North American Muslim Women Artists Talk Back Kenza Oumlil, 2022-07-21 This book focuses on the ways in which North American Muslim women artists talk back to dominant discourses about Muslim identity and work to counter mainstream stereotypes and representations It examines the possibilities of constructing discourses of resistance to domination Against a backdrop of dominant media representations of oppressed and passive Muslim women the media interventions of the exceptional women artists whose voices are showcased in this book demonstrate that Muslim women are diverse and autonomous agents who have historically and continue contemporarily to fight against all forms of injustice including those that seek to circumscribe their realities and experiences To explore expressions and articulations of alternative discourses this book analyzes the media texts of exceptional women artists the stand up comedy of Palestinian American Maysoon Zayid the cinematic interventions of Iranian American Shirin Neshat and the television comedy of Pakistani Canadian Zarqa Nawaz Using a methodology consisting of a textual analysis grounded in the theoretical framework of postcolonial theory and informed by gender studies and alternative media research the analysis is supplemented with semi structured interviews with the artists This book is suitable for scholars and students in Gender Studies Media Studies Cultural Studies Sociology and Politics

What Do Artists Know? James Elkins, 2015-06-26 Each of the five volumes in the Stone Art Theory Institutes series and the seminars on which they are based brings together a range of scholars who are not always directly familiar with one another's work The outcome of each of these convergences is an extensive and unpredictable conversation on knotty and provocative issues about art This third volume in the series What Do Artists Know is about the education of artists The MFA degree is notoriously poorly conceptualized and now it is giving way to the PhD in art practice Meanwhile conversations on freshman courses in studio art continue to be bogged down by conflicting agendas This book is about the theories that underwrite art education at all levels the pertinent history of art education and the most promising current conceptualizations The contributors are Areti Adamopoulou Glenn Adamson Rina Arya Louisa Avgita Jan Baetens Su Baker Ciar n Benson Andrew Blackley Jeroen Boomgaard Brad Buckley William Conger John Conomos Christopher Csikszentmih lyi Anders Dahlgren Jonathan Dronsfield Marta Edling Laurie Fendrich Michael Fotiadis Christopher Frayling Miguel Gonz lez Virgen R E H Gordon Charles Green Vanalyne Green Barbara Jaffee Tom McGuirk William Marotti Robert Nelson H kan Nilsson Saul Ostrow Daniel Palmer Peter Plagens Stephan Schmidt Wulffen Howard Singerman Henk Slager George Smith Martin S berg Ann Sobiech Munson Roy Sorensen Bert Taken Hilde Van Gelder Frank Vigneron Janneke Wesseling Frances Whitehead Gary Willis and Yeung Yang

Advice to Young Artists in a Postmodern Era William V. Dunning, 2000-02-01 Is art a matter of inspiration or of learning Advice to Young Artists in a Postmodern Era offers practical advice to the young artist about making the successful Dunning writes that in his years of teaching he has heard students ask why no classes are ever offered to teach them what ingredients are helpful to the success of an artist how to approach and deal with galleries and dealers what to do about setting up their own studio and how to light it and even how they should support themselves while they are attempting to do all this Drawing on thirty five years of experience as an artist and an art teacher and those of several successful colleagues the author follows the model of Rilke s Letters to a Young Poet and Hiram William s Notes for a Young Painter to compose this practical guide book Advice to Young Artists is the only book of its kind geared to aspiring artists African Art, Interviews, Narratives Joanna Grabski,Carol Magee,2013-05-28

Joanna Grabski and Carol Magee bring together a compelling collection that shows how interviews can be used to generate new meaning and how connecting with artists and their work can transform artistic production into innovative critical insights and knowledge The contributors to this volume include artists museum curators art historians and anthropologists who address artistic production in a variety of locations and media to question previous uses of interview and provoke alternative understandings of art Alternative Art, New York, 1965-1985 Julie Ault,Social Text Collective,Drawing Center (New York, N.Y.),2002

Experimental Practices in Interdisciplinary Art ,2024-10-21 Experimental Practices in Interdisciplinary Art presents the work of contemporary artists who are committed to experimenting in the marginal areas where artmaking practice based research and scholarship intersect Some work in laboratory settings some in studios and some in wild landscapes or abandoned buildings But all are committed to interrogating the way that art is created and positioned in a culture that continues to marginalize artists working across disciplinary boundaries Their projects range from inquiries into the way surveillance technologies are used to reinforce power structures to collaboratories that help us to re envision our relationship with the natural world and with each other In reflecting on their wide ranging explorations and unusual methods these unique artists provide fruitful insights for bringing creativity to bear on issues of public import Dictionary of Women Artists: Introductory surveys ; Artists, A-I Delia Gaze,1997 First Published in 1997 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Art or Scribbles? In the Eye of the Beholder: The Evolutionary Emergence of Visual Communication Iain Davidson,2025-08-07 The book is about how art arose and how it became what we call art today How did art emerge from the relationships between people and the things they produce and the ideas of producers How do people manipulate those relationships in their own society How do outsiders work out the ways in which those relationships were used to make art What is art and why are all people engaged with it in one way or another From its very beginning and everywhere art has always been embedded in its cultural context the contexts of the people who made and see it and that context has often been ritual The history of art confused social and institutional changes of view because western critics or artists sought to define the boundaries of art so tightly that ritual purposeful or utilitarian works were excluded from it In their definition art only existed if the rituals of the original producers were stripped from the works or if the objects were appropriated away from the situation in which they were produced The objects stripped from their context could then only be valued for their aesthetics Art consists of relationships between people things and ideas in quite specific ways Those relationships are discussed at length in this book The book is aimed at artists art historians and archaeologists but also at the general public interested in art It is intended both for people whose interest in art comes from knowledge of the art of all continents and for those who have no knowledge
