Aids Crisis A Documentary History:

The AIDS Crisis Douglas A. Feldman, Julia Miller, 1998-06-25 AIDS has grown in just two decades from a rare disease to one that has already killed millions of men women and children worldwide To help high school and college students understand the history and current status of AIDS as a social political psychological public health and cultural phenomenon this documentary history provides 228 short and highly readable selections from primary and secondary sources of information about AIDS and HIV Its scope covers the entire history of the epidemic from its beginnings to early 1997 The documents many of which cannot easily be found elsewhere will help the reader to understand and debate the many perspectives and points of view on this controversial topic Douglas A Feldman one of the country s leading specialists in international and domestic AIDS social research and Julia Wang Miller a research consultant have selected documents and provided explanatory introductions to them to help readers gain a deeper understanding of the sociocultural ramifications of AIDS Following a narrative historical overview of the AIDS crisis the work is organized into nine topical chapters the history of HIV AIDS the impact of the epidemic in the United States and globally HIV AIDS within communities and populations AIDS in the developing world the human side of AIDS the politics of AIDS education and behavioral change legal and ethical issues and the future of AIDS Each chapter contains an introductory narrative overview of the topic brief explanatory introduction to each document and list of suggested readings A glossary of terms and an AIDS resource directory of organizations to contact for further information complete the work This important documentary history belongs on the shelves of every public school and college and university library

The AIDS Crisis Douglas A. Feldman, Julia Wang Miller, 1998 Chronicles the history of the HIV and AIDS viruses and discusses their impact on the world Encyclopedia of Anthropology H. James Birx, 2006 Focuses on physical social and applied anthropology archaeology linguistics and symbolic communication Topics include hominid evolution primate behaviour genetics ancient civilizations cross cultural studies and social theories No Magic Bullet Allan M. Brandt, 2020 The epidemic of AIDS and herpes virus has called into question not only the ability of the medical profession to treat venereal disease but also its willingness to do so No Magic Bullet a perceptive analysis of the treatment of venereal diseases since the 1880s places these questions in critical historical perspective Beginning with Victorian hysteria about syphilis and continuing to contemporary treatment of AIDS Allan Brandt recounts the various medical military and public health responses to venereal diseases that have arisen over the years Brandt demonstrates that Americans tendency to view sexually transmitted disease as both a punishment for sexual misconduct and an index of social decay has seriously impeded efforts to develop magic bullets the miracle drugs that would effectively halt the spread of infection For this 35th Anniversary Edition Brandt reflects on recent scholarship the persistence of sexually transmitted diseases and the trajectory of the HIV epidemic as they have informed contemporary conceptions of biomedicine and global health Patient Zero and the Making of the AIDS Epidemic Richard A. McKay, 2017-11-22 Now an award winning documentary feature film The Search for a Patient Zero popularly understood to be the first person infected in an epidemic has been key to media coverage of major infectious disease outbreaks for more than three decades Yet the term itself did not exist before the emergence of the HIV AIDS epidemic in the 1980s How did this idea so swiftly come to exert such a strong grip on the scientific media and popular consciousness In Patient Zero Richard A McKay interprets a wealth of archival sources and interviews to demonstrate how this seemingly new concept drew upon centuries old ideas and fears about contagion and social disorder McKay presents a carefully documented and sensitively written account of the life of Ga tan Dugas a gay man whose skin cancer diagnosis in 1980 took on very different meanings as the HIV AIDS epidemic developed and who received widespread posthumous infamy when he was incorrectly identified as patient zero of the North American outbreak McKay shows how investigators from the US Centers for Disease Control inadvertently created the term amid their early research into the emerging health crisis how an ambitious journalist dramatically amplified the idea in his determination to reframe national debates about AIDS and how many individuals grappled with the notion of patient zero adopting challenging and redirecting its powerful meanings as they tried to make sense of and respond to the first fifteen years of an unfolding epidemic With important insights for our interconnected age Patient Zero untangles the complex process by which individuals and groups create meaning and allocate blame when faced with new disease threats What McKay gives us here is myth smashing revisionist history at its best

By examining the early outbreaks in San Francisco Cochrane unfolds the creation of AIDS in one geographic location and then traces how and why major claims about the transmission of HIV were made extrapolated and then disseminated to the rest of the world all important factors in understanding this disease

