Asian City Processes Of Development Characteristics And Planning:

The Asian City: Processes of Development, Characteristics and Planning Ashok K. Dutt, F. J. Costa, Surinder Aggarwal, A. G. Noble, 2012-12-06 In The Asian City the Asian urbanisation processes nature and characteristics of the 1990s have been analyzed by countries by comparing different countries and in an international context The authors are urban specialists from four continents This volume has been divided into six parts Part I Urbanisation in an international context Part II Comparative urban setting Part III Urbanisation characteristics by country Part IV Urban planning Part V The urban poor and Part VI Perspectives on urbanization This work allows the reader to understand Asian urban forms their evolution the nature of urbanisation its impact on economic growth in cities the living and working conditions of the poor and urban planning and problems

Emerging Urbanity Richard Marshall, 2013-09-05 Discussions on the global economy focus on the hyper mobility of capital the possibility of instantaneous transmission of information and money around the globe the centrality of information outputs to our economic systems and emphasise the neutralisation of geography and of places What is ignored however is that even the most advanced information industries need a material infrastructure of buildings and work processes and considerable agglomeration in order to operate in global markets Further the globalisation of economic activity has brought with it not only a vast dispersal of offices and factories but also a growing importance of central functions to manage and coordinate such worldwide networks of activities The development of global urban projects is one manifestation of this move towards centrality in urban situations These large scale urban projects are the result of governments seeking competitive advantage in the global economy They are critical components of a nation's global infrastructure In the booming economies of the Asia Pacific Rim prior to the Asian Economic Crisis these urban developments were seen as key components of national economic policies In their making they require a conscious effort to arrange material infrastructure and reinforce that there is a role for urban design in this making Emerging Urbanity is an exploration of this role in nine global urban projects in the Asia Pacific Rim

Urbanization in Southeast Asia Yap Kioe Sheng, Moe Thuzar, 2012 Urbanization occurs in tandem with development Countries in Southeast Asia need to build individually and collectively the capacity of their cities and towns to promote economic growth and development to make urban development more sustainable to mitigate and adapt to climate change and to ensure that all groups in society share in the development This book is a result of a series of regional discussions by experts and practitioners involved in the urban and planning of their countries It highlights urbanization issues that have implications for regional including ASEAN cooperation and provides practical recommendations for policymakers It is a first step towards assisting governments in the region to take advantage of existing collaborative partnerships to address the urban transformation that Southeast Asia is experiencing today

Preserving the Legacy Allen G. Noble, Frank J. Costa, 1999-01-01 Though only a relatively recent topic of worldwide discussion and interest the concept of sustainable development traces its origins to the late eighteenth century when concern for resource conservation and environmental integrity first arose From this beginning the concern for sustainable development progressively expanded from being purely local to having a regional and national relevance and finally to being a global concern of import Preserving the Legacy examines this expansion while discussing several general approaches to the understanding and application of the concept of sustainability Also discussed are such weighty issues as the balancing of development aspirations with environmental management in developing countries and the means by which residents in an urbanizing region in a developed country can be induced to consider sustainable development as both a goal and a limiting factor in the conversion of agricultural land Offering both real world examples of sustainability issues and a forecast for the future of sustainability theory and practice this fascinating volume will prove invaluable to scholars of the environment geography and urban planning

Urban and Regional Planning and Development Rajiv R. Thakur, Ashok K. Dutt, Sudhir K. Thakur, George M. Pomeroy, 2020-02-10 This book discusses urban planning and regional development practices in the twentieth century and ways in which they are currently being transformed It addresses questions such as What are the factors affecting planning dynamics at local regional national and global scales With the push to adopt a market paradigm in land development and infrastructure the relationship between resource management sustainable development and the role of governance has been transformed Centralized planning is giving way to privatization not only in the traditional regions but also in newly emerging regions of Asia Africa and Latin America Further attempts are being made to bring planning related decision making closer to the people who are most affected by it Presenting a collection of studies from scholars around the world and highlighting recent advances in the field the book is a valuable reference guide for those engaged in urban transformations whether as graduate students researchers practitioners or policymakers

