Amalies Story:

Amalie's Story Julie McDonald,1970 Amalie Christine Jencken 1785 to 1878 - From Estonia to Ireland to Australia and Inbetween Victoria Joan Moessner,2017-01-12 Amalie Christine was born in Estonia in 1785 Her mother died in 1799 In 1800 she married Baron Gustav Andreas von Tiesenhausen 1778 1854 a member of one of the wealthiest families in Estonia After 18 years of marriage and several children she ran away with her personal physician Dr Ferdinand Jencken who was also married They went by way of Germany and Denmark where their son Eduard Edward was born to the German migr colony in London Dr Jencken opened a practice Over the course of her life time she lived in London Mainz St Petersburg the Isle of Guernsey Londonderry and Dublin near where she and Ferdinand are buried In 1848 her son Eduard went to Australia with his wife Ellen seeking a livelihood At age 84 after a severe illness she wrote her Memoirs and sent them to Edward From the time of his leaving England until her death she wrote Edward and his family Fortunately the memoirs and these letters have been preserved in Australia She is a woman who lived for and through her husband and children who knew life in Europe from serfdom in Estonia to the 1848 revolution in Germany to the Franco Prussian War and to intensifying russification in Estonia through the letters from her oldest son Hermann von Tiesenhausen She truly lived a remarkable life for a woman in nineteenth century Europe

Walking the Tightrope Vibha Bakshi Gokhale,1996 Feminist account of the chief writings of Therese Huber the important 19th c German author The German writer Therese Huber 1764 1829 lived at a time when women s activity outside the home was widely condemned but the need to support themselves and their families forced many female writers to turn towards writing as a means of earning their livelihood Her prolific career encompassing novels short prose narratives and translations from French into German besides the editing of a newspaper demonstrates her ability to express herself while conforming to the male literary establishment This study examines Huber s short prose narratives showing the influence of various factors on women s writing and the ways in which female writers incorporated dissent from the conventions into their works without jeopardising their professional and personal lives Huber s works are both moralising persuading her readers to become good housewives and mothers and dissenting constructing characters who refuse to abide by the norms The author s feminist analysis of her narratives brings out their subtext of protest showing how Huber negotiates for women s rights to self expression
