ambikaipaker, 2018-07-06 One evening in 1980 a group of white friends drinking at the Duke of Edinburgh pub on East Ham High Street made a monstrous five pound wager The first person to kill a Paki would win the bet Ali Akhtar Baig a young Pakistani student who lived in the east London borough of Newham was their chosen victim Baig s murder was but one incident in a wave of antiblack racial attacks that were commonplace during the crisis of race relations in Britain in the 1970s and 1980s Ali Akhtar Baig s death also catalyzed the formation of a grassroots antiracist organization Newham Monitoring Project NMP that worked to transform the racist victimization of African Caribbean and South Asian communities into campaigns for racial justice and social change In addition to providing a 24 hour hotline and casework services NMP activists worked to mitigate the scourge of racial injustice that included daily racial harassment hate crimes and antiblack police violence Since the advent of the War on Terror NMP widened its approach to support victims of the state s counterterrorism policies which have contributed to an unfettered surge in Islamophobia These realities as well as the many layers of gendered racism in contemporary Britain come to life through intimate ethnographic storytelling The reader gets to know a broad range of east Londoners and antiracist activists whose intersecting experiences present a multifaceted portrait of British racism Mohan Ambikaipaker examines the life experiences of these individuals through a strong theoretical lens that combines critical race theory and postcolonial studies Political Blackness in Multiracial Britain shows how the deep processes of everyday political whiteness shape the state s failure to provide effective remedies for ethnic racial and religious minorities who continue to face violence and institutional racism

Muslims in Britain Waqar Ihsan-Ullah Ahmad, Ziauddin Sardar, 2012 The management of social religious and ethnic diversity is a key social policy concern in Britain and Muslims in particular have become a focus of attention in recent years This timely and topical volume examines the position of Muslims in Britain and how they are changing and making social political and religious space With contributions from world renowned scholars on British Muslims and from policy makers writing on issues of concern to Muslims and others alike the book explores how British Muslims are changing social and religious spaces such as mosques and the role of women engaging in politics creating media and other resources and thus developing new perspectives on Islam and transforming Muslim society from within Chapters cover issues of religion and politics Britishness governance parallel lives gender issues religion in civic space ethnicity and inter ethnic and religious relations as well as the role of intellectuals chaplains and activists in reforming Islam and renovating the British political landscape Providing a broad and comprehensive examination of the key issues surrounding Muslims in the UK this book will be a valuable resource for students lecturers and researchers in sociology social policy geography politics Islamic studies and other related disciplines Gypsy and Traveller Girls Geetha Marcus, 2019-01-25 This book presents the untold stories of Gypsy and Traveller girls living in Scotland Drawing on accounts of the girls lives and offering space for their voices to be heard the author addresses contemporary and traditional stereotypes and racialised misconceptions of Gypsies and Travellers Marcus explores how the stubborn persistence of these negative views appears to contribute to policies and practices of neglect inertia or intervention that often aim to civilise and further assimilate these communities into the mainstream settled population It is against this backdrop that the book exposes the girls racialised and gendered experiences which impact on their struggles as young people to realise their potential and future prospects Their narratives reveal the strengths of a distinct community and the complexity of their silence and agency within the patriarchal structures that pervade the private spaces of home and the public spaces of education This study also invites the reader to reflect on how the experiences of Gypsy and Traveller girls compares with young women from other social backgrounds and questions if there is more that binds us than divides us as women in the modern world Gypsy and Traveller Girls will be of interest to students and scholars across a range of disciplines including sociology education gender studies and social policy

Against the Romance of Community Miranda Joseph, 2002 An unexpected and valuable critique of community that points out its complicity with capitalism Community is almost always invoked as an unequivocal good an indicator of a high quality of life caring selflessness belonging Into this common portrayal Against the Romance of Community introduces an uncommon note of caution a penetrating sorely needed sense of what precisely we are doing when we call upon this ideal Miranda Joseph explores sites where the ideal of community relentlessly recurs from debates over art and culture in the popular media to the discourses and practices of nonprofit and nongovernmental organizations to contemporary narratives of economic transformation or globalization She shows how community legitimates the social hierarchies of gender race nation and sexuality that capitalism implicitly requires Joseph argues that social formations including community are constituted through the performativity of production This strategy makes it possible to understand connections between identities and communities that would otherwise seem disconnected gay consumers in the United States and Mexican maquiladora workers Christian right family values and Asian crony capitalism Exposing the complicity of social practices identities and communities with capitalism this truly constructive critique opens the possibility of genuine alliances across such differences

Resources for Feminist Research , 2003 Settling Down and Settling Up Andrea Katherine Medovarski, Global Humanitarianism Daniel Robert DeChaine, 2005-01-01 In Global Humanitarianism Daniel Robert DeChaine undertakes an historical cultural analysis of humanitarian NGO rhetoric and politics He focuses his study specifically on MZdecins Sans

Fronti_res and the International Campaign to Ban Landmines This book besides being the first of its kind offers to the disciplines of political science cultural studies and sociology a model with which to consider the political and social roles of NGOs in the ever changing global community
