Alphabets Old and New Lewis F. Day, 2014-03 This Is A New Release Of The Original 1910 Edition Library Catalog of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.). Library, 1960 Illuminating Letters Paul C. Gutjahr, Megan L. Benton, 2001 What do we read when we read a text The author's words of course but is that all The prevailing publishing ethic has insisted that typography the selection and arrangement of type and other visual elements on a page should be an invisible silent and deferential servant to the text it conveys This book contests that conventional point of view Looking at texts ranging from the King James Bible to contemporary comic strips the contributors to Illuminating Letters examine the seldom considered but richly revealing relationships between a text's typography and its literary interpretation The essays assume no previous typographic knowledge or expertise instead they invite readers primarily concerned with literary and cultural meanings to turn a more curious eye to the visual and physical forms of a specific text or genre As the contributors show closer inspection of those forms can yield fresh insights into the significance of a text's material presentation leading readers to appreciate better how presentation shapes understandings of the text's meanings and values The case studies included in the volume amplify its two overarching themes one set explores the roles of printers and publishers in manipulating willingly or not the meaning and reception of texts through typographic choices the other group examines the efforts of authors to circumvent or subvert such mediation by directly controlling the typographic presentation of their texts Together these essays demonstrate that choices about type selection and arrangement do indeed help to orchestrate textual meaning In addition to the editors contributors include Sarah A Kelen Beth McCoy Steven R Price Leon Jackson and Gene Kannenberg Jr A Bibliography of Design in Britain, 1851-1970 Anthony J.