The International Handbook of Educational Research in the Asia-Pacific Region J.P. Keeves, Ryo Watanabe, 2013-11-11 The aim of the Handbook is to present readily accessible but scholarly sources of information about educational research in the Asia Pacific region The scale and scope of the Handbook is such that the articles included in it provide substantive contributions to knowledge and understanding of education in the Asia region In so doing the articles present the problems and issues facing education in the region and the findings of research conducted within the region that contribute to the resolution of these problems and issues Moreover since new problems and issues are constantly arising the articles in the Handbook also indicate the likely directions of future developments The different articles within the Handbook seek to conceptualize the problems in each specific content area under review provide an integration of the research conducted within that area the theoretical basis of the research the practical implications of the research and the contribution of the research towards the resolution of the problems identified Thus the articles do not involve the reporting of newly conducted research but rather require a synthesis of the research undertaken in a particular area with reference to the research methods employed and the theoretical frameworks on which the research is based In general the articles do not advocate a single point of view but rather present alternative points of view and comment on the debate and disagreements associated with the conduct and findings of the research Furthermore it should be noted that the Handbook is not concerned with research methodology and only considers the methods employed in inquiry in so far as the particular methods of research contribute to the effective investigation of problems and issues that have arisen in the conduct and provision of education at different levels within the region Port Strategy for Sustainable Development Elvira Haezendonck,2021-03-23 Today most large port hubs include the circular economy transformation challenge together with smart digitalization and Internet of Things IoT in their strategic priorities However many ports do not seem to have progressed beyond incremental small scale sustainable innovations or the support of rather fragmented sustainability initiatives The challenges are complex since ports do not only have to reconsider their own core activities but also their role in the supply chain of shippers to lift themselves out of the linear lock in Opportunities are also created and port authorities and businesses need to embrace circular learning and turn these projects into sustainable business models This strategic change or refocus requires new insights into innovative governance and business frameworks the link between strategy and commercially viable business models systems innovation intensified stakeholder collaboration and co creation altered traffic segments and hinterland focus amongst others These Special Issue articles address current CE transition concerns salient to port strategists and managers such as first strategic changes towards circular ports building awareness on the importance of sustainability data and available space and how port authorities can develop circular business models Regional Development: Theory and Practice Baleshwar Thakur,H.S. Sharma,Suresh Misra,S. Chattopadhyay,Surendra Singh,2017-01-01 The Five Volume Series on Regional Development Theory and Practice is a festschrift dedicated to Professor R P Misra a distinguished scholar widely recognized as one of the pioneers who initiated and promoted Regional Planning studies in India This five volume series with over one hundred research papers on different aspects of regional development is a fitting tribute to the scholar who spent much of his life time thinking researching and writing about development in general and regional development in particular These five volumes each dealing with a specific aspect of regional development Vol 1 Concept of Regional Development Vol 2 Measuring Development Vol 3 Development Patterns and Structures Vol 4 Development Policies and Vol 5 Development Challenges Each of the five volumes begins with an introduction which is unique in the sense that this is not merely an introduction to the contributions contained in the volume but also talks of the theory of regional development contemporary development in the discipline and the contrarian views expressed by various academics and policy makers Another significant aspect of these introductions is the global view and a comparative scenario of the developed developing and under developed economies of the world that the editors have kept in view in a debate seeking an universal theory of regional development Regions are specifics and often unique and regional development implies focusing on the assets of the territory its potential and constraints Regional Development and Planning in India Vishwambhar Nath,2009 The Japanese City Pradyumna P. Karan,Kristin Stapleton,2014-10-17

