Agony Of Flies Notes And Notations:

The Agony of Flies Elias Canetti, 2021-12-14 Agony of Flies Notes and Notations presents brief aphorisms selected from the German Nobel laureate Elias Canetti's writings. These short writings collected in this bilingual edition offer remarkable insight into the life and thinking of one of our great imaginers and solitary men of genius. Iris Murdoch Encyclopedia of the Essay Tracy Chevalier, 2012-10-12 This groundbreaking new source of international scope defines the essay as nonfictional prose texts of between one and 50 pages in length. The more than 500 entries by 275 contributors include entries on nationalities, various categories of essays such as generic such as sermons, aphorisms, individual major works, notable writers and periodicals that created a market for essays and particularly famous or significant essays. The preface details the historical development of the essay and the alphabetically arranged entries usually include biographical sketch, nationality, era, selected writings, list additional readings and anthologies. Encyclopedia of Modern Jewish Culture Glenda Abramson, 2004-03-01 The Encyclopedia of Modern Jewish Culture is an extensively updated revision of the very successful Companion to Jewish Culture published in 1989 and has now been updated throughout. Experts from all over the world contribute entries ranging from 200 to 1000 words broadly covering the humanities, arts, social sciences, sport and popular culture and 5000 word essays contextualize the shorter entries and provide overviews to aspects of culture in the Jewish world. Ideal for student and general readers, the articles and biographies have been written by scholars and academics, musicians, artists and writers and the book now contains up to date bibliographies, suggestions for further reading, comprehensive cross referencing and a full index. This is a resource no student of Jewish history will want to go without.

Death and Philosophy J.E. Malpas, Robert C. Solomon, 2002-06-01 Death and Philosophy considers these questions with different perspectives varying from the existentialist deriving from Camus, Heidegger or Sartre to the English speaking analytic tradition of Bernard Williams or Thomas Nagel to non western approaches such as are exemplified in the Tibetan Book of the Dead and in Daoist thought to perspectives influenced by Lucretius, Epicurus and Nietzsche. Death and Philosophy will be of great interest to philosophers or those studying religion and theology but its clarity and scope ensures it will be accessible to anyone who has considered what it means to be mortal. Encyclopedia of German Literature Matthias Konzett, 2015-05-11 Designed to provide English readers of German literature the opportunity to familiarize themselves with both the established canon and newly emerging literatures that reflect the concerns of women and ethnic minorities, the Encyclopedia of German Literature includes more than 500 entries on writers, individual work and topics essential to an understanding of this rich literary tradition. Drawing on the expertise of an international group of experts, the essays in the encyclopedia reflect developments of the latest scholarship in German literature, culture and history and society. In addition to the essays, author entries include biographies and works lists and works entries provide information about first editions, selected critical editions and English language translations. All entries conclude with a list of further readings.

Interculturality in Fragments Fred Dervin, 2022-10-28 This book continues the author's long term reflections over 20 years of scholarship and experience in intercultural communication education around the fascinating and yet contestable notion of interculturality in education. As an unstable and polysemic notion, interculturality deserves to be opened up again and again, and there is a need to engage with it continuously, observing, critiquing, and problematizing its complexities. This book urges researchers, students, and interculturalists to take the time to think carefully and deeply about interculturality and to find inspiration beyond the dominating Western ideological world of intercultural research and education. This book starts from short fragments written by the author for himself over a period of one year. In these short statements and notes about interculturality, the author reflects creatively on the questions he had in mind at the time of writing and offers some temporary answers which in turn are questioned and revised. Over the 1000 fragments that the author wrote, he selected about 100 for which he wrote commentaries referring to and reviewing current research and debates on interculturality in the process. One of the specificities of the book is to be highly multidisciplinary to help us get used to looking for inspiration in other fields of research and creativity. The fragments can be read randomly; the reader may open the book at any page and pick any fragment. The author suggests reading each individual fragment first and then the accompanying explanatory texts. While reading them, the reader is also invited to reflect on any potential addition to what the author wrote, anything they might disagree with, anything they would have wanted to discuss with the author. Questions have been added at the end of each chapter for readers to reflect on and to enrich their own criticality and reflexivity. The book serves as continuous guidance for engaging with interculturality.

