A Voyage to the North West Side of America Robert Galois, 2011-11-01 James Colnett a veteran of James Cook's second voyage to North America was an early participant in the maritime sea otter trade Between 1786 and 1789 his two vessel expedition traversed the Northwest Coast from Prince William Sound to Vancouver Island and wintered on the Hawaiian Islands Along the way he and his crew had some remarkable encounters with Native peoples of the Northwest Coast and the Hawaiian Islands they were the first Europeans to encounter the Tsimshian and the southern Heiltsuk peoples as well as the first to land on the southern Queen Charlotte Islands Colnett's journal of this expedition is published here for the first time Editor Robert Galois provides extensive annotations along with an introductory essay addressing the geopolitical context of the voyage and the intellectual background that shaped the writing of the journal Galois supplements Colnett's writings with extracts from a second journal also previously unpublished by Andrew Bracey Taylor third mate on one of the ships under Colnett's command Also included are illustrations from Colnett's journals and a variety of maps both contemporary and historical This fascinating and informative account offers a new understanding of the early European presence in the Northwest and of Native responses to these developments It will interest historians geographers and ethnographers of the Northwest Coast and beyond

Native North American Art Janet Catherine Berlo, Ruth Bliss Phillips, 2015 This lively introductory survey of indigenous North American arts from ancient times to the present explores both the shared themes and imagery found across the continent and the distinctive traditions of each region Focusing on the richness of artwork created in the US and Canada Native North American Art Second Edition discusses 3 000 years of architecture wood and rock carvings basketry dance masks clothing and more The expanded text discusses twentieth and twenty first century arts in all media including works by James Luna Kent Monkman Nadia Myre Jaune Quick to See Smith Will Wilson and many more Authors Berlo and Phillips incorporate new research and scholarship examining such issues as art and ethics gender representation and the colonial encounter By bringing into one conversation the seemingly separate realms of the sacred and the secular the political and the domestic and the ceremonial and the commercial Native North American Art shows how visual arts not only maintain the integrity of spiritual and social systems within Native North American societies but have long been part of a cross cultural experience as well

Encyclopedic summary of prehistory history cultures and political and social aspects of native peoples The Raven's Tail Cheryl Samuel, 1987-01-01 Over two hundred years ago when Europeans first visited the Northwest Coast of North America the weavers of the area were making robes of exquisite beauty to adorn the wealthiest of their noble class Patterned in bold black and white geometric designs streaked with scintillating dashes of yellow these robes predate the better known Chilkat dancing blankets from the same area Today only eleven of these robes exist three of them as fragments Another two are shown on Russian historical paintings by Mikhail Tikhanov The only other known robes are found on an archival photograph and on two sketches by Pavel Mikhailof To produce this book Cheryl Samuel travelled to Leningrad Copenhagen and London to examine the six robes in Europe She also studied the robes housed in museums in Canada and the United States In 1985 she reconstructed Chief Kotlean's robe using information she had gathered from her study of the actual robes and Tikhanov's paintings In the process she resurrected an old weaving style no longer used by the Native people on the northern coast Through her extensive and careful research Cheryl Samuel makes an important contribution to the knowledge of early Indian weaving Northwest Coast Indian Rattles: a Stylistic Analysis Barbara Elizabeth Iliff, 1984 Treasures from Native California Travis Hudson, Craig D Bates, 2016-07 This is the first English language study and catalog detailing ethnographic work and material collections of the indigenous populations done by early Russian travelers to California Historicizing Canadian Anthropology Julia Harrison, Regna Darnell, 2011-11-01 Historicizing Canadian Anthropology is the first significant examination of the historical development of anthropological study in this country It addresses key issues in the evolution of the discipline the shaping influence of Aboriginal anthropological encounters the challenge of compiling a history for the Canadian context and the place of international and institutional relations The contributors to this collection reflect on the definition and scope of the discipline and explore the degree to which a uniquely Canadian tradition affects anthropological theory practice and reflexivity Historicizing Canadian Anthropology is a watershed that will revitalize critical reflexivity within the field With contributions from a broad cross section of anthropologists from senior scholars to doctoral students this book is essential reading for practising Canadian anthropologists their students and others who seek to understand the historical contours of the field Captured Heritage Douglas Cole, 2011-11-01 The heyday of anthropological collecting on the Northwest Coast took place between 1875 and the Great Depression The scramble for skulls and skeletons poles canoes baskets feast bowls and masks went on until it seemed that almost everything not nailed down or hidden was gone The period of most intense collecting on the coast coincided with the growth of anthropological museums which reflected the realization that time was running out and that civilization was pushing the indigenous people to the wall destroying their material culture and even extinguishing the native stock itself Douglas Cole examines the process of collecting in the context of the development of museums and anthropology The main North American museums with Northwest Coast collections the Smithsonian Institution the American Museum of Natural History Chicago s Field Museum of Natural History the Royal British Columbia Museum and the Canadian Museum of Civilization in Ottawa were intense rivals in the race against time For the new edition of Captured Heritage Douglas Cole has written a preface in which he outlines developments since the book s first publication in 1985 Since that time for example the Kwagiulth Museum and Cultural Center on Quadra Island and the U Mista Museum and Cultural Center at Alert Bay have been successful in having some of their artifacts repatriated

