engages with the idea of decentralization as empowering cities and their residents to act innovatively and creatively The contributions thus highlight how the term empowerment in the context of decentralization regimes masks a competing array of intentions and agendas Who and what are empowered given a voice and allowed to participate via the processes and structures of decentralization and to what ends are too frequently assumed in normative conversations about bringing government closer to the people and community driven development Creating an illusion of a shared language and common set of priorities therefore obscures more complex realities particularly when there is a disconnect between the official goals of decentralization and civil society aspirations that reinforces politics of exclusion at the grassroots Equally official processes of decentralization can and often are accompanied by less visible processes of recentralization through the reassertion of central state control over putatively autonomous jurisdictions Through studies in six Asian countries India the Philippines Indonesia Bangladesh Thailand and Japan the essays in this book examine cases whereby a range of urban actors and institutions have been empowered via decentralization and how this realignment of local power relations impacts upon the dynamics of urban governance albeit not always in socially progressive ways This book was published as a special issue of Space and Polity Decision and Deliberation David Clune,Gareth Griffith,2006 This book is an authoritative history of the NSW Parliament from its establishment in 1856 to 2003 It gives comprehensive accounts of both the Legislative Assembly and the Legislative Council including analyses of their performance based on contrasting liberal and executive models of Parliament The history of the Parliament is contextualised by the changing political background in which it operated over 150 years It is enlivened by portraits of colourful Members such as WP Paddy Crick drunken brawler and master of Parliamentary procedure and accounts of incidents such as George Fuller s seven hour Government and the siege by trade unionists in 2003 On a broader level the book is a dissertation on the nature of State politics and Parliaments and on the theoretical study of parliamentary institutions A NSW Sesquicentenary of Responsible Government publication Oil and Natural Gas V. C. Mtsiva, 2003 Political words machinations and policies galore cannot disguise US dependence on foreign petroleum and natural gas to keep the country moving The ever changing geopolitical scene complicates the pictures as does US willingness to use military force to keep the spigots open This new book presents and analyses the current issues in this big money big risk and non trivial field Mark Twain Under Fire Joe B.
