Nadia Boulanger and Her World Jeanice Brooks, 2020-11-19 Nadia Boulanger 1887 1979

was arguably one of the most iconic figures in twentieth century music and certainly among the most prominent musicians of her time. For many composers especially Americans from Aaron Copland to Philip Glass studying with Boulanger in Paris or Fontainebleau was a formative moment in a creative career. Composer, performer, conductor, impresario and charismatic and inspirational teacher, Boulanger engaged in a vast array of activities in a variety of media from private composition lessons and lecture recitals to radio broadcasts, recordings and public performances. But how to define and account for Boulanger's impact on the music world is still unclear. Nadia Boulanger and Her World takes us from a time in the late nineteenth century when many careers in music were almost entirely closed to women to the moment in the late twentieth century when those careers were becoming a reality. Contributors consider Boulanger's work in the worlds of composition, musical analysis and pedagogy and explore the geographies of transatlantic and international exchange and disruption within which her career unfolded. Ultimately this volume takes its title as a topic for exploration asking what worlds Boulanger belonged to and in what sense we can consider any of them to be hers.

Ravel Roger Nichols, 2011-01-01. This new biography of Maurice Ravel, 1875-1937, by one of the leading scholars of nineteenth and twentieth century French music is based on a wealth of written and oral evidence, some newly translated and some derived from interviews with the composer's friends and associates. As well as describing the circumstances in which Ravel composed, the book explores new evidence to present radical views of the composer's background and upbringing, his notorious failure in the Prix de Rome, his incisive and often combative character his sexual preferences and his long final illness It also contains the most detailed account so far published of his hugely successful American tour of 1928 The world of Maurice Ravel including friendships and some fallings out with Debussy Faur Diaghilev Gershwin and Toscanini is deftly uncovered in this sensitive portrait Chamber Music John H.
