Cataloging Rules for Author and Title Entries, 1949 Functions and objects of author and title cataloguing Ákos Domanovszky, 2017-11-07 No detailed description available for Functions and objects of author and title cataloguing The Future of the Descriptive Cataloging Rules American Library Association, 1998 Annotation What is the future of the Anglo American Cataloging Rules It depends on who you ask We asked the experts Schottlaender has pulled together the key authorities on cataloging with AACR2R to examine critical issues This useful book will help catalogers prepare themselves for what lies ahead for AACR2R Functional Requirements for Bibliographic Records (FRBR) Patrick Le Boeuf, 2013-10-31 Get the straight facts on FRBR and whether it is right for you In 1998 Functional Requirements for Bibliographic Records FRBR was a conceptual model promoted by the International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions IFLA as being the recommended new advancement in cataloging As libraries strive to serve their users better in the coming years questions remain as to whether FRBR may provide an answer on how to improve cataloging systems Functional Requirements for Bibliographic Records FRBR Hype or Cure All explores not only the theoretical issues such as the concept of works and the bibliographic relationships of musical works but also provides a unique survey of most of the systems that actually implement FRBR such as the AustLit Gateway This book describes the challenges that accompany implementation of FRBR and how this abstract approach to cataloging can be a useful practical tool to help improve library systems Functional Requirements for Bibliographic Records FRBR Hype or Cure All clearly explains the concepts ideas and practical applications of FRBR The book is comprised of four major sections A chronological section explains how FRBR was developed and how it will evolve in the future a theoretical section reviews how FRBR analyzes different types of library materials a practical aspects section examines how some systems actually use FRBR and lastly a section that explains an alternative to FRBR the XOBIS project which shows that other solutions are possible to meet future cataloging challenges Functional Requirements for Bibliographic Records FRBR explores innovative features including the Semantic Web activities future evolutions in cataloging alternatives to FRBR the history of IFLA Functional Requirements for Bibliographic Records Study an updated description of the entity relationship model being developed by the Working Group to extend the FRBR model to cover authority data key aspects of the FRBR and FRANAR models that will need to be re examined the concept of expression the cataloging of hand press materials the AustLit Gateway musical works in the FRBR model the Paradigma Project at the National Library of Norway the FRBR and the performing arts oral traditions and FRBR the design of future systems the European FRBR research initiative FRBRizing OCLC s WorldCat the IFPA software and application interfaces the Library of Congress s FRBR Display Tool XOBIS metadata the critical bridge between content and sophisticated access Librarians library science faculty students and vendors will find Functional Requirements for Bibliographic Records FRBR Hype or Cure All an invaluable source of information on both the theoretical and practical aspects of FRBR The Bibliographic Record and Information Technology Ronald Hagler,1997 When patrons use a library catalogue they seek information without regard to the library's cataloguing technology It is crucial then that bibliographic records provide complete detailed information on each item no matter what process or media format is in place Encyclopedia of Library and Information Science, Second Edition - Miriam Drake,2003-05-20 A revitalized version of the popular classic the Encyclopedia of Library and Information Science Second Edition targets new and dynamic movements in the distribution acquisition and development of print and online media compiling articles from more than 450 information specialists on topics including program planning in the digital era recruitment information management advances in digital technology and encoding intellectual property and hardware software database selection and design competitive intelligence electronic records preservation decision support systems ethical issues in information online library instruction telecommuting and digital library projects RDA and Serials Cataloging Ed Jones,2013-06-18 Serials and continuing resources present a variety of unique challenges in bibliographic management from special issues and unnumbered supplements to recording the changes that a long running periodical can experience over time Easing catalogers through the RDA Resource Description and Access transition by showing the continuity with past practice serials cataloging expert Jones frames the practice within the structure of the FRBR and FRAD conceptual models on which RDA is based With serials special considerations in mind he Explains the familiarities and differences between AACR2 and RDA Demonstrates how serials catalogers work fits in the cooperative context of OCLC CONSER and NACO Presents examples of how RDA records can ultimately engage with the Semantic Web Occasional serials catalogers and specialists alike will find useful advice here as they explore the structure of the new cataloging framework Cataloging Service Library of Congress. Processing Department, IFLA Cataloguing Principles: Steps towards an International Cataloguing Code, 4 Barbara B. Tillett,Jaesun Lee,Ana Lupe Cristán,2009-03-13 No detailed description available for IFLA Cataloguing Principles Steps towards an International Cataloguing Code 4 AACR2 and Serials Neal Edgar,2014-04-23 In this important and scholarly book nearly two dozen American librarians discuss the difficulties created by AACR2 with regard to bibliographic control and management of serials in libraries Cataloging and Classification Standards and Rules John J Riemer,2013-04-03 This is the first book to examine standards specifically as they apply to cataloging and classification while at the same time considering the field of library science as a whole The developments in standards detailed in Cataloging and Classification Standards and Rules portend great time savings in the cataloging process for those catalogers willing to advocate the necessary programming to their systems officer or bibliographic utility Standards in the library and information science community underlie and impact the work of librarians and information specialists on a daily basis yet remain inconspicuous to even the most knowledgeable in the field Cataloging and Classification Standards and Rules reviews the state of a full range of formal and informal standards and rules utilized in cataloging and classification It also provides historical perspective commentary assessment of significance and anticipation of future developments and evaluates the connections and interrelationships that exist among the various standards Chapters in Cataloging and Classification Standards and Rules are written by professionals who have been key figures in the development of standards and have accessed primary source material for the preparation of their articles They address these what exactly constitutes a standard how something becomes a standard how standards undergo change evaluation of and commentary on the effectiveness of current standards the latest information on several standards currently in development testing or implementation what the future may hold Cataloging and Classification Standards and Rules is a valuable reference book for both beginning and experienced professional librarians As managers and consumers of bibliographic information it is crucial that librarians understand the nature and status of a variety of formal and informal standards This book will assist them in this task Library school students specializing in cataloging and classification will also find this book an indispensable guide as they prepare themselves for employment in the field Cataloging Service, Bulletins, 1-125 Library of Congress.
