Alma Farm Norman F. Boas, Barbara Linton Meyer, 1999-01-01      Franz Boas Rosemary Lévy Zumwalt, 2019-11

Rosemary Lévy Zumwalt tells the remarkable story of Franz Boas one of the leading scholars and public intellectuals of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries The first book in a two part biography Franz Boas begins with the anthropologist's birth in Minden Germany in 1858 and ends with his resignation from the American Museum of Natural History in 1906 while also examining his role in training professional anthropologists from his berth at Columbia University in New York City Zumwalt follows the stepping stones that led Boas to his vision of anthropology as a four field discipline a journey demonstrating especially his tenacity to succeed the passions that animated his life and the toll that the professional struggle took on him Zumwalt guides the reader through Boas's childhood and university education describes his joy at finding the great love of his life Marie Krackowizer traces his 1883 trip to Baffin Land and recounts his efforts to find employment in the United States A central interest in the book is Boas's widely influential publications on cultural relativism and issues of race particularly his book The Mind of Primitive Man 1911 which reshaped anthropology the social sciences and public debates about the problem of racism in American society Franz Boas presents the remarkable life story of an American intellectual giant as told in his own words through his unpublished letters diaries and field notes Zumwalt weaves together the strands of the personal and the professional to reveal Boas's love for his family and for the discipline of anthropology as he shaped it

Mary Putnam Jacobi and the Politics of Medicine in Nineteenth-Century America Carla Bittel, 2012-06-01 In the late nineteenth century as Americans debated the woman question a battle over the meaning of biology arose in the medical profession Some medical men claimed that women were naturally weak that education would make them physically ill and that women physicians endangered the profession Mary Putnam Jacobi 1842-1906 a physician from New York worked to prove them wrong and argued that social restrictions not biology threatened female health Mary Putnam Jacobi and the Politics of Medicine in Nineteenth Century America is the first full length biography of Mary Putnam Jacobi the most significant woman physician of her era and an outspoken advocate for women's rights Jacobi rose to national prominence in the 1870s and went on to practice medicine teach and conduct research for over three decades She campaigned for co education professional opportunities labor reform and suffrage the most important women's rights issues of her day Downplaying gender differences she used the laboratory to prove that women were biologically capable of working learning and voting Science she believed held the key to promoting and producing gender equality Carla Bittel's biography of Jacobi offers a piercing view of the role of science in nineteenth century women's rights movements and provides historical perspective on continuing debates about gender and science today

Adirondack Life, 2000      The Statesman and the Socialite: Carl Schurz and Fanny Chapman Peter Lubrecht, 2023-01-30 Carl Schurz was a larger than life public figure whose exploits real and concocted appeared in newspapers nationwide during the nineteenth century His letters to Fanny

Chapman his secret love leave a picture of an age of turmoil corruption social graces and artistic explosion It took a renaissance man like Carl Schurz to travel among the greats in the literary artistic and political arenas with grace and judgement The tragedy of his life if there was one is that he is nearly forgotten in the modern world in the face of revisionist history He was a fighter for human rights including all races and creeds and a pioneer muckraker in a corrupt city of a Gilded Age Lost are his educational contributions his unpopular and prophetic political stance for Civil Service reform and his fight against a trend toward national imperialism The Franz Boas Papers, Volume 1 Franz Boas, 2015-08-01 The introductory volume to the Franz Boas Papers Documentary Edition which examines Boas stature as public intellectual in three crucial dimensions theory ethnography and activism In Defense of Anthropology Herbert S. Lewis, 2014 This book argues that the history and character of modern anthropology has been egregiously distorted to the detriment of this intellectual pursuit and academic discipline The critique of anthropology is a product of the momentous and tormented events of the 1960s when students and some of their elders cried Trust no one over thirty The Marxist postmodern and postcolonial waves that followed took aim at anthropology and the result has been a serious loss of confidence both the reputation and the practice of anthropology has suffered greatly The time has come to move past this damaging discourse Herbert S Lewis chronicles these developments and subjects the critique to a long overdue interrogation based on wide ranging knowledge of the field and its history as well as the application of common sense The book questions discourses about anthropology and colonialism anthropologists and history the problem of exoticizing the Other anthropologists and the Cold War and more Written by a master of the profession In Defense of Anthropology will require consideration by all anthropologists historians sociologists of science and cultural theorists Inuit Studies ,2000 American Book Publishing Record R.R.
