study of Indian history It engages with both traditional narratives and contemporary critiques encouraging readers to reflect on history as a dynamic and contested field Through detailed analysis and fresh perspectives this work serves as an essential resource for scholars students and anyone interested in understanding the complexities of historical writing in India A significant contribution to the evolving discourse of historiography A Princely Impostor? Partha Chatterjee,2020-09-01 In 1921 a traveling religious man appeared in eastern British Bengal Soon residents began to identify this half naked and ash smeared sannyasi as none other than the Second Kumar of Bhawal a man believed to have died twelve years earlier at the age of twenty six So began one of the most extraordinary legal cases in Indian history The case would rivet popular attention for several decades as it unwound in courts from Dhaka and Calcutta to London This narrative history tells an incredible story replete with courtroom drama sexual debauchery family intrigue and squandered wealth With a novelist's eye for interesting detail Partha Chatterjee sifts through evidence found in official archives popular songs and backstreet Bangladeshi bookshops He evaluates the case of the man claiming with the support of legions of tenants and relatives to be the long lost Kumar And he considers the position of the sannyasi's detractors including the colonial government and the Kumar's young widow who resolutely refused to meet the man she denounced as an impostor Along the way Chatterjee introduces us to a fascinating range of human character gleans insights into the nature of human identity and examines the relation between scientific evidence legal truth and cultural practice The story he tells unfolds alongside decades of Indian history Its plot is shaped by changing gender and class relations and punctuated by critical historical events including the onset of World War II the Bengal famine of 1943 and the Great Calcutta Killings And by identifying the earliest erosion of colonialism and the growth of nationalist thinking within the organs of colonial power Chatterjee also gives us a secret history of Indian nationalism Muslim Societies Sato Tsugitaka,2004-08-02 This volume examines Muslim societies across Europe North Africa Central Asia and South Asia from the eighteenth century to the present providing fresh insight through comparison Movements and populations covered include the nineteenth century North African Samsi movement and its relationships to Sufis and Arabs of the region Soviet and Chinese Central Asia Muslim Hindu relationships in South Asia Muslims in Syria and Muslim immigrants in Europe Developmental and Cultural Nationalisms Radhika Desai,2013-10-18 Premature announcements of the eclipse of nation states under globalization and empire stand exposed as the 21st century's first economic crisis underlines their continuing importance A predominantly cultural study of nationalism was unable to resist the globalization thesis Focusing on selected Asian cases this book argues that nationalisms have always contained political economies as well as cultural politics Placing nation states centrally in our understanding of modern capitalism it challenges the globalization thesis Rather than eclipse nations and nationalisms have undergone changes under the impact of neoliberalism since the 1970s Classical 20th century developmental nationalisms emphasised citizenship economy and future orientations Later cultural nationalisms Asian values Hindutva Confucianism or Nihonjiron stressed identity culture and past orientations Amid neoliberalism's flagrantly unequal political economy not primarily concerned with material production or productivity they glorified static conceptions of original cultures and identities whether religious ethnic or other and justified inequality as cultural difference In contrast to the popular mobilizations which powered developmental nationalisms cultural nationalisms thrive on neoliberalism's disengagement and disenfranchisement albeit partially compensated by the political baptism of newly enriched groups Extremist wings of cultural nationalism in some countries were a function of this lack of popular support This book was published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly The Mughals and the North-East Sajal Nag, 2023-07-17 There is a perception that the region of north east India maintained its splendid isolation and remained outside the reach of the Mughals and did not have a pre colonial past The present book is an attempt to decenter and demolish the said perceptions and asserts that north east India had a medieval past through linkage with the dominant central power in India the Mughals The eastern frontier of this Mughal Empire was constituted by a number of states like Bengal Koch Bihar Assam Manipur Dimas Jaintia Cachar Tripura Khasi confederation Chittagong Lushai and the Nagas Of these some areas like Bengal were an integral part of the Mughal Empire while others like Koch Bihar and Assam were in and out of the empire Tripura Manipur Jaintia and Cachar were frequently overrun by the Mughals whenever the State was short of revenue and withdrew soon without incorporating them in the state Despite not being a formal part of the Mughal Empire the society economy polity and culture of the north east India however had been majorly impacted by the Mughal presence The brief but effective advent of the Mughals had supplanted certain political and revenue institutions in various states It generated trade and commerce which linked it to the rest of India A number of wandering Sufi saints Islamic missionaries imprisoned Mughal soldiers and officers were settled in various states which resulted in a substantial Muslim population growth in the region Besides the population there are numerous Islamic and syncretic institutions cultures and shrines which dot the entire region Immigration of East Bengal Farm Settlers and Agricultural Development of the Assam Valley, 1901-1947 M. Sujaud Doullah, 2003 Agrarian Evolution in a Multiform Structure Society V. G.

Rastyannikov, 2024-12-06 India in the 1950s and 1960s with its diversity of economic structures and different levels of regional development offers a unique opportunity to explore a wide range of agrarian evolution within a multiform society Basing his study on an extensive survey of the existing literature as well as on fieldwork conducted in India the author analyses in his book Agrarian Evolution in a Multiform Structure Society first published in English in 1981 the roots of the Indian society and suggests future directions He argues that India like many Asian countries exhibits tendencies peculiar to an economy evolving on the basis of dependent capitalist development The author goes on to show how the state in seeking to ease the teething problems of development has assumed a decisive role expressed in terms of the nationalisation of certain sectors of private exploitative property and in the supersession of private interests by public ones The historically inevitable progress of Indian society is therefore a paradoxical one because its economy exists on the periphery of its system moulding structure world capitalism it has special problems reconciled only by state intervention this in turn makes the development of a capitalist society impossible The result is a unique study of a society which has assumed increasing importance in world affairs
