Knowing Our Place Judith Gill, Sue Howard, 2009 In Knowing Our Place over 400 young Australians respond to ideas about belonging identity and social and political power The book explores the complex mindsets of young people in their search for identity within the broader society While the fundamental aim of the book is to identify and describe aspects of children's thinking as they grapple with their developing sense of being in the world there are evident implications for the project of citizenship education Publisher

Australian Literary Studies, 2003

Studies in Applied Linguistics and Language Learning Ahmar Mahboob, Caroline Lipovsky, 2009 Studies in Applied Linguistics and Language Learning brings together new and original studies in the area of critical applied linguistics language policy and planning and language learning and teaching The book divided into three sections first offers critical views on various aspects of language in society ranging from the construction of national identity language and justice racial and identity issues in the ELT industry to language in business discourse It then reports on language policy in the school curriculum language learning in tertiary education and Aboriginal languages policy In the third section it addresses issues in language learning and teaching such as the role of parents in literacy learning multiple script literacy and language learning and maintenance strategies People Like Us, 2005 Explores the nature of the cultural divide and its political consequences Travelling from the inner cities to the suburbs and beyond it tells the stories of chance encounters and finds the ties that bind It celebrates the importance of friendship imagination and creativity in connecting with people unlike ourselves Reinventing the Curriculum Mark Priestley, Gert Biesta, 2013-06-20 Scotland s Curriculum for Excellence offers an example of a different approach to national curriculum development It combines what are claimed to be the best features of top down and bottom up approaches to curriculum development and provides an indication of the broad qualities that school education should promote rather than a detailed description of curriculum content Advocates of the approach argue that it provides central guidance for schools and maintains national standards whilst at the same time allowing schools and teachers the flexibility to take account of local needs when designing programmes of education Reinventing the Curriculum uses Scotland s Curriculum for Excellence as a rich case study analysing the strengths and weaknesses of this approach to curriculum design and development and exploring the implications for curriculum planning and development around the world Bibliographic Guide to Education, 2001 lists publications cataloged by Teachers College Columbia University supplemented by The Research Libraries of The New York Public Library Human Rights and Citizenship Education Nektaria Palaiologou, Michalinos Zembylas, 2018-11-21 This volume examines different conceptualizations of human rights citizenship and interculturalism as well as their inter relationships in different national contexts This intersection in its various combinations is explored theoretically pedagogically and practically with the studies investigating whether certain human rights demands reveal patterns that are incompatible with citizenship and multiculturalist claims Contributions also explore the theoretical and practical bases on which human rights citizenship and intercultural education should be grounded as well as how human rights citizenship and intercultural education can join forces to make policy practice and research stronger and more robust The issues explored in this volume continue to feature on policy agendas at local national and international levels at a time when considerable changes are taking place within and across societies Particularly in Europe the current refugee and migration crisis complicates this situation further creating new complex challenges for countries and regions including how to respond productively and justly to the migration of peoples how to complement existing legal frameworks and modes of governance to face threats to social justice security and social cohesion of political and civil societies and how to develop new rights that increase participation in social and political life especially in groups that are vulnerable and marginalized As shown here however these challenges provide unique opportunities to re imagine the transformative potential of the intersection among intercultural human rights and citizenship education in different situations and contexts Civil Service Systems in Anglo-American Countries John Halligan, 2004-01-01 Civil Service Systems in Anglo American Countries presents a comprehensive overview of the important issues in modern bureaucracies combined with a comparative analysis of the civil service systems administrative traditions of five Anglo American nations

A Manifesto for the Just City Roberto Rocco, Caroline Newton, Luz Maria Vergara d'Alençon, Anja van der Watt, 2021-03-29 This book addresses the need to re imagine and re conceptualise the Just City in light of recent systemic shocks climate change the pandemic a generalised erosion of democratic standards and more It contains texts by a number of guests and 43 manifestos written by students from 25 universities from all over the world A Manifesto for the Just City comes in the wake of the realisation that socio spatial justice is a crucial dimension for sustainability transitions Growing inequality and the erosion of the public sphere undermine the social and political structures required to fight climate change pandemics and other systemic shocks With this book we have sought to encourage students to formulate their own visions for the Just City and for a just transition This book is result of an Urban Thinkers Campus organised between 9 and 30 November 2020 The Urban Thinkers Campus UTC model is an initiative of UN Habitat s World Urban Campaign conceived in 2014 as an open space for critical exchange between stakeholders and partners It aims to promote debate and action on sustainable and inclusive urbanization upholding the principles and guidelines contained in the New Urban Agenda launched at Habitat III in 2016 in Quito Ecuador