Japan is one of the most crowded countries on earth with three fourths of its population now living in cities Tokyo is easily the most populous city on the planet And yet though closely packed its citizens dwell together in relative peace In America inner city violence often attributed in part to overcrowding is frequently emphasized as one of the great social problems of the day What might we learn from Japan's situation that could be applied to our own as we approach the twenty first century In this collection an interdisciplinary group of international scholars seek to understand and explain the process and characteristics shaping the modern Japanese city With frequent comparisons to the American city they consider such topics as urban landscapes the quality of life in the suburbs spatial mixing of social classes in the city land use planning and control environmental pollution and images of the city in Japanese literature The only book on the subject The Japanese City surveys the important literature and highlights the current issues in urban studies The numerous photographs maps tables and graphs combined with the high quality of the contributions offer a comprehensive look at the contemporary Japanese city Contributors William Burton David L Callies Roman Cybriwsky Kuniko Fujita Theodore J Gilman Richard Child Hill P P Karan Robert Kidder Cotton Mather and Kohei Okamoto

Flammable Cities Greg Bankoff, Uwe Lübken, Jordan Sand, 2012-01-19 In most cities today fire has been reduced to a sporadic and isolated threat But throughout history the constant risk of fire has left a deep and lasting imprint on almost every dimension of urban society This volume the first truly global study of urban conflagration shows how fire has shaped cities throughout the modern world from Europe to the imperial colonies major trade entrepôts and non European capitals right up to such present day megacities as Lagos and Jakarta Urban fire may hinder commerce or even spur it it may break down or reinforce barriers of race class and ethnicity it may serve as a pretext for state violence or provide an opportunity for displays of state benevolence As this volume demonstrates the many and varied attempts to master marginalize or manipulate fire can turn a natural and human hazard into a highly useful social and political tool Inclusive Cities Kalpana Markandey,B. Srinagesh,2014-01-01 The present study is an effort to delve into the housing market in Hyderabad where a gap between the demand and supply is very obvious It is found that while the houses of the upper and upper middle class continue to boom the middle class is found wobbling for want of housing the lower echelons of the socio economic strata again have some amount of assistance by way of governmental schemes to provide housing The shift from independent houses to multistoried complexes is also very much evident in Hyderabad over a period of time The recommendations that flow out from this study are that land meant for housing the underprivileged should be supported and funds at low rates of interest should be provided for construction purpose Home loan rates should be lowered as also the Income Tax exemption limit on home loan interest repayment Development of integrated township in the area which can also house information technology firms can be taken up The development of the township can be undertaken in the private public partnership The poor can be provided access to safe drinking water and drainage Also pollution control and personal safety in slums can help the poor This will cut down the health costs of the less privileged Inclusiveness in housing can be brought about by providing reasonably priced housing and also by guarding rental housing and ensuring that people are not displaced due to reasons beyond their control This is apart from providing a well knit society more so that which is assorted from the religious cultural and caste point of view giving a multi cultural touch to the society which will be healthy tolerant and nationalistic

City Requiem, Calcutta Ananya Roy,2003 Housing developments emerge amid the paddy fields on the fringes of Calcutta overflowing trains carry peasant women to informal urban labor markets in a daily commute against hunger land is settled and claimed in a complex choreography of squatting and evictions such Ananya Roy contends are the distinctive spaces of a communism for the new millennium where at a moment of liberalization the hegemony of poverty is quietly reproduced An ethnography of urban development in Calcutta Roy s book explores the dynamics of class and gender in the persistence of poverty City Requiem Calcutta emphasizes how gender itself is spatialized and how gender relations are negotiated within the geopolitics of modernity and through the everyday practices of territory Thus Roy shows how urban developmentalism in its populist guise reproduces the relations of masculinist patronage and in its entrepreneurial guise seeks to reclaim a bourgeois Calcutta gentlemanly in its nostalgias In doing so her work expands the field of poverty studies by showing how a politics of poverty is also a poverty of knowledge a construction and management of social and spatial categories
