Agrarian Change In Egypt An Anatomy Of Rural Poverty:

Agrarian Change in Egypt Samir Radwan, Eddy Lee, 2022-08-30 First published in 1986 Agrarian Change in Egypt based on extensive original research as well as field survey of eighteen villages analyses and explains the changes in the agricultural sector in Egypt It shows how various policies and other factors have affected agricultural output and how developments triggered by the open door policy such as inflation migration and the shift in the pricing system have affected agriculture The Egyptian experience is fairly typical of agrarian change in many parts of the developing world where government reforms in the 1960s and 1970s tried to combine considerations of efficiency and equity but ended up with stagnation The Egyptian case therefore provides a good example of the general crisis in agriculture in the developing world This book is an essential read for scholars and researchers of agricultural economy development studies and political economy

The Political Economy of Rural Poverty M. Riad El-Ghonemy, 2006-05-10 With the use of wide ranging case studies the author clearly illustrates the impact of schemes intended to re allocate land in developing countries Concluding that land reform can play a major part in stimulating rural economies this book explores the extent to which such policies can successfully reduce poverty and increase agricultural growth

Poverty in Developing Countries World Employment Programme, 1992 Topics include agricultural development basic needs development strategy and planning economic development and policy employment food production housing needs income distribution and industrialization Indexes are divided by references authors corporate authors subject and geographical aspects

Directions of Change in Rural Egypt Nicholas S. Hopkins, Kirsten Westergaard, 1998 What emerges is a picture of a rural Egypt that is full of life dramatically evolving and treading a delicate line between progress and impoverishment

Inside Inequality in the Arab Republic of Egypt Paolo Verme, Branko Milanovic, Sherine Al-Shawarby, Sahar El Tawila, May Gadallah, Enas Ali A.El-Majeed, 2014-04-16 This book joins four papers prepared in the framework of the Egypt inequality study financed by the

World Bank The first paper prepared by Sherine Al Shawarby reviews the studies on inequality in Egypt since the 1950s with the double objective of illustrating the importance attributed to inequality through time and of presenting and compare the main published statistics on inequality To our knowledge this is the first time that such a comprehensive review is carried The second paper prepared by Branko Milanovic turns to the global and spatial dimensions of inequality The objective here is to put Egypt inequality in the global context and better understand the origin and size of spatial inequalities within Egypt using different forms of measurement across regions and urban and rural areas The Egyptian society remains deeply divided across space and in terms of welfare and this study unveils some of the hidden features of this inequality The third paper prepared by Paolo Verme studies facts and perceptions of inequality during the period 2000 2009 the period that preceded the Egyptian revolution The objective of this part is to provide some initial elements that could explain the apparent mismatch between inequality measured with household surveys and inequality aversion measured by values surveys No such study has been carried out before in the Middle East and North Africa MENA region and this seemed a particular important and timely topic to address in the light of the unfolding developments in the Arab region The fourth paper prepared by Sahar El Tawila May Gadallah and Enas Ali A El Majeed assesses the state of poverty and inequality among the poorest villages of Egypt The paper attempts to explain the level of inequality in an effort to disentangle those factors that derive from household abilities from those factors that derive from local opportunities This is the first time that such study is conducted in Egypt The book should be of interest to any observer of the political and economic evolution of the Arab region in the past few years and to poverty and inequality specialists that wish to have a deeper understanding of the distribution of incomes in Egypt and other countries in the MENA region

The Politics of Egypt Ninette S. Fahmy, 2012-10-12 This book addresses two important matters of current concern to Middle East scholars firstly the nature of the Egyptian state and society and the interactive process between them and secondly how change which would finally lead to development can be initiated The book argues that the Egyptian case represents a weak authoritarian state which through its coercive and repressive policies towards various societal forces political parties professional associations and organisations and individuals creates a weak society Individual behaviour in urban and rural communities sometimes viewed as signs of the strength of societal forces is seen here as a symptom of a weak and fragmented society The existence of a weak society in turn impedes government objectives and hinders the implementation of developmental policies and programmes further weakening the state This being the case change has to be initiated externally in both the political and economic spheres

Anti-Poverty Land Reform Issues Never Die M. Riad El-Ghonemy, 2009-12-16 What can we do to unlock the unrealised potential of the hundreds of millions of rural poor and landless workers The ever topical central theme in this collection of essays is the mixed role of government and the institutionally regulated market in tackling rural poverty and land distribution inequality Drawing on over half a century of M Riad El Ghonemy's academic and field experience in developing countries across Africa Latin America the Middle East and South East Asia this is a comprehensive record of the late twentieth century study of and struggle against rural inequality seen through the eyes of one of its foremost observers Containing a balance of in depth field studies and El Ghonemy s personal observations from 1952 onwards this volume provides the basis for discussion and debate on a range of developmental issues Foremost among these is the appropriate approach both to explain the factors underlying developing countries rural backwardness and to enable them to achieve the Millennium Development Goal of halving the incidence of poverty and hunger by 2015 The compelling argument made here is that redistributive land reform combined with non farm intensive employment opportunities and investment in education within rural areas are necessary to tackle persistent poverty effectively Anti Poverty Land Reform Issues Never Die is essential reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students learning rural development and institutional and development economics M Riad El Ghonemy is Senior Research Associate at the Department of International Development University of Oxford and Research Fellow at the Department of Economics the American University in Cairo and Emeritus Professor Ein Shams University Cairo He is the author of several publications including The Political Economy of Rural Poverty Routledge 1990

