Aging Death And The Completion Of Being:

Aging, Death, and the Completion of Being David D. Van Tassel, 2016-11-11 While the problems of aging are being studied with microscope computer and questionnaire as a medical social and economic challenge these essays introduce the humanistic perspective The assumption behind this work is that in history literature folklore and art we have the record of centuries of human experience to enhance our present understanding of aging old age and death Growing old is a process that occurs in every person every minute every hour that passes But if aging does not begin on the day of retirement at the age of sixty five what is the definition of old age Is it chronologically physiologically mentally or culturally determined Old age may not be a phase of life as easily identified as adolescence As our population continues to grow older we are ever more in need of greater sensitivity to the joys and tragedies of old age In recent years however our view of old age has been clouded by our negative feelings about death Old age has become inextricably associated with death It was not always so until a lower infant mortality rate better nutrition and a higher standard of living so greatly increased our chances of surviving into old age death was recognized as a threat at every stage of life This volume brings together twelve eminent scholars from various humanistic disciplines to trace the origins of our present attitudes and to identify the models and myths of old age in our culture The historians in the group ask how old people were treated in past societies Literary scholars and art critics discuss the effects of aging on the later works of authors and artists and art as a source of solace inspiration and revelation to the aged A philosopher explores a theme shared by all that the way one ages and dies is a function of the way one has lived Contributors John Demos Leon Edel Erik H Erikson Leslie Fiedler Tamara K Hareven Robert Kastenbaum Robert Kohn Juanita M Kreps Peter Laslett Francis V O Connor Robert F Sayre Aging as a Spiritual Journey Eugene C. Bianchi, 2011-07-01 Bianchi's wide ranging book draws together insights from the social sciences the humanities and religion to establish a holistic framework for a spirituality of aging He argues that middle life and late adulthood present opportunities for turning inward for a deeper contemplative life within the context of active worldly endeavors This can also augur a reform of social relationships beyond individual development alone toward the creation of a more cooperative just society In this way physical decline is countered by a spiritual ascent He summons aging persons fortified with universal values and concerns gained from age and experience to return to the centers of decision making Throughout the author ponders such questions as personal power identity fear freedom contemplation sexuality the church faith suffering and hope In candid interviews older religious leaders reflect on their early value formation personal traumas choice of careers midlife transitions experiences of old age and the prospect of death In dwelling mainly on human spiritual dilemmas of the aging cycle Bianchi offers a strong clear message of hope one that stands against the tide of our culture which tends to shunt older people to the outer eddies of life's stream Aging as a Spiritual Journey is immensely valuable to all laypersons and those in the helping professions who are concerned about the quality of the aging process Women Ageing. Experience Brian J. Worsfold, 2005 Se puede llegar a concebir el envejecimiento como un proceso diferencial según el género Aspectos analizados en diferentes narraciones sobre el envejecimiento femenino demuestran que así es Miradas al espejo revisiones de vida y la expresión de la sexualidad son rasgos distintivos del proceso vital femenino En este libro se revelan los sentimientos las preocupaciones las prioridades y las aspiraciones que moldean las distintas fases de las vidas de las mujeres

