As Nature Leads:

As Nature Leads Joel Augustus Rogers, 1987 Following Nature's Lead M. D. Usher, 2025-05-13 What value can the study of ancient literature history and philosophy contribute to the modern world's ecological and economic challenges Are older ways of thinking and living worth our time to consider or to reconsider Are they viable modes of engagement with the world today Ancient peoples despite all their pillaging and plundering had an advantage over us they were pre industrialized pre digital pre capitalist pre reductionist pre postmodern pre posthuman Innocent of our technology enhanced disconnectedness from Nature the Greeks and Romans retained an earthiness and proximity to the sources of their survival that many people living in developed countries no longer possess today Classicist farmer and sustainability thinker and advocate M D Usher argues that we have much to re learn from the ancients and not only from their mistakes All schools of ancient philosophy based their arguments on the premise that human behavior should align with states of affairs found in Nature a principle epitomized by Latin authors in the phrase secundum naturam following Nature's lead In choosing how to live work and interact on an imperiled planet it is imperative we do the same Since our scientific understanding of Nature is much better now than it was in antiquity our ethical responses Usher argues should be adjusted accordingly Ancient ways of being in the world just might provide the counterbalance we need to find a productive alternative to unlimited technological economic and scientific growth Drawing on the usual roster of classical writers as well as various other philosophers poets and scientists from Henry David Thoreau and Albert Schweitzer to Walt Whitman and William Blake to more contemporary thinkers like Bruno Latour David Graeber and Vaclav Smil this book shows how living a life that follows Nature's lead is possible in the twenty first century The Nature and Extent of Lead Poisoning in Children in the United States

Sustainable Action in Economy and Society Malte Faber, Reiner Manstetten, Marco Rudolf, Marc Frick, Mi-Yong Becker, 2024-09-19 Climate change species extinction energy and raw material shortages are global challenges that are directly linked to our economic activity They affect our very existence and jeopardize our ability to lead a good life today and in the future both as a society and as individuals The range of questions for which we need answers seems limitless and finding the right path for global change increasingly utopian How do we maintain an overview in the face of highly complex interrelationships and interactions How can we distinguish the essential from the non essential What fundamental relationships in nature do we need to take into account What kind of economy is appropriate What is just And under what conditions are people willing to change This book offers orientation It deals with concepts from the natural sciences economics and philosophy including time thermodynamics scarcity responsibility and justice which enable an understanding of the upcoming transformation to sustainability from different perspectives Ideally they serve as guidelines for effective decisions and show how change is possible despite immense challenges The book is aimed at anyone who wants to contribute to the transformation towards sustainability whether in politics business administration or civil society

Life Now Jansher, 2024-07-30 The capability of today's man has become so narrow that it is painful to imagine Today's human life is reduced to working eating sleeping and reproducing First they placed today's man in a certain place then gave him the wrong values National values patriotism ideological values They caught him at a certain point They closed all avenues for him They took away his chances Today's man knows nothing about life He sees nothing of creation Today's man never knows how far the beauty of nature and divine creation is spread He knows nothing Because his whole life is spent fighting over things that are all lies and illusions his life is wasted fighting and struggling with his comrades He never gets anywhere That is why he is in agony Then few people take advantage of the facilities and the nations beat each other over the head they are busy enjoying life and creation The sole mission of humanity today is to provide land for certain groups to live on Human slavery today has become so brilliant that it has almost assumed the color of sanctity and godliness In the name of knowledge and education he learns the art of slavery in the first half of his life and in the second half he does his slavery They call it alive
