The Art of Return James Meyer, 2019-09-11 More than any other decade the sixties capture our collective cultural imagination And while many Americans can immediately imagine the sound of Martin Luther King Jr

declaring I have a dream or envision hippies placing flowers in gun barrels the revolutionary sixties resonates around the world China's communist government inaugurated a new cultural era African nations won independence from colonial rule and students across Europe took to the streets calling for an end to capitalism imperialism and the Vietnam War In this innovative work James Meyer turns to art criticism theory memoir and fiction to examine the fascination with the long sixties and contemporary expressions of these cultural memories across the globe Meyer draws on a diverse range of cultural objects that reimagine this revolutionary era stretching from the 1950s to the 1970s including reenactments of civil rights antiwar and feminist marches paintings sculptures photographs novels and films Many of these works were created by artists and writers born during the long Sixties who were driven to understand a monumental era that they missed These cases show us that the past becomes significant only in relation to our present and our remembered history never perfectly replicates time past This Meyer argues is precisely what makes our contemporary attachment to the past so important it provides us a critical opportunity to examine our own relationship to history memory and nostalgia

Strike Art Yates McKee, 2016-02-23 What is the relation of art to the practice of radical politics today Strike Art explores this question through the historical lens of Occupy an event that had artists at its core Precarious indebted and radicalized artists redirected their creativity from servicing the artworld into an expanded field of organizing in order to construct of a new if internally fraught political imaginary set off against the common enemy of the 1% In the process they called the bluff of a contemporary art system torn between ideals of radical critique on the one hand and an increasing proximity to Wall Street on the other oftentimes directly targeting major art institutions themselves as sites of action Tracking the work of groups including MTL Not an Alternative the Illuminator the Rolling Jubilee and G U L F Strike Art shows how Occupy ushered in a new era of artistically oriented direct action that continues to ramify far beyond the initial act of occupation itself into ongoing struggles surrounding labor debt and climate justice concluding with a consideration of the overlaps between such work and the aesthetic practices of the Black Lives Matter movement Art after Occupy McKee suggests contains great potentials of imagination and action for a renewed left project that are still only beginning to ripen at once shaking up and taking flight from the art system as we know it

Deleuzian Critique of Queer Thought Nir Kedem, 2024-03-05 Holding queer theory to its promise to revolutionise our ways of thinking, Nir Kedem offers a forceful encounter between Deleuze's work and contemporary queer thought to provide both critical and practical means to re-evaluate and rework key concepts and methods, especially sexuality. Kedem provides a new pragmatic approach to working with Deleuze across multiple disciplines, a rigorous demonstration of its critical and creative power, as well as extensive analysis of the relations between Deleuze and queer thought. All of which exemplify that, despite if not owing to the unassuming role of sexuality in his thought, Deleuze proves to be queer thought's true ally.

Nancy Holt Alena J. Williams, Pamela M. Lee, 2015-07-21 Newly available in paperback, this landmark volume is the definitive study of the work of visionary American artist Nancy Holt (1938–2014). Since the late 1960s, Holt's wide-ranging production has included Land art, particularly the monumental Sun Tunnels (1973–76), as well as significant projects in sculpture, installation, photography, film, and video. A comprehensive representation of Holt's working process in both word and image, Alena J. Williams's momentous publication illuminates the artist's interest in physical space and reveals how the geographic variety and boundlessness of the American landscape afforded her numerous opportunities to develop large-scale projects beyond the confines of New York City's gallery walls. Contributions by a distinguished group of writers, including Pamela M. Lee, Lucy R. Lippard, Ines Schaber, and Matthew Coolidge, chart Holt's fascinating trajectory from her initial experiments with sound, light, and industrial materials to major site interventions and environmental sculpture. James Meyer's valuable interview with Holt and Julia Alderson's illustrated chronology expand our knowledge of this groundbreaking artist and the crucial contexts in which she worked. More than twenty original writings by the artist and a rare selection of her concrete poetry, documentary photographs, and preparatory drawings reveal Holt's revolutionary concepts of space, time, optics, and scale.

A Companion to Contemporary Art Since 1945 Amelia Jones, 2009-02-09 A Companion to Contemporary Art is a major survey covering the major works and movements, the most important theoretical developments, and the historical, social, political, and aesthetic issues in contemporary art since 1945, primarily in the Euro-American context. Collects 27 original essays by expert scholars describing the current state of scholarship in art history and visual studies and pointing to future directions in the field. Contains dual chronological and thematic coverage of the major themes in the art of our time: politics, culture wars, public space, diaspora, the artist, identity, politics, the body, and visual culture. Offers synthetic analysis as well as new approaches to debates central to the visual arts since 1945, such as those addressing formalism, the avant-garde, the role of the artist, technology and art, and the society of the spectacle.

Lateness and Longing George Baker, 2023-05-23 How a generation of women artists is transforming photography with analogue techniques. Beginning in the 1990s a series of major artists imagined the expansion of photography intensifying its ideas and effects while abandoning many of its former medium constraints Simultaneous with this development in contemporary art however photography was moving toward total digitalization Lateness and Longing presents the first account of a generation of artists focused on the work of Zoe Leonard Tacita Dean Sharon Lockhart and Moyra Davey who have collectively transformed the practice of photography using analogue technologies in a dissident way and radicalizing signifiers of older models of feminist art All these artists have resisted the transition to the digital in their work Instead in what amounts to a series of feminist polemics they return to earlier incomplete or unrealized moments in photography's history gravitating toward the analogue basis of photographic mediums Their work announces that photography has become not obsolete but late opened up by the potentially critical forces of anachronism Through a strategy of return of refusing to let go the work of these artists proposes an afterlife and survival of the photographic in contemporary art a formal lateness wherein photography finds its way forward through resistance to the contemporary itself
