As It Happened A Memoir:

An Autobiography, 1834-1858, and a Memoir by His Wife, 1858-1894 Philip Gilbert Hamerton, 1896 Find Your Story, Write Your Memoir Lynn C. Miller, Lisa Lenard-Cook, 2013-05-31 Every person has a story to tell but few beginners know how to uncover their story's narrative potential. And despite a growing interest among students and creative writers, few guides to the genre of memoirs and creative nonfiction highlight compelling storytelling strategies. Addressing this gap, the authors provide a guide to memoir writing that shows how an aspiring writer can use storytelling tools and tactics borrowed from fiction to weave personal experiences into the shape of a story. The Rise of the Memoir Alex Zwerdling, 2017 The Rise of the Memoir traces the growth and extraordinarily wide appeal of the memoir. Its territory is private rather than public life: shame, guilt, and embarrassment, not the achievements celebrated in the public record. What accounts for the sharp need writers like Rousseau, Woolf, Orwell, Nabokov, Primo Levi, and Maxine Hong Kingston felt to write and to publish such works when they might more easily have chosen to remain silent? Alex Zwerdling explores why each of these writers felt compelled to write them as that story can be reconstructed from personal materials available in archival collections: what internal conflicts they encountered while trying, and how each of them resisted the private and public pressures to stop themselves rather than pursuing this confessional route against their own doubts without a reasonable expectation that such works would be welcome in print and eventually find an empathetic audience. Reconstructing this process in which a dubious project eventually becomes a compelling product, a memoir that will last illuminates both what was at stake and why this serially invented open form has reshaped the expectations of readers who welcomed a vital alternative to the official story.

Write That Memoir Right Now Kim Brittingham, 2013-01-01 If you want to put your life story down in words, where do you start? Exactly what story are you hoping to tell? How are you going to fill hundreds of pages? How do you plan it out? Memoirist blogger and writing teacher Kim Brittingham shares her insight into getting started with your writing and crafting your memoir. Starting with the basic questions every writer should ask themselves, such as why do you want to write a memoir, what story do you want to tell, what form should your story take, who is the audience, and most importantly, why does anyone care? Kim shares her experience and her wisdom reviewing key aspects of the writing process, including characterization, plotting, theme, focus, point of view, editing, and revising. And she adds extra information on the business of getting published and ways to get your story read. The Works of Daniel De Foe, with a Memoir of His Life and Writings. By William Hazlitt. [With a Bibliography.] Daniel Defoe, 1840 Celebrity Memoir Hannah Yelin, 2020-11-10 In this timely analysis of the economics of access that surround contemporary female celebrity, Hannah Yelin reveals a culture that requires women to be constantly baring all in physical exposure and psychic confessions. As famous women tell their story in their own words, constellations of ghostwriters, intermediaries, and market forces undermine assertions of authorship and access to the real woman behind the public image. Yelin's account of the presence of the ghostwriter offers a fascinating microcosm of the wider celebrity machine with insights pertinent to all celebrity mediation Yelin surveys life writing genres including fiction photo diary comic strip and art anthology as well as more traditional autobiographical forms covering a wide range of media platforms and celebrity contexts including reality TV YouTube pop stardom and porn glamour modelling Despite this diversity Yelin reveals seemingly inescapable conventions as well as spaces for resistance Celebrity Memoir from Ghostwriting to Gender Politics offers new insights on the curtailment of women s voices with ramifications for literary studies of memoir feminist media studies celebrity studies and work on the politics of production in the creative industries