American Masculinities in Contemporary

Documentary Film Sara Martín, 2023-05-24 Most documentaries deal with men but what do they actually say about masculinity In this groundbreaking volume Sara Martín analyses more than forty 21st century documentaries to explore how they represent American men and masculinity From Jennifer Siebel Newsom's The Mask You Live In to Raoul Peck's I Am Not Your Negro this volume explores sixteen different faces of American masculinity the good man the activist the politician the whistleblower the criminal the sexual abuser the wrongly accused the dependent man the soldier the capitalist the adventurer the sportsman the architect the photographer the musician and the writer The collective portrait drawn by the documentaries discloses a firm critical stance against the contradictions inherent in patriarchy which makes American men promises of empowerment it cannot fulfill The filmmakers view of American masculinity emphasizes the vulnerability of disempowered men before the abuses of the patriarchal system run by hegemonic men and a loss of bearings about how to be a man after the impact of feminism accompanied nonetheless by a celebration of resilient masculinity and of the good American man Firmly positioning documentaries as an immensely flexible relevant tool to understand 21st century American men and masculinity their past present and future this book will interest students and scholars of film studies documentary film American cultural studies gender and masculinity AIDS Crisis in America Mary Ellen Hombs, 1992 Gender, Health, and Popular Culture Cheryl Krasnick Warsh, 2011-07-07 Health is a gendered concept in Western cultures Customarily it is associated with strength in men and beauty in women This gendered concept was transmitted through visual representations of the ideal female and male bodies and ubiquitous media images resulted in the absorption of universal standards of beauty and health and generalized desires to achieve them Today genuine or self styled experts from physicians to newspaper columnists to advertisers offer advice on achieving optimal health Topics in this collection are wide ranging and include childbirth advice in Victorian Australia and Cold War America menstruation films Canadian abortion tourism the Pap smear the Body Worlds exhibition and fat liberation Masculinity is explored among drunkards in antebellum Philadelphia and family memoirs during the 1980s AIDS epidemic Seemingly objective public health advisories are shown to be as influenced by commercial interests class gender and other social differentiations as marketing approaches are and the message presented is mediated to varying degrees by those receiving it This book will be of interest to scholars in women s studies health studies marketing media studies social history and anthropology and popular culture Documentary Resistance Angela J. Aguayo, 2019 Documentary Resistance Social Change and Participatory Media offers a new approach to understanding the networked capacity of documentary media to create public commons areas crafting connections between unlikely interlocutors In this process communities invest in the exchange of documentary moving image discourse around politics and social change This book advances a new argument suggesting that documentary s capacity for social change is found in its ability to establish forms of collective identification and political agency capable of producing and sustaining activist media cultures It advances the creation of a conceptual theoretical and historical space in which documentary and social change can be examined drawing upon research in cinema media and communication studies as well as cultural theory to explore how political ideas move into participatory action This book takes a distinctive approach understanding how struggles for social justice are located reflected and represented on the documentary screen but also in pre and post production processes To address this living history this project includes over sixty unpublished field interviews with documentary filmmakers critics funders activists and distributors AIDS Narratives Steven F. Kruger, 2013-10-28 This is the first book length study of the rich fiction that has emerged from the AIDS crisis Examining first the ways in which scientific discourse on AIDS has reflected ideologies of gender and sexuality such as the construction of AIDS as a disease of gay men part of a battle over masculinity and thus largely excluding women with AIDS from public attention the book considers how such discourses have shaped narrative understandings of AIDS On the one hand AIDS is seen as an invariably fatal weakening of an individual s bodily defenses a depiction often used to reconfirm an identification between disease and a weak and vulnerable gayness On the other hand AIDS is understood in terms of an epidemic attributable to gay immorality or unnaturalness The fiction of AIDS depends upon these two narratives with one major subgenre of AIDS novel presenting narratives of personal illness decline and death and a second focusing on epidemic spread These novels also question the narrative structures upon which they depend intervening particularly against the homophobia of those structures though also sometimes reinforcing it

A Visual History of HIV/AIDS Elisabet Björklund, Mariah Larsson, 2018-07-04 The Face of AIDS film archive at Karolinska Institutet Sweden consists of more than 700 hours of unedited and edited footage shot over a period of more than thirty years and all over the world by filmmaker and journalist Staffan Hildebrand The material documents the HIV AIDS pandemic and includes scenes from conferences and rallies and interviews with activists physicians people with the infection and researchers It represents a global historical development from the early years of the AIDS crisis to a situation in which it is possible to live a normal life with the HIV virus This volume brings together a range of academic perspectives from media and film studies medical history gender studies history and cultural studies to bear on the archive shedding light on memories discourses trauma and activism Using a medical humanities framework the editors explore the influence of historical representations of HIV AIDS and stigma in a world where antiretroviral treatment has fundamentally altered the conditions under which many people diagnosed with HIV live Organized into four sections this book begins by introducing the archive and its role setting it in a global context The first part looks at methodological legal and ethical issues around archiving memories of the present which are then used to construct histories of the past something that can be particularly controversial when dealing with a socially stigmatized epidemic such as HIV AIDS The second section is devoted to analyses of particular films from the archive looking at the portrayal of people living with HIV AIDS the narrative of HIV as a chronic illness and the contemporary context of particular films The third section looks at how stigma and trauma are negotiated in the material in the Face of AIDS film archive discussing ideas about suffering and culpability The final section contributes perspectives on and by the filmmaker as activist and auteur This interdisciplinary collection is placed at the intersection of medical humanities sexuality studies and film and media studies continuing a tradition of studies on the cultural and social understandings of HIV AIDS

HIV Survivors in Sydney Cheryl Ware, 2019-04-12 Inner city Sydney was the epicenter of gay life in the Southern hemisphere in the 1970s and early 1980s Gay men moved from across Australasia to find liberation in the city's vibrant community networks and when HIV and AIDS devastated those networks they grieved suffered and survived in ways that have often been left out of the historical record This book excavates the intimate lives and memories of HIV positive gay men in Sydney focusing on the critical years between 1982 and 1996 when HIV went from being a terrifying unidentified disease to a chronic condition that could be managed with antiretroviral medication Using oral histories and archival research Cheryl Ware offers a sensitive moving exploration of how HIV positive gay men navigated issues around disclosure health sex grief death and survival HIV Survivors in Sydney reveals how gay men dealt with the virus both within and outside of support networks and how they remember these experiences nearly three decades later