Field of Reeds James B. Mayfield, 2012-11-14 Have you ever wondered 1 Who built the Pyramids of Egypt and who are their descendents today 2 Why does the author challenge the great Greek historian Herodotus by auguring that Egypt is more a gift from the Fellahin than a gift of the Nile 3 What great event happened in the early 1960s that completely changed the life of the peasants of Egypt 4 Why did the peasants fellahin of Egypt not engage in a massive revolt in the 1990s when the Government allowed landowners to reclaim their land that the peasants had been cultivating for over 30 years 5 Do you know the story of the village of Dinshaway that precipitated a national crisis and that eventually forced Great Britain to leave Egypt after over fifty years of colonial rule 6 Are the villagers of Egypt prone to violence or to submissiveness and what does that tell us about the future of Egypt 7 Which farmers in the world have the highest yields in wheat rice and corn 8 Are the villagers of Egypt favorable to the Islamic extremist or more favorable to some form of democracy based upon moderate Islam 9 Where do villagers say they want to live if they could live any place in the world 10 Why did a friend email the author on September 12 2012 and tell him Please tell the American people that the Egyptians they see storming the American embassy do not represent the people of Egypt They are mostly a misguided minority of people who see the world through clouded glasses of hatred and bigotry provoked and misinformed by extremists who share an agenda that is unIslamic violent and destructive for Egypts future Dr James Mayfield professor of Middle East Studies since 1967 has been studying the villages of Egypt as a student professor researcher trainer manager and consultant for over 40 years This is a very comprehensive multi disciplinary study of the rural Egypt This book presents chapters on the history the culture the local government system village schools and health care systems the agricultural systems causes and solutions for extreme poverty the challenge of establishing a civil society in Egypt and what prospects there are for democracy in Egypt Each chapter includes a short narration story that brings the existence and culture of the Egyptian villagers to life through short but rich examples of how the Egyptian peasants fellahin live work and survive in a world filled with challenges problems but also opportunities and hope for the future Land,

Kay, 2007-01-24 Here internationally renowned scholars explore the structural causes of rural poverty income inequality and the processes of social exclusion and political subordination across Africa Asia and Latin America Market-Led Agrarian Reform Saturnino Borras Jr., Cristóbal Kay, Edward Lahiff, 2013-09-13 Three fourths of the world's poor are rural poor Most of the rural poor remain dependent on land based livelihoods for their incomes and reproduction despite significant livelihood diversification in recent years Land issue remains critical to any development discourse today Market led agrarian reform MLAR has gained prominence since the early 1990s as an alternative to state led land reforms This neoliberal policy is based on the inversion of what its proponents see as the features of earlier approaches and calls for redistribution via privatized decentralized transactions between willing sellers and willing buyers Its proponents especially those associated with the World Bank have claimed success where the policy has been implemented but such claims have been contested by independent scholars as well as by peasant movements who are struggling to gain access to land This book presents three thematic papers and six country studies The thematic papers address issues of formalisation of property rights gendered land rights and neoliberal enclosure These studies demonstrate the pervasive influence of neoliberal ideas on property rights and rural development debates well beyond the core question of land redistribution The country cases bring together experiences from Brazil Guatemala El Salvador Philippines South Africa and Egypt Common findings include the success of landowners in minimising the impact of reform and a lack of post transfer support translating into marginal impact on poverty The limitations of the market led approach and the implications of the studies presented here for the future of agrarian reform are considered in the editors introduction This book was a special issue of The Third World Quarterly The Incidence of

Experts Timothy Mitchell, 2002-11-18 Can one explain the power of global capitalism without attributing to capital a logic and coherence it does not have Can one account for the powers of techno science in terms that do not merely reproduce its own understanding of the world Rule of Experts examines these questions through a series of interrelated essays focused on Egypt in the twentieth century These explore the way malaria sugar cane war and nationalism interacted to produce the techno politics of the modern Egyptian state the forms of debt discipline and violence that founded the institution of private property the methods of measurement circulation and exchange that produced the novel idea of a national economy yet made its accurate representation impossible the stereotypes and plagiarisms that created the scholarly image of the Egyptian peasant and the interaction of social logics horticultural imperatives powers of desire and political forces that turned programs of economic reform in unanticipated directions Mitchell is a widely known political theorist and one of the most innovative writers on the Middle East He provides a rich examination of the forms of reason power and expertise that characterize contemporary politics Together these intellectually provocative essays will challenge a broad spectrum of readers to think harder more critically and more politically about history power and theory     The Middle East Peter Beaumont,G.H. Blake,J. Malcolm Wagstaff,2016-04-14 This book first published in 1976 and in this second edition in 1988 combines an examination of the political cultural and economic geography of the Middle East with a detailed study of the region s landscape features natural resources environmental conditions and ecological evolution The Middle East with its extremes of climate and terrain has long fascinated those interested in the fine balance between man and his environment and now its economic and political importance in world affairs has brought the region to the attention of everybody

Francis,2023-07-26 Originally published in 1994 this book examines the importance of family agricultural systems in both the developed and the developing worlds Throughout the world and throughout history the family unit has been at the heart of agricultural systems Working together families not only furnish their own needs but form the basis for society itself they provide the labour population resources and the market to maintain much of the world s economic and social development But the global race for financial prosperity with its large scale intensive farming techniques is increasingly undermining the family s role in food production and social cohesion This book explores both traditional and modern farming techniques and looks at their different consequences for national agricultural resources and for rural societies Finally it suggests ways in which technology can be harnessed to meet the needs of the family rather than undermine it in order to achieve a viable and sustainable agriculture for the future     Inside the Third World Village Petra Weyland,2002-11 First Published in 2004 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company
