Free and Open Source Software (FOSS) and other Alternative License Models Axel Metzger, 2015-11-30 This book discusses the main legal questions raised by free and open source software FOSS licenses and other alternative license models such as Creative Commons The legal questions raised by FOSS and other alternative licenses have been the subject of an intense international debate among legal scholars and practising lawyers in the last years Courts in different jurisdictions have confirmed that the core features of FOSS licenses are compliant with the respective applicable laws and thus enforceable in the respective jurisdictions What is still missing so far is an in depth comparative analysis of the legal issues raised by FOSS Creative Commons and other alternative license on a worldwide scale This book presents a general report on FOSS licenses and alternative license models to establish common ground and enable comparison between jurisdictions The general report is followed by 24 national reports covering the world's most important IT markets General and national reports use the same structure to facilitate the comparison The book shows that despite the differences in their origins all FOSS projects use detailed licenses for the organisation of their communities It also shows the differences in the proofing of these licenses by courts in some jurisdictions and the tailor made provisions established by some legislators to solve the legal issues raised by the license model

Non-Conventional Copyright Enrico Bonadio, Nicola Lucchi, 2018-10-26 Copyright law has always somehow managed to adapt to new technological and social developments as well as to new artistic and creative practices However every time such a development occurs the legitimate question arises if the system is adaptable or if the breakthrough is so gigantic that a new system needs to be elaborated In any case new scholarly reflections are needed in regular intervals and that is exactly the purpose of this fascinating edited collection by Enrico Bonadio and Nicola Lucchi on non conventional copyright exploring from various angles the copyright issues of all sorts of creations ranging from unconventional art forms new music and atypical cultural practices to new advances in technology not forgetting to investigate the delicate issues around copyright on illegal and immoral works Christophe Geiger University of Strasbourg France Copyright law constantly evolves to keep up with societal changes and technological advances Contemporary forms of creativity can threaten the comfortable conceptions of copyright law as creative people continually find new ways of expressing themselves In this context Non Conventional Copyright identifies possible new spaces for copyright protection With current copyright law in mind the contributions explore if the law should be more flexible as to whether new or unconventional forms of expression including graffiti tattoos land art conceptual art and bio art engineered DNA sport movements jokes magic tricks DJ sets perfume making typefaces or illegal and immoral works deserve protection Vitally the contributors suggest that it may be time to challenge some of the basic tenets of copyright laws by embracing more flexible ways to identify protectable works and interpret the current requirements for protection Additionally some contributors cast doubts about whether copyright is the right instrument to address and regulate these forms of expression Contemporary in topic this thought provoking book will be essential reading for intellectual property law scholars practitioners and policymakers Creative people and those involved in the creative industries will also find this book an engaging read Contributors include E Bonadio S Burke C Cronin T Dagne T W Dornis F J Dougherty T M Gates M P George E Haber S Karapapa Y M King T Iverson N Lucchi G Mazziotti J McCutcheon L McDonagh M Maggiore P Mezei M Mimler A G Scaria C Y N Smith X Tang Elements of Indigenous Style, 2nd Ed. Edward S. Curtis Above the Medicine Line Rodger Touchie, 2010 For almost three decades Edward Curtis photographed the First Peoples of the North American West and studied their cultures As part of his fieldwork he cruised the Pacific Northwest coast and ventured into the lands of the Blackfoot Confederacy both north and south of the Medicine Line in Montana and Alberta Alarmed that the traditional Aboriginal ways of life seemed in danger of disappearing forever Curtis made an incredible effort to capture the daily routines character and dignity of First Peoples through photography and audio recordings Against seemingly insurmountable odds and at substantial personal and financial sacrifice he completed the 20 volume masterpiece The North American Indian deemed the most gigantic undertaking in the making of books since the King James edition of the Bible by the New York Herald With more than 150 photographs Edward S. Curtis Above the Medicine Line is both a compelling narrative that sheds new light on the Curtis mystique and a fascinating overview of many of the First Peoples he studied a century ago

Wells Cathedral Warwick Rodwell, 2014-07-15 Archaeological excavation architectural survey and historical research carried out between 1978 and 1993 have elucidated the origins and early development of Wells Cathedral Study concentrated primarily on the cloister and its adjuncts and excavation took place in the adjoining Camery garden Here lay an ancient cemetery and the foundations of a succession of demolished buildings ranging in date from Roman to post medieval Collectively these enshrined a continuous development of religious and sepulchral activity probably from the fourth to the mid sixteenth century secular uses followed Adjacent to the Camery are the springs from which Wells takes its name The first mention of the holy well and minster church of St Andrew is in A D 766 Excavation yielded a complex stratigraphic sequence demonstrating how an anonymous late Roman mausoleum burial probably provided the raison d'être for the development of a Middle Saxon cemetery and chapel and hence for the origins of Wells Cathedral itself in 909 The establishment of this sequence is uniquely important in the history of English cathedral archaeology and sets Wells alongside developments in continental Europe

Storytelling in Management Practice

Stefanie Reissner, Victoria Pagan, 2013-06-03 Since the early 2000s storytelling as a means of managerial communication has been increasingly advocated with a focus on the management practices of leadership change and organizational culture Most research on storytelling in management practice derives from practitioner experience but little is known about the specific dynamics behind storytelling as a tool for managerial communication This book derives from one of the first research studies into storytelling in management practice which sought to evaluate the assumed but not necessarily proven effectiveness of storytelling as a management tool Building on existing theories of narrative and storytelling in organizations the book explores how managers use storytelling in their daily practice revealing that it can be employed both purposively like a tool and perceptively spontaneously and intuitively The book explains that storytelling has different functions in management practice at different levels of the organization such as Creating direction for the organization Translating strategic messages into operational ones and supporting the professional development of staff Shaping the organization's social fabric through the sharing of personal stories Aided by a wealth of interviews and case studies Storytelling in Management Practice reveals an analysis of the dynamic relationship between story storyteller audience and organizational context As such it will be useful for students and researchers working across a variety of sub disciplines including leadership organizational behaviour and business communication

"Art, Technology and Nature " Camilla Skovbjerg Paldam, 2017-07-05 Since 1900 the connections between art and technology with nature have become increasingly inextricable Through a selection of innovative readings by international scholars this book presents the first investigation of the intersections between art technology and nature in post medieval times Transdisciplinary in approach this volume s 14 essays explore art technology and nature s shifting constellations that are discernible at the micro level and as part of a larger chronological pattern Included are subjects ranging from Renaissance wooden dolls science in the Italian art academies and artisanal epistemologies in the followers of Leonardo to Surrealism and its precursors in Mannerist grotesques and the Wunderkammer eighteenth century plant printing the climate and its artistic presentations from Constable to Olafur Eliasson and the hermeneutics of bioart In their comprehensive introduction editors Camilla Skovbjerg Paldam and Jacob Wamberg trace the Kantian heritage of radically separating art and technology and inserting both at a distance to nature suggesting this was a transient chapter in history Thus they argue the present renegotiation between art technology and nature is reminiscent of the ancient and medieval periods in which art and technology were categorized as aspects of a common area of cultivated products and their methods the Latin ars the Greek techne an area moreover supposed to imitate the creative forces of nature
