The Artist's Model Martin Postle, William Vaughan, 1999 The Artist's Model from Etty to Spencer Martin Postle, William Vaughan, 1999 Published to accompany an exhibition held at York City Art Gallery York 29 May 11 July 1999 Kenwood London 23 July 26 September 1999 Djanogly Art Gallery University of Nottingham Nottingham 16 October 12 December 1999 Dictionary of Artists' Models Jill Berk Jiminez, 2013-10-15 The first reference work devoted to their lives and roles this book provides information on some 200 artists models from the Renaissance to the present day Most entries are illustrated and consist of a brief biography selected works in which the model appears with location a list of further reading This will prove an invaluable reference work for art historians librarians museum and gallery curators as well as students and researchers Modeling Life Sarah R. Phillips, 2012-02-01 This is a book about life modeling Unlike the painter whose name appears beside his finished portrait the life model posing nude perhaps for months goes unacknowledged Standing at a unique juncture between nude and naked between high and low culture between art and pornography the life model is admired in a finished sculpture but scorned for her or his posing Making use of extensive interviews with both male and female models and quoting them frequently Sarah R Phillips gives a voice to life models She explores the meaning that life models give to themselves and to their work and seeks to understand the lived experience of life models as they practice their profession Throughout history people have romanticized life models in an aura of bohemian eroticism or condemned them as strippers or sex workers Modeling Life reveals how life models get into the business managing sexuality in the studio what it means to be a muse and why their work is important Victorian Artists and Their World 1844-1861 Katie J. T. Herrington, 2024 The Boyce Papers give readers a rare insight into the milieu of the artists of the mid Victorian period Bodies of Art Marie Lathers, 2001-01-01 To the time honored myth of the artist creating works of genius in isolation with nothing but inspiration to guide him art historians have added the mitigating influences of critics dealers and the public Bodies of Art completes the picture by adding the model This lively look at atelier politics through the lens of literature focuses in particular on the female model with special attention to her race ethnicity and class The result is a suggestive account of the rise and fall of the female model in nineteenth century realism with a final emphasis on the passage of the model into photography at the turn of the century This history of the model begins in nineteenth century Paris where the artist model dynamic was regularly debated by writers and where the most important categories of models appear to be Jewish Italian and Parisian women Bodies of Art traces an evolution in the representation of this model in realist and naturalist literary works from her birth in Balzac to her death in Maupassant in the process revealing how she played a key role in theories of representation advanced by writers Throughout the book Marie Lathers connects the artist's work to the social realities and actual bodies that surround and inhabit the atelier Her work shows how much the status of the model can tell us about artistic practices during the century of the birth of modernity Model and Supermodel Jane

Desmarais, Martin Postle, William Vaughan, 2006 Over the last twenty years there have been flurries of interest in the artist's model and recent exhibitions have stimulated new activity in this area Model and Supermodel extends the discussion about the social and cultural significance of the model in British art and culture A fascinating collection of essays and interviews it examines the persistent mythology of the artist's model and some of the ambiguities involved in depicting the body The book offers a series of lively takes on the phenomenon of the artist's model It will make fascinating reading for those interested in modern art and the wider aspects of British culture and society Frederic Leighton Keren Rosa Hammerschlag, 2017-07-05 Keren Rosa Hammerschlag's Frederic Leighton Death Mortality Resurrection offers a timely reexamination of the art of the late Victorian period's most institutionally powerful artist Frederic Lord Leighton 1830-1896 As President of the Royal Academy from 1878 to 1896 Leighton was committed to the pursuit of beauty in art through the depiction of classical subjects executed according to an academic working method But as this book reveals Leighton's art and discourse were beset by the realisation that academic art would likely die with him Rather than achieving classical perfection Hammerschlag argues Leighton's figures hover in transitional states between realism and idealism flesh and marble life and death as gothic distortions of the classical ideal The author undertakes close readings of key paintings sculptures frescos and drawings in Leighton's oeuvre and situates them in the context of contemporaneous debates about death and resurrection in theology archaeology and medicine The outcome is a pleurably macabre counter biography that reconfigures what it meant to be not just a late Victorian neoclassicist and royal academician but President of the Victorian Royal Academy Dwelling(s) in Nineteenth-Century Ireland Heather Laird, Jay R. Roszman, 2023-10-15 What did it mean to have an Irish dwelling in the nineteenth century How did Irish people write about think about visually represent or imagine what constituted home Showcasing research from scholars based in Ireland the United Kingdom and further afield this interdisciplinary volume seeks to answer these questions by exploring the physicality and symbolism of Irish dwellings and the home as a place of repose exercise and work Using a range of methodological approaches including history folklore and literature this volume offers new perspectives on the material culture of home fictionalized homes social housing schemes suburban living spaces home and social mobility institutional living migration and memories of the home house and gender and eviction Rather than focus on the Big House which has already received considerable scholarly attention this volume foregrounds dwelling spaces that were especially vulnerable to economic forces the homes of the urban and rural poor Additionally the book acknowledges the importance to nineteenth century Ireland of a class that has arguably received even less attention in Irish scholarship than the poor a rising urban suburban middle class exploring their impact on housing and on cultural and leisure activities An Open Access version of Christopher Cusack's chapter Back into the old homestead The Irish Cottage in Irish American Fiction 861-1910 will be made available on publication Murielle James Kaye, 2004-05 I met a Lady Full beautiful a faery's child Her hair was long She took me to her elfin grot And there we slumbered on the moss Excerpted from

further scrutiny Including contributors renowned in their field of expertise this ground breaking collection is essential reading for all those interested in the history of sexuality and the body The Making of Women Artists in Victorian England Jo Devereux,2016-08-10 When women were admitted to the Royal Academy Schools in 1860 female art students gained a foothold in the most conservative art institution in England The Royal Female College of Art the South Kensington Schools and the Slade School of Fine Art also produced increasing numbers of women artists Their entry into a male dominated art world altered the perspective of other artists and the public They came from disparate levels of society Princess Louise the fourth daughter of Queen Victoria studied sculpture at the National Art Training School yet they all shared ambition talent and courage Analyzing their education and careers this book argues that the women who attended the art schools during the 1860s and 1870s including Kate Greenaway Elizabeth Butler Helen Allingham Evelyn De Morgan and Henrietta Rae produced work that would accommodate yet subtly challenge the orthodoxies of the fine art establishment Without their contributions Victorian art would be not simply the poorer but hardly recognizable to us today The Nude Richard Leppert,2018-05-04 The Nude explores some of the principal ways that paintings of the nude function in the conflicted terrain of culture and society in Europe and America from the fifteenth through twentieth centuries as set against questions about human sexuality that emerge around differences of class gender age and race Author Richard Leppert relates the visual history of how the naked body intersects with the foundational characteristics of what it is to be human measured against a range of basic emotions happiness delight and desire fear anxiety and abjection and read in the context of changing social and cultural realities The bodies comprising the Western nude are variously pleased or tormented ecstatic or bored pleased or horrified In short as this volume amply demonstrates the nude in Western art is a terrain on whose surface is written a summation of Western history its glory but also its degradation Oxford Dictionary of National Biography: Tonson-Usher Henry Colin Gray Matthew,Brian Harrison,Brian Howard Harrison,2004 55 000 biographies of people who shaped the history of the British Isles and beyond from the earliest times to the year 2002 The English Heritage Visitors' Handbook, 1999-2000 English Heritage,1999
