Spanish-Language Filmmaking Lisa Jarvinen,2012-06-05 Silent film was universally understood and could be exported anywhere But when talkies arrived the industry began experimenting with dubbing subtitling and dual track productions in more than one language Where language fractured the European film market for Spanish speaking countries and communities it created new opportunities In The Rise of Spanish Language Filmmaking Lisa Jarvinen focuses specifically on how Hollywood lost ground in the lucrative international Spanish speaking audience between 1929 and 1939 Hollywood studios initially trained cadres of Spanish speaking film professionals created networks among them and demonstrated the viability of a broadly conceived transnational Spanish speaking film market in an attempt to forestall the competition from other national film industries By the late 1930s these efforts led to unintended consequences and helped to foster the growth of remarkably robust film industries in Mexico Spain and Argentina Using studio records Jarvinen examines the lasting effects of the transition to sound on both Hollywood practices and cultural politics in the Spanish speaking world She shows through case studies based on archival research in the United States Spain and Mexico how language as a key marker of cultural identity led to new expectations from audiences and new possibilities for film producers

Can "The Whole World" Be Wrong? Richard Landes, 2022-11-22 A Winner of the Association for the Study of the Middle East and Africa 2023 Bernard Lewis Prize Landes a medievalist and historian of apocalyptic movements takes us through the first years of the third millennium 2000 2003 documenting how a radical inability of Westerners to understand the medieval mentality that drove Global Jihad prompted a series of disastrous misinterpretations and misguided reactions that have shaped our so far unhappy century These misinterpretations in 2000 2001 2002 and 2005 contributed fundamentally to the ever worsening moral and empirical disorientations of our information elites journalists academics pundits So while journalists reported Palestinian war propaganda as news lethal journalism they were also reporting Jihadi war propaganda as news own goal war journalism These radical disorientations have created our current dilemma of pervasive information distrust deep splits within the voting public in most democracies the politicization of science and the inability of Western elites to defend their civilization and instead to stand down before an invasion Al-Jazeera and US War Coverage Tal Samuel-Azran,2010 Ever since its launch over a decade ago Al Jazeera has influenced broadcast journalism globally and transformed the Arab television news sphere Its coverage of wars and conflicts in the region has earned the pan Arabic news network many admirers and a few powerful adversaries as Tal Samuel Azran s book ably demonstrates This is an empirically strong contribution to the literature on the politics of global news Daya Thussu Professor of International Communication University of Westminster London Book Jacket Digital Dictators Ilan Berman,2018-11-02 The 2016 elections in the United States exposed a massive campaign of subversion and interference carried out by Russia and aimed at undermining the inner workings of American democracy But that disinformation offensive represents just one part of a larger challenge now confronting the United States the weaponization of news and views both real and fabricated by repressive regimes and radical non state actors in order to advance their strategic objectives In this volume leading scholars and experts chart the rise of this authoritarian media phenomenon and explore its implications for U S foreign policy and America s standing in the world
