Volunteer Tourism Mary Mostafanezhad, 2016-02-17 Crossing disciplinary and chronological boundaries Volunteer Tourism Popular Humanitarianism in Neoliberal Times is the first full length treatment of volunteer tourism from a longitudinal ethnographic perspective Volunteer tourism one of the fastest growing niche tourism markets in the world is a type of tourism in which tourists pay to participate in conservation humanitarian or development oriented projects Volunteer Tourism is a comprehensive and comparative study of the perspectives of Thai host community members NGO practitioners and international volunteer tourists The book thus shines an ethnographic lens onto the complexities and contradictions of the volunteer tourism experience in northern Thailand Drawing on cross disciplinary perspectives in geography and anthropology as well as development tourism and cultural studies Volunteer Tourism illustrates how a focus on sentimentality in the volunteer tourism encounter obscures the structural inequalities on which the experience is based Such a focus situates volunteer tourism within the commodification and sentimentalization of development and global justice agendas which hail the new moral consumer and reframe questions of structural inequality as questions of individual morality As a result albeit inadvertently the practice of volunteer tourism serves the continued expansion of the cultural logics and economic practices of neoliberalism

Health policies of BIMSTEC states: The scope for cross-learning Kurian, Oommen C. ,2017-11-22 Public health is identified by BIMSTEC member countries as one among its fourteen priority areas for cooperation Such collaborations however have been limited around traditional medicine This year s launch of the JIPMER BIMSTEC Telemedicine Network JBTN which combines public health communication and technology is bound to change the status quo In per capita terms three BIMSTEC members are wealthier than India while three are poorer Yet India s health improvements have been slower than even its poorer neighbours This brief argues that given the diversity within India the country can learn from the other BIMSTEC members in striving for improvements in its health system It makes a case for India to conduct and support comparative health system studies within BIMSTEC