Old Age and the English Poor Law, 1500-1700 Lynn A. Botelho, 2004 Based on documents from two Suffolk villages this study examines the operation of the poor law and the individual effort the elderly poor needed to make to survive This study is a test case of the old poor law In its exploration of the virtually unknown world of the aged poor in sixteenth and seventeenth century England it asks how the elderly poor managed to survive in a pre industrial economy and answers through focusing on the many factors that make up the experience of old age status health wealth and local culture in two Suffolk villages Botelho demonstrates that the poor law did not nor did it intend to provide complete support and she documents the individual efforts of the poor as they made their own old age arrangements drawing as heavily upon their own initiatives as upon charity and legislated relief LYNN BOTELHO is Associate Professor of History Indiana University of Pennsylvania Handbook of Aging and Mental Health Jacob Lomranz, 1998-09-30 This comprehensive resource responds to a growing need for theory and multidisciplinary integrative research in adult and gerontological health Handbook of Aging and Mental Health brings together for the first time diverse strategies and methodologies as well as theoretical formulations involving psychodynamic behavioral psychosocial and biological systems as they relate to aging and health Forward thinking in his approach Lomranz provides the mental health adult developmental and geriatric professions with a single reference source that covers theory construction empirical research treatment and multidisciplinary program development Women of a Certain Age Rita Caviglioli, 2005 Situated at the crossroads of gender studies narratology and cultural studies this book investigates the impact that the demographic and cultural revolutions of the last century have had on Italian women's life courses and on their literary imaginations The geographic and chronological focus is Italy of the 1990s The study is divided into two parts that represent an ideal progression from contexts to texts Four Last Songs Linda Hutcheon, Michael Hutcheon, 2015-05-22 Later life is a fraught topic in our commercialized anti aging death denying culture Where does creativity fit in The canonical composers whose stories are told in this book Giuseppe Verdi 1813 1901 Richard Strauss 1864 1949 Olivier Messiaen 1908 1992 and Benjamin Britten 1913 1976 offer radically individual responses to that question In their late years each of these national icons wrote an opera around which coalesced major issues about their own creativity and aging ranging from declining health to the critical expectations that accompany success and long artistic careers They also had to deal with the social political and aesthetic changes of their time including World Wars and the rise of musical modernism By investigating their attitudes to their creativity in the face of aging together with their late compositions and the critical reception of them this book tells the stories of their different but creative ways of dealing with those changes

Bringing their respective specialties of medicine and literary criticism to bear on the study the authors show how the late nineteenth century where these stories begin saw the discovery and definition of old age as a social economic and medical construct And thus were born in the twentieth century both geriatrics and gerontology as disciplines Despite recent medical advances and increased life expectancy the strikingly dichotomous cultural views of age and aging both positive and negative have not changed much at all What also has not changed are the reception of late life works as caught between decline and apotheosis and the fraught discourse of late style The stories in this book weave all these elements together highlighting both the shared vicissitudes of aging and the individual power of creativity as a way to meet them

Aristotle's ›Parva naturalia‹ Ronald Polansky, 2024-05-20 Aristotle's Parva naturalia continues the investigation begun in the De anima The De anima defines the soul and treats its main powers nutrition sense perception intellection and locomotion The Parva naturalia On sense and sensible objects On memory and recollection On sleep On dreams On divination in sleep On motion of animals De motu animalium On length and shortness of life and On youth and old age and respiration attends more to bodily involvement with soul While each work offers fascinating and challenging insights there has never been as extensive a commentary covering them together A reason is that the works have often been viewed as incidental and even inconsistent The De motu animalium has not typically been included when viewed as an isolated work on animal locomotion This commentary argues that the treatises considered together and with the De motu among them display a tight sequence manifesting an artful yet easily overlooked design We reveal many techniques of Aristotle's writing that have received little consideration previously Our commentary contributes to a unified and comprehensive account of Aristotle's overall project regarding the soul and its connections with the body

Critical Humanities and Ageing Marlene Goldman, Kate de Medeiros, Thomas Cole, 2022-11-01 Providing a critical humanities approach to ageing this book addresses new directions in age studies the meaning and workings of ageism in the twenty first century the vexed relationship between age and disability studies the meanings and experiences of queer aging the fascinating yet often elided work of age activists and finally the challenges posed by AI and more generally transhumanism in the context of caring for an ageing population Divided into four parts Part I What Does It Mean to Grow Old Part II Aging Old Age and Disability Part III Aging Old Age and Activism Part IV Old Age and Humanistic Approaches to Care the volume provides an innovative two part structure that facilitates rather than merely encourages interdisciplinary collaboration across the humanities and social sciences Each essay is thus followed by two short critical responses from disciplinary viewpoints that diverge from that of the essay's author Drawing on work from across the humanities philosophy fine arts religion and literature this book will be a useful supplemental text for courses on
