Agricultural Policy And Us Taiwan Trade:

Agricultural Policy and U.S.-Taiwan Trade David Gale Johnson, Chi-ming Hou, 1993 This book critiques U S and Taiwanese policies that inhibit trade on their agricultural products Agricultural Trade with the People's Republic of China and Taiwan United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry. Subcommittee on Foreign Agricultural Policy, 1979 U.S.-Taiwan Economic Relations United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs. Subcommittee on Economic Policy, Trade, and Environment, 1994 Political Economy of U.S. - Taiwan Trade Robert E. Baldwin, Tain-Jy Chen, Douglas Nelson, 2025-10-01 Two key features of the remarkable economic growth in the newly industrializing countries of East Asia over the last quarter of a century are the role of exports of manufactured goods as the engine of this growth and the importance of the United States as a market for these exports Political Economy of U S Taiwan Trade analyzes the nature of the political and economic interactions both domestic and international which evolved between Taiwan and the United States in a manner that has enabled this growth to occur In analyzing the various cooperative and conflicting trade policies pursued by the two countries over the last fifty years the authors utilize a broad political economy framework They first describe the nature and evolution of trade between Taiwan and the United States and discuss the major economic and political groups and institutions that shape trade policies in the two countries In doing so the role that trade has played both in Taiwan s development policies and in the international economic and political policies of the United States in the post World War II period is analyzed The various restrictions imposed by each country on the other s exports are examined and the efforts to reduce these trade barriers are then discussed in detail Particular attention is given to the series of bilateral negotiations in which the United States has used its dominant economic and political power to force Taiwan to open a number of its internal markets The book will be of interest to both economists and political scientists specializing in international economics and international political relations Area specialists focusing on the Far East will also find the book helpful Robert E Baldwin is Hildale Professor of Economics University of Wisconsin Tain Jy Chen is Research Fellow Chung Hua Institution for Economic Research Douglas Nelson is Associate Professor of Economics Tulane University This title was formally part of the Studies in International Trade Policy Series now called Studies in International Economics

Agriculture and Economic Development in East Asia Joanna Boestel, Penelope Francks, Choo Hyop Kim, 2013-01-11 A comparative study which describes and analyses the contribution of agriculture to the economies of East Asia Until now little attention has been paid to the agricultural sector which actually underpins industrial and commercial development Recently this sector has become the focus of increasingly bitter economic disputes especially over protection and the use of import tariffs A comparative framework is used employing case studies from Japan Taiwan and South Korea to highlight both the common characteristics of agriculture s role in East Asian development and features particular to the political economy of agriculture in each country Global Review of Agricultural Policies , 1994 Bibliography of Agriculture with Subject

Index ,1993-11 Social Forces in the Re-Making of Cross-Strait Relations André Beckershoff,2023-08-11 Adopting a critical political economy perspective this book sheds new light on the social and political struggles that shaped the political dynamics of Taiwan China relations and cross Strait rapprochement between 2008 and 2014 Presenting a careful analysis of primary sources and interviews the book reconstructs the historical political and socio economic factors that shaped Taiwan s path to the Sunflower Movement of 2014 reinterpreting this process as a struggle over Taiwan s role in the global economy It challenges received wisdoms regarding the rise and fall of the rapprochement First the study argues that the rapprochement was not primarily driven by political elites but by capitalist conglomerates within Taiwan which sought a normalisation of economic relations across the Taiwan Strait Second it finds that Taiwan s social movements during that period were not homogeneous but rather struggled to find a common vision that could unite the critics of the rapprochement The insights provided not only offer a deeper understanding of Taiwan s protest cycle between 2008 and 2014 but also serve to recontextualise the political dynamics in post Sunflower Taiwan As such it will appeal to students and scholars of Taiwan Studies East Asian Politics and Social Movement Studies Review of International Trade Negotiations Affecting U.S. Agricultural Policy Under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) United States.
