Alone On The Great Wall:

The Great Wall William Lindesay, 2007 It is arguably the greatest feat of civil engineering in history and indisputably earth's largest single cultural relic begun during the Qin Dynasty around 208 BC and completed nearly 1 800 years later during the Ming Dynasty the Great Wall of China spans more than 4 000 miles At the dawn of the Beijing Olympics the eyes of all the world are upon it Two men who navigated every inch of the Wall have collaborated on a lavishly illustrated tribute to this amazing structure Michael Yamashita an award winning National Geographic photographer spent a year shooting the Wall its environs and the people who live in its shadow for the magazine One hundred and sixty of his magnificent photos grace this volume which features text by William Lindesay who not only conducts tours of the Wall and spearheads the movement to preserve it but has actually run its entire length Broken into three sections The Great Wall provides an overview that debunks myths and dishes up rare facts and figures a comprehensive history that proceeds dynasty by dynasty through its construction and an account of Lindesay's personal experiences of the Wall Alone on the Great Wall William Lindesay, 1989 Alone on the Great Wall William Lindesay, 1991 First published by Hodder Stoughton in Great Britain 1989 T p verso Saying the Necessary Edward Harkness, 2018-03-21 Edward Harkness grew up in Seattle's north end and has with a few exceptions including a year's teaching stint in the Peoples Republic of China never gotten very far away from home He holds degrees from the University of Washington and the University of Montana at the latter he earned an MFA and studied with poets Richard Hugo and Madeline DeFrees His poems have appeared in many periodicals including American Review Poetry Northwest Seattle Review Fine Madness Portland Review Northwest Review and CutBank He is also author of several chapbooks including Fiddle Wrapped in a Gunnybag Dooryard Press 1984 and Watercolor Painting of a Bamboo Rake Brooding Heron Press 1994 Saying the Necessary is his first full length collection He teaches writing at Shoreline Community College and lives with his family in Shoreline Washington which is an easy bike ride from his old north Seattle neighborhood Fly Solo Teresa Rodriguez Williamson, 2007-02-06 There's a whole big world out there Here's how every woman can get out and conquer it solo This is an inspiring guide for women who want to fly solo yet stay safe sane and solvent during their travels With candid advice and insider's secrets about some of the most exciting places on earth readers will find A quiz to help determine what sorts of trips best suit one's personality interests and goals The essential female friendly spots every woman should visit Why each destination is perfect for solo travelers important foreign phrases what to pack what shoes to wear special events historical facts where to meet the global glitterati and a list of the top ten things women must do while visiting Where to eat meet party people watch sunbathe soul search shop spa frolic photograph and more Whether surfing in Hawaii strolling the cobblestone streets of St Petersburg drinking in Dublin or swimming with dolphins in the Caribbean women can take on the world and create lasting memories with the best travel companion ever themselves Chinese Walls in Time and Space Roger Des Forges, Minglu Gao, Chiao-mei Liu, Haun Saussy, 2010-03-31 Are walls remnants of ancient and medieval societies destined to become anachronistic in modern and post modern times Or will they persist shaping as well as adjusting to new conditions Do walls necessarily constrain and even isolate those who live within them or can they act as a medium of support and communication for people on both sides This volume addresses these questions Authors from six disciplines history art law medicine communication and film provide multiple perspectives on various kinds of walls material ones around and within states cities and towns as well as virtual ones regulating the administration of justice the flow of pathogens and the transmission of information

The Great Wall, Ancient China and Homeland 中国,2021-02-01 With a total length of 21196 18 kilometers including 6 259 6 kilometers of artificial walls the Great Wall represents the wisdom of the Chinese nation developed since ancient times It has been a mute witness of Chinese history stretching back more than two millennia It is the largest ancient defense project constructed over the longest span of time Since there was a historical record of the two Chinese characters Chang Cheng Great Wall in the Spring and Autumn Period 770 476 BCE the work of building and maintaining it has been a continuous process for well over two thousand years encompassing vast areas of north and central China The Great Wall bears the precious historical memory and national spirit of the Chinese nation With the passage of time many sections along its 5 000 km length have been destroyed although the names remain Sections of the Great Wall extant today known almost to all include Badaling Shanhaiguan and Jiayuguan We hope this book can bring readers different experiences of an Earth based structure visible The areas bisected by it include deserts and grass lands rivers and the remains of enemy towers May the words recorded here make it possible for readers to gain a better understanding of this world historical heritage site

Along the Great Wall Raphael Pumpelly,1918 To Broaden the Way Galia Patt-Shamir,2006-01-01 To Broaden the Way suggests that the texts of both the Jewish and Confucian tradition talk in riddles of a special kind riddles which are introduced and answered by religious forms of life Using a dialogue of riddles Galia Patt Shamir presents a comparative perspective of Confucianism and Judaism regarding the relatedness between contradictory expressions in texts and living conflicts The Confucian riddle is characterized here as a mystery to be deciphered by self reflection under the assumptions of a harmonious community and a unity of being The Jewish riddle is characterized as a test to be responded to under the assumption of a disharmonious community and a necessary rapture in reality This book expands the dialogue between traditions and offers both a method and an implication of the question what is religion about

Dialogue Lu Xiao 卢小, 2010-06-01 What forces continue to oppress and restrain women artists in contemporary China Some powerful answers are provided in this fictional memoir of Xiao Lu who played an important role in the avant garde cultural scene during the tumultuous early months of 1989 The acclaimed China AvantGarde exhibition organized by Gao Minglu at the National Art Museum in Beijing was shut down after about three hours from its opening Feb 5 1989 when Xiao Lu shot live bullets into her mock up of two telephone booths turning an edgy installation work into an over the edge performance piece and an icon of the modern Chinese art movement Many questions were left unanswered from where she got the gun to what she meant by all this As it turns out the man and the woman pictured in these two phone booths were specific people and she was one of them the daughter of the director of a provincial art academy Her father helped her get into the Central Academy in Beijing where she was abused in various ways In the 1989 exhibition symbolically she shot her nemesis then went outside to a public telephone called him and told him what she had done These events are naturally at the center of her memoir but in describing the events and their aftermath she offers remarkably candid views on the difficulties of Chinese history with the intellectual curiosity of a perceptive outsider this author wrestles with questions that have the potential to overturn the conventional wisdom about how China is perceived My underlying belief is that the most mundane observations are vulnerable to the kind of drilling down that might yield some surprising counter intuitive conclusions about a country that so many think they know

China's New Voices Nimrod Baranovitch,2003-08-01 This is the most comprehensive study to date of the rich popular music scene in contemporary China Focusing on the city of Beijing and drawing upon extensive fieldwork China s New Voices shows that during the 1980s and 1990s rock and pop music combined with new technologies and the new market economy have enabled marginalized groups to achieve a new public voice that is often independent of the state Nimrod Baranovitch analyzes this phenomenon by focusing on three important contexts ethnicity gender and state politics His study is a fascinating look at the relationship between popular music in China and broad cultural social and political changes that are taking place there Baranovitch s sources include formal interviews and conversations conducted with some of China s most prominent rock and pop musicians and music critics with ordinary people who provide lay perspectives on popular music culture and with others involved in the music industry and in academia Baranovitch also observed recording sessions concerts and dance parties and draws upon TV broadcasts and many publications in Chinese about popular music keywords Ethnicity