The Routledge Handbook of Global Sustainability Education and Thinking for the 21st Century Michele John, 2025-02-20 This Handbook emerges as a pivotal resource in underscoring the important role of sustainability education in catalysing a global shift toward sustainable development It articulates the need for a profound transformation within institutional leadership and educational frameworks to support the critical global sustainability transition This Handbook explores sustainability thinking as a critical paradigm shift in confronting the multifaceted challenges of sustainable development It presents an urgent case for a systemic overhaul in our approach to education in the 21st century advocating for multidisciplinary education and holistic systems thinking in order to more successfully navigate the complexities of sustainable development The text discusses the foundational elements of modern sustainability thought and management including the significance of values ethics governance and the pressing issues of environmental degradation and climate change It offers an extensive trans disciplinary overview of sustainability discourse spanning a broad array of perspectives on sustainability management and education It provides a comprehensive introduction to the language of sustainability and a detailed examination of sustainability issues highlighting their implications for education training and management development It addresses urgent global issues such as decarbonisation resource scarcity population dynamics pollution and land degradation emphasising the crucial role of educational initiatives in helping to mitigate these challenges This seminal work has been developed for a diverse audience including academics policymakers students and educators serving as a valuable tool for those wanting to comprehend complex global sustainability challenges and the paramount importance of education in supporting global sustainability in the 21st century The Oxford Handbook of Higher Education in the Asia-Pacific Region Devesh Kapur,Lily Kong,Florence Lo,David M. Malone,2023-01-11 Since the turn of the millennium it has become clear that the Asia Pacific Region is economically the fastest growing continent in the world and is likely to remain so for some time despite the setbacks of the COVID 19 pandemic Asia Pacific s share of the world s Gross Domestic Product GDP doubled from 15 per cent to 30 per cent between 1970 and 2017 and is projected to account for half of global GDP by 2050 With South East and South Asia also growing rapidly with over half the world s population and three of the world s five largest economies Asia is soon poised to home half of the world s middle class a class that is both the driver and the product of higher education The quality of a country s system of higher education may be seen both as a gauge of its current level of national development as well as of its future economic prospects It is therefore natural that the putative Asian Century should generate interest in the region s higher education systems which on the one hand share common characteristics a fixation with credentials and engineering high technology especially among male students and business degrees while at the same time are also highly differentiated not only across countries but also within As such a better understanding of higher education achievements failings potential and structural limitations in the Asia Pacific Region is imperative This handbook presents a number of significant country case studies and documents cross cutting trends relating to among other things the trilemma faced by governments juggling competing claims of access accessible cost and quality the balance between teaching and research the links between labour markets demand and higher education supply preferred fields of study and their consequences the rise of the research university in Asia the lure of institutions of international reputation within the region new education technologies and their effects and trends in government policy within the wider region and sub regions Mobile Learning Communities

Patrick Alan Danaher,Beverley Moriarty,Geoff Danaher,2009-06-01 Mobile Learning Communities explores the diverse ways in which traveling groups experience learning on the run This book provides empirical evidence that draws on the authors 17 years of continuing research with international occupational Travelers It engages with themes such as workplace learning globalization multiliteracies and emerging technologies which impinge on the ways mobile groups make sense of themselves as learning communities International in focus this book deals with an issue of increasing global significance and shows the complexities of the lives and learning experiences of such mobile cultures and their strategies for earning learning and living thus challenging simplistic and stereotypical images of traveling groups still found in mainstream media and popular culture Mobile Learning Communities brings together for the first time mobilities and learning communities into a single and comprehensive focus It provides a detailed analysis of how mobile groups position themselves and how they are positioned by others This text will appeal to scholars in the field of distance education and educational technology and to researchers in education cultural studies and sociology It will also be of interest to educational instructors policy makers and administrators as well as teacher educators and pre service teachers It paints a vivid picture of the experience of mobility through the words of the mobile learners themselves but also critiques existing notions of learning and suggests ways of creating new educational futures for all learners and educators