A Companion to the Works of Elias Canetti Dagmar C. G. Lorenz, 2009 New essays providing a comprehensive scholarly introduction to the great writer and thinker Canetti. The Bulgarian-born scholar and author Elias Canetti was one of the most astute witnesses and analysts of the mass movements and wars of the first half of the 20th century. Born a Sephardic Jew and raised at first in the Bulgarian and Ladino languages, he chose to write in German. He was awarded the 1981 Nobel Prize in Literature for his oeuvre, which includes dramas, essays, diaries, aphorisms, the novel Die Blendung, Auto da F, and the long interdisciplinary treatise Masse und Macht (Crowds and Power). These works express Canetti's thought-provoking ideas on culture and the human psyche, with special focus on the phenomena of power, conflict, and survival. Canetti's masterful prose, his linguistic innovations, his brilliant satires and conceits continue to fascinate scholars and general readers alike. His challenging genre-bending writings merge theory and literature, essay and diary entry. This Companion volume contains original essays by renowned scholars from around the world who examine Canetti's writing and thought in the context of pre and post-fascist Europe, providing a comprehensive scholarly introduction. Contributors: William C. Donahue, Anne Fuchs, Hans Reiss, Julian Preece, Wolfgang Mieder, Sigurd P. Scheichel, Helga Kraft, Harriet Murphy, Irene S. Di Maio, Ritchie Robertson, Johannes G. Pankau, Dagmar C. G. Lorenz, Penka Angelova, and Svoboda A. Dimitrova. Michael Mack, Dagmar C. G. Lorenz is Professor of Germanic Studies at the University of Illinois, Chicago. Marshall McLuhan and Northrop Frye B.W. Powe, 2014-01-01 Marshall McLuhan and Northrop Frye are two of Canada's central cultural figures, colleagues and rivals whose careers unfolded in curious harmony even as their intellectual engagement was antagonistic. Poet, novelist, essayist, and philosopher B.W. Powe, who studied with both of these formidable and influential intellectuals, presents an exploration of their lives and work in Marshall McLuhan and Northrop Frye: Apocalypse and Alchemy. Powe considers the existence of a unique visionary tradition of Canadian humanism and argues that McLuhan and Frye represent fraught but complementary approaches to the study of literature and to the broader engagement with culture. Examining their eloquent but often acid responses to each other, Powe exposes the scholarly controversies and personal conflicts that erupted between them and notably the great commonalities in their writing and biographies. Using interviews, letters, notebooks, and their published texts, Powe offers a new alchemy of their thought in which he combines the philosophical hallmarks of McLuhan's "The medium is the message" and Frye's "the great code." Living with the Dead J. Jeremy Wisniewski, 2023-04-14 This book explores the moral place of the dead in our lives and in our afterlives. It argues that our lives are saturated by the past intentions and values of the dead and that we offer the dead a form of modest immortality by fulfilling our obligations to remember them. In the first part of the book, the author examines the scope and limits of our obligations to the dead. Our obligations to respect the wishes of the dead are more substantial than commonly acknowledged, but they can be overridden in a range of cases when they conflict with the vital interests of the living, such as in organ donation and wealth inheritance. By contrast, the author contends that the obligation to remember, at least collectively, cannot be completely overridden. In the second part of the book, the author argues that tradition offers the dead a form of modest immortality: the dead live on insofar as we enact those intentional states with which they most identified. He draws on the Confucian view of ritual to argue that ritual absorption reincarnates the dead in the actions of the living. Finally, the author defends a Jamesian account of a pluralistic self that is consistent with the view that we have obligations to the individual dead and that the selves of the dead are pragmatic constructions. Living with the Dead will appeal to scholars and students interested in the philosophy of death, ethics, and cross-cultural philosophy. The Fence and the Neighbor Adam Zachary

