Philip N. Owens, A. J. Collins

Agriculture And The Environment Minerals Manure And Measures:

Agriculture and the Environment F.B. de Walle,J. Sevenster,1998-03-31 The book describes the excess supply of nutrients and manure to agricultural lands and the resulting problems of groundwater contamination and surface water eutrophication It reviews these practices in the main EU countries and in North America and proposes a new sustainable approach for dealing with this environmental deterioration Agriculture and the Environment F B De Walle,J Sevenster,1998-03-31

Agriculture and the Environment F.B. de Walle,J. Sevenster,2012-12-06 In this study an overview is presented of agricultural policies on manure and minerals relating to the Nitrate Directive to remedy excessive surface and groundwater contamination from intensive agricultural practices Six countries belonging to the European Union were studied the Netherlands Belgium Denmark France Germany and the United Kingdom The policies and their legal incorporation were related to agricultural and environmental conditions in each country In addition an inventory was made of agricultural mineral poli cies in the United States and Canada Conditions for livestock farming in North America differ considerably from those in Europe but their solutions shed a different light on European policies Research has shown that there are still very considerable mineral surpluses in many countries and regions In both the Netherlands and in the Flemish part of Belgium existing problems due to very high levels of manure production are structural rather than local and cannot easily be solved by transport of manure to other regions To a lesser extent Germany Denmark and relatively small parts of France Brittany and the United Kingdom still exceed the norms for an equilibrium fertilization In Denmark existing problems can probably be solved within the existing legislative framework The Netherlands Flanders several German Lander Nordrhein Westfalen and Schleswig Holstein and Brittany Agricultural Effects on Ground and Surface Waters J. H. A. M. Steenvoorden,Frans Claessen,Jaap Willems,2002

Sustainable Animal Agriculture Ermias Kebreab,2013-12-13 In order to meet increasing global demand for meat and animal by products increasingly intensive animal production is necessary Creating a sustainable system in animal agriculture that works in different production environments is a major challenge for animal scientists This book draws together themes on sustainability that have emerged as the most pressing in recent years Addressing practical topics such as air quality manure management animal feeds production efficiency environmental sustainability biotechnology issues animal welfare concerns societal impacts and an analysis of the data used to assess the economic sustainability of farms Tradeable Permits Policy Evaluation, Design and Reform OECD,2004-05-11 This publication offers valuable lessons for applying tradeable permits and provides links between policy evaluation and policy making general

Soil Erosion and Sediment Redistribution in River Catchments Philip N. Owens,A. J. Collins,2006 This book reviews the major achievements recently made in soil erosion and sediment redistribution research and management and identifies future requirements The book presents work from key players in river basin soil erosion and sediment redistribution from sources to sinks field to riverbank from academia to policy and industry It examines the developments made in three themes measurement modelling and management and covers a variety of scales in both time and space and geographical locations Genetic Engineering, Biofertilisation, Soil Quality and Organic Farming Eric Lichtfouse, 2010-06-14 Sustainable agriculture is a rapidly growing field aiming at producing food and energy in a sustainable way for humans and their children Sustainable agriculture is a discipline that addresses current issues such as climate change increasing food and fuel prices poor nation starvation rich nation obesity water pollution soil erosion fertility loss pest control and biodiversity depletion Novel environmentally friendly solutions are proposed based on integrated knowledge from sciences as diverse as agronomy soil science molecular biology chemistry toxicology ecology economy and social sciences Indeed sustainable agriculture decipher mechanisms of processes that occur from the molecular level to the farming system to the global level at time scales ranging from seconds to centuries For that scientists use the system approach that involves studying components and interactions of a whole system to address scientific economic and social issues In that respect sustainable agriculture is not a classical narrow science Instead of solving problems using the classical painkiller approach that treats only negative impacts sustainable agriculture treats problem sources Because most actual society issues are now intertwined global and fast developing sustainable agriculture will bring solutions to build a safer world This book series gathers review articles that analyze current agricultural issues and knowledge then propose alternative solutions It will therefore help all scientists decision makers professors farmers and politicians who wish to build a safe agriculture energy and food system for future generations Sustainable Agriculture and Environment Andrew K. Dragun, Clement Allan Tisdell, 1999 This is an exploration of the proposition that globalisation and trade liberalisation is an international win win game However it finds evidence to suggest that there could be agricultural problems and negative impacts on rural communities and the environment in poorer countries Nitrogen, the Confer-N-s K. van der Hoek, J. Willem Erisman, S. Smeulders, John Robert Wisniewski, 2012-12-02 The First International Nitrogen Conference provided an opportunity for researchers and decision makers to exchange information on environmental pollution by nitrogen compounds on three scales global continental regional and local The main topics were air ground water and surface water pollution emission sources atmospheric chemistry deposition processes and effects disturbance of nitrogen cycles critical loads and levels assessments policy development and evaluation target groups and abatement techniques and new approaches leading to an integrated abatement strategy The peer reviewed papers from the Conference presented in this volume will provide readers with a comprehensive review of the transport deposition and impact on ecosystems of nitrogen OECD Environmental Performance Reviews: Netherlands 2003 OECD, 2003-06-02 This review of the Netherlands environmental conditions and policies evaluates progress in reducing the pollution burden improving natural resource management integrating environmental and economic policies and strengthening international co operation Accounting for Nutrients: a Challenge for Grassland Farmers in the 21st Century British Grassland Society.
