A Study of the Lack of Hiv/Aids Awareness Among African American Women: a Leadership Perspective Betty L. Ragsdale - Hearn,2012-09 I wrote this dissertation for the School of Advanced Studies at University of Phoenix Arizona in 2011 To do the research for the dissertation I spent quite a bit of time at the Center of Disease Control and Prevention archives as a graduate student I also interviewed medical doctors and others who knew about the subject matter Since I wrote this dissertation there has been more research published that I will continue to research and add to my archival collection The issues of this dissertation were discussed as the emergent theoretical model and its components which included implications of research practice stigma burden advocacy and awareness Leadership education and community resources were the dominant themes that emerged in the study The study findings imply an increased need for leaders to present public awareness about the affects HIV AIDS has on the African American community Future research should consider the explicit nature of the answers which benefited the study The information would be helpful while improving the quality of life available for African American women and would enable leaders to interact with a leadership perspective USAID 2009 Zero Tolerance to HIV Infection Prof. (Dr) Vikas Bhatia,Dr. Swayam Pragyan Parida ,Dr. Babita

Raghuwanshi, Dr. Saubhagya Kumar Jena, Mrs. Dharitri Swain, Globally an estimated 34 million people have HIV. More than 35 million people have died from the virus making it one of the most destructive pandemics in history. Today many scientific advances have been made in HIV treatment; there are laws to protect people living with HIV and we understand so much more about the condition. But despite this, people do not know the facts about how to protect themselves and others from HIV and stigma and discrimination remain a reality for many people living with HIV. The idea for this book grew out of a institutional consultation by various departments under the patron ship of the director. Each chapter provides trenchant and provocative yet always balanced and complete discussions of the central issues in a given topic. Every Very Short Introduction gives a readable evolution of the subject in question demonstrating how it has developed. Whatever the area of HIV/AIDS related study, each topic will fascinate the reader. The book is a handy and affordable guide that will likely prove indispensable.