The Museum of Other People Adam Kuper,2023-02-02 A TLS BEST BOOK OF 2023 A formidable work Nigel Barley author of The Innocent Anthropologist Should be required reading Richard Lambert Financial Times A magnificent moving survey Felipe Fern ndez Armesto TLS This is a history of the ways in which foreign and prehistoric peoples were represented in museums of anthropology with their displays of arts and artifacts their dioramas their special exhibitions and their arrays of skulls and skeletons Originally created as colonial enterprises what is the purpose of these places today What should they do with the items in their custodianship And how can they help us to understand and appreciate other cultures Informed by a lifetime of research and scholarship this subtle and original work tackles painful questions about race colonialism difference and cultural appropriation The result is a must read for anyone concerned with the coexistence of different modes of life

Eighteenth-Century Thing Theory in a Global Context Ileana Baird,Christina Ionescu,2016-04-29 Exploring Enlightenment attitudes toward things and their relation to human subjects this collection offers a geographically wide ranging perspective on what the eighteenth century looked like beyond British or British colonial borders To highlight trends fashions and cultural imports of truly global significance the contributors draw their case studies from Western Europe Russia Africa Latin America and Oceania This survey underscores the multifarious ways in which new theoretical approaches such as thing theory or material and visual culture studies revise our understanding of the people and objects that inhabit the phenomenological spaces of the eighteenth century Rather than focusing on a particular geographical area or on the global as a juxtaposition of regions with a distinctive cultural footprint this collection draws attention to the unforeseen relational maps drawn by things in their global peregrinations celebrating the logic of serendipity that transforms the object into some thing else when it is placed in a new locale mythology gender roles economics contact between Indians and Europeans political sovereignty and self determination land and environment Book jacket First Peoples, First Contacts Jonathan C. H. King, 1999 From the Big Game Hunters who appeared on the continent as far back as 12 000 years ago to the Inuits plying the Alaskan waters today the Native peoples of North America produced a culture remarkable for its vibrancy breadth and diversity and for its survival in the face of almost inconceivable trials This book is at once a history of that culture and a celebration of its splendid variety Rich in historical testimony and anecdotes and lavishly illustrated it weaves a magnificent tapestry of Native American life reaching back to the earliest human records A recognized expert in North American studies Jonathan King interweaves his account with Native histories from the arrival of the first Native Americans by way of what is now Alaska to their later encounters with Europeans on the continent s opposite coast from their exchanges with fur traders to their confrontations with settlers and an ever more voracious American government To illustrate this history King draws on the extensive collections of the British Museum artwork clothing tools and artifacts that demonstrate the wealth of ancient traditions as well as the vitality of contemporary Native culture These illustrations all described in detail form a pictorial document of relations between Europeans and Native American peoples peoples as profoundly different and as deeply related as the Algonquians and the Iroquois the Chumash of California and the Inuipat of Alaska the Cree and the Cherokee from their first contact to their complicated coexistence today The India Museum Revisited Arthur MacGregor, 2023-10-05 The museum of the East India Company formed for a large part of the nineteenth century one of the sights of London In recent years little has been remembered of it beyond its mere existence while an assumed negative role has been widely attributed to it on the basis of its position at the heart of one of Britain s arch colonialist enterprises Extensively illustrated The India Museum Revisited provides a full examination of the museum s founding manifesto and evolving ambitions It surveys the contents of its multifaceted collections with respect to materials their manufacture and original functions on the Indian sub continent as well as the collectors who gathered them and the manner in which they were mobilized to various ends within the museum From this integrated treatment of documentary and material sources a more accurate rounded and nuanced picture emerges of an institution that contributed in major ways over a period of 80 years to the representation of India for a European audience not only in Britain but through the museum s involvement in the international exposition movement to audiences on the continent and beyond Since the Time of the Transformers Alan D. McMillan, 2000-02-01 This book examines over 4000 years of culture history of the related Nuuchahnulth Ditidaht and Makah peoples on western Vancouver Island and the Olympic Peninsula Using data from the Toquaht Archaeological Project McMillan challenges current ethnographic interpretations that show little or no change in these peoples culture Instead by combining historical evidence recent archaeological data and oral traditions he demonstrates conclusively that there were in fact extensive cultural changes and restructuring in these societies in the century following contact with Europeans Emerging from the Mist Quentin

Mackie, Gary Coupland, R.G. Matson, 2011-11-01 Our understanding of the precontact nature of the Northwest Coast has changed dramatically over the last twenty years This book brings together the most recent research on the culture history and archaeology of a region of longstanding anthropological importance whose complex societies represent the most prominent examples of hunters and gatherers Combining archaeology ethnohistory and ethnography this collection investigates several aspects of this cultural complexity carrying on the intellectual traditions of Donald H Mitchell and Wayne Suttles Its interdisciplinary approach creates a broader context in which to interpret the past The generously illustrated chapters address a wide range of topics and include original and penetrating analyses of the fur trade migration household structures and precontact metallurgy and architecture Emerging from the Mist updates and expands our understanding of the nature and evolution of precontact Northwest Coast society to reveal the vibrant rich cultures that existed there Scholars and students of archaeology and anthropology and those with an interest in Northwest Coast history will find this volume especially rewarding