Newton, 2012-02-01 The Fence and the Neighbor traces the contours of two thinkers, Emmanuel Levinas and Yeshayahu Leibowitz, who crossed the divide between Talmud and philosophy proper. Adam Zachary Newton shows how the question of nationalism, that has so long haunted Western philosophy, the question of who belongs within its fence and who outside, has long been the concern of Jewish thought and its preoccupation with law, limits, and the place of Israel among the nations. To those unfamiliar with Talmudic thought, Newton shows how deeply its language and concerns shape Levinas. He also offers an introduction to Leibowitz, a conservative religious thinker who was an outspoken gadfly and radically critical voice in the Israeli political scene. Together, their common origin in Jewish Eastern Europe, a common concern with national allegiance, and the common fence of religious Judaism that makes them intellectual neighbors are voiced in penetrating and original

Solomon, 2006 "Dearest Georg": Love, Literature, and Power in Dark Times Veza & Elias Canetti, 2010-02-02 In 1934 Veza Taubner and Elias Canetti were married in Vienna Elias describes the arrangement to his brother Georges as a functional marriage Meanwhile an intense intellectual love affair develops between Veza and Georges a young doctor suffering from tuberculosis Four years later Veza and Elias flee Nazi ruled Vienna to London where they lead an impoverished and extremely complicated marital life in exile Spanning the major part of Elias's struggle for literary recognition from 1933 before the publication of his novel Auto da F to 1959 when he finished his monumental Crowds and Power the Canetti letters provide an intimate look at these formative years through the prism of a veritable love triangle the newly married Elias has a string of lovers his wife Veza is hopelessly in love with an idealized image of his youngest brother Georges and Georges is drawn to good looking men as well as to his motherly sister in law Independently and often secretly the couple communicates with Georges who lives in Paris Veza tells of Elias's amorous escapades and bouts of madness Elias complains about Veza's poor nerves and depression. Each of them worries about Georges's health if she could. Veza would kiss away the germs. Georges is an infrequent correspondent but he diligently stores away the letters from his brother and sister-in-law. In 2003, long after his death, they were accidentally discovered in a Paris basement and comprise not only a moving and insightful document but real literature. The Expulsion of the Other Byung-Chul Han, 2018-01-08. The days of the Other are over in this age of excessive communication, information, and consumption. What used to be the Other, be it as friend as Eros or as hell, is now indistinguishable from the self in our narcissistic desire to assimilate everything and everyone until there are no boundaries left. The result is a terror of the Same, lives in which we no longer pursue knowledge, insight, and experience but are instead reduced to the echo chambers and illusory encounters offered by social media. In extreme cases, this feeling of disorientation and senselessness is compensated through self-harm or even harming others through acts of terrorism. Byung-Chul Han argues that our times are characterized not by external repression but by an internal depression whereby the destructive pressure comes not from the Other but from the self. It is only by returning to a society of listeners and lovers by acknowledging and desiring the Other that we can seek to overcome the isolation and suffering caused by this crushing process of total assimilation. The Legacy of Kafka in Contemporary Austrian Literature Frank Pilipp, 1997.

Trauma and Transcendence Eric Boynton, Peter Capretto, 2018-08-07. Trauma theory has become a burgeoning site of research in recent decades, often demanding interdisciplinary reflections on trauma as a phenomenon that defies disciplinary ownership. While this research has always been challenged by the temporal, affective, and corporeal dimensions of trauma, itself, trauma theory now faces theoretical and methodological obstacles given its growing interdisciplinarity. Trauma and Transcendence gathers scholars in philosophy, theology, psychoanalysis, and social theory to engage the limits and prospects of trauma's transcendence. This volume draws attention to the increasing challenge of deciding whether trauma's unassimilable quality can be wielded as a defense of traumatic experience against reductionism or whether it succumbs to a form of obscurantism. Contributors: Eric Boynton, Peter Capretto, Tina Chanter, Vincenzo Di Nicola, Ronald Eyerman, Donna Orange, Shelly Rambo, Mary Jane Rubenstein, Hilary Jerome Scarsella, Eric Severson, Marcia Mount Shoop, Robert D. Stolorow, George Yancy.
