Aircraft Of The South African Air Force:

Aircraft of the South African Air Force Willem Steenkamp, 1981 Squadron and Special Markings of the Post-war South African Air Force Ivan Spring, 1994 Aircraft of The Royal Australian Air Force Air Force History Branch, 2021-06-01

Aircraft of The Royal Australian Air Force tells the story of the RAAF's first one hundred years by describing the acquisition operation and service record of the multitude of aircraft types flown by the RAAF. The 176 aircraft types include the flimsy wood and canvas aircraft typical of World War I through the technological advances during and after World War II to modern fifth generation complex aircraft like the F 35 Lightning II. Even before its formation Sir Richard Williams the Father of the RAAF had decided to employ an alpha numeric numbering system to identify and account for each aircraft in service. This system started with A1 A2 A3 etc as each type of aircraft came into service. Each individual aircraft within each series was identified as A1 1 A1 2 and so on and the aircraft serial became known colloquially as the A number. With some exceptions over the century since the A number system started aircraft entered RAAF service in broadly the sequence of the A numbers and so this book is intended to assist in charting the 100 year history of the RAAF by listing aircraft operated in A number sequence rather than by listing them by role such as Fighter Bomber Maritime Trainer Transport etc or alphabetically by name or by manufacturer. The inclusion of a comprehensive Index and the Quick Reference Guide to aircraft by role is intended to facilitate the location of the entry for any specific type of aircraft for those who may not already know its A number. Aircraft of The Royal Australian Air Force is a must have for all those who have served in the RAAF those with a passion for military aviation and aircraft in general and the broader members of the public wishing to gain an appreciation of the Royal Australian Air Force in its centenary year.

South African Air Force Fighter Colors. Volume 1 Piet van Schalkwyk, William Marshall, 2018-10

In the early stages of World War Two the Italian Forces in Abyssinia East Africa consisting of 200 000 troops and nearly 400 aircraft constituted a grave threat to Kenya and the Sudan. To meet this threat three South African Air Force SAAF fighter squadrons were deployed to East Africa to counter the attacking Italian Air Force. The three squadrons operated mostly old and antiquated bi planes in the form of Hawker Furies Gloster Gauntlets and Gloster Gladiators. Between then they did also operate a number of Hawker Hurricane Mk Is of which some still had fabric wing surfaces and two bladed wooden propellers. These aircraft were also passed along between the various units depending on the area that had the highest requirement. Among the three squadrons 1 Squadron primarily used Gloster Gladiators while 2 Squadron used Furies and Gladiators with 3 Squadron being the primary users of the Hurricanes. These units were joined by 4 Squadron training on Furies and Curtiss Mohawks before moving to Egypt for operations in the Desert. 3 Squadron later converted to these Curtiss Mohawks and eventually ended up with a mix of Mohawks again supplemented by Gladiators. 41 Squadron an Army Cooperation unit also converted to a fighter squadron after the major campaign was completed and served as a holding unit in East Africa flying Hawker Hurricane Mk IIs. One Detached Flight operating Mohawks during the final part of the campaign was renumbered as B Flight of 3 Squadron and joined the primary unit for the last major operations in East Africa. The squadrons operated on all fronts in Somaliland and Abyssinia and made a considerable contribution towards the victory that was achieved in that campaign. Commenting on the part that the SAAF Fighter Squadrons played in the campaign, Sir Archibald Sinclair said: "When the Italian come to draw up a list of the factors that caused them to lose the East African Empire they will place the South African Air Force somewhere near the top of the list." This volume covers the combat history of these fighter squadrons during the campaign as well as the colors and markings of their aircraft. Primary sources such as Squadron war Diaries and Pilot Logbooks were used in the preparation of the text contained herein. This volume contains 23 full color plates and 112 b/w photos indicating the people and aircraft operated by these squadrons. This volume will be followed by two further volumes tracing the onwards history of these squadrons as well as additional SAAF Fighter Squadrons during the campaign in North Africa and Malta and the campaign in Sicily, Italy and the Balkans. The authors have already written eight books covering the colors and markings of the SAAF and SA Army equipment in a series of booklets entitled South African Colours and Markings numbers 1 to 8. The South African Air Force at War Martin N. Louw, 1995. One Hundred Years of Air Power and Aviation Robin Higham, 2003. In this precise interpretive and informative volume Higham looks at everything from the roots of strategic bombing and tactical air power to the lessons learned and unlearned during the invasion of Ethiopia, the war in China and the Spanish Civil War. He also considers the problems posed by jet aircraft in Korea and the use of Patriot missiles in the Persian Gulf. He covers anti guerrilla operations, doctrine, industrial activities and equipment as well as the development of commercial airlines.

The Rhodesian Air Force in Zimbabwe's War of Liberation, 1966-1980 Darlington Mutanda, 2016-11-22. This book evaluates the development of the Rhodesian Air Force during the Second Chimurenga or Bush War 1966-1980. Airpower in irregular conflict is effective at the tactical level because guerrilla warfare is not a purely military conflict. The Rhodesian Air Force was deployed in a war-winning versus a supporting role as a result of the shortage of manpower to deal with insurgency and almost all units of the Rhodesian Security Forces depended on its tactical effectiveness. Technical challenges faced by the Air Force combined with the rate of guerrilla infiltration and the misuse of airpower to bomb guerrilla bases in neighboring countries largely negated the success of airpower. Royal Air Force Quarterly and Commonwealth Air Forces Journal, 1944. Kites, Birds & Suff - Aircraft of the UNITED STATES of AMERICA - LOCKHEED Aircraft P.D. A History of the Mediterranean Air War, 1940-1945 Christopher Shores,Russell Guest,2025-09-30 In 1943 Allied bombers from Italy launched strategic attacks on Axis oil fields factories and Danube supply routes Following the inter Allied Casablanca Conference in January 1943 the outline for the Combined Bomber Offensive was agreed and resulted in early February with the Casablanca Directive This required the progressive destruction and dislocation of the German military industrial and economic systems and the undermining of the morale of the German people to a point where their capacity for armed resistance is fatally weakened This directive was clarified in June when the Combined Chiefs of Staff issued the Pointblank Directive that stated that the highest priority targets were the fighter aircraft factories to ensure that in the coming invasion of France the enemy would not have air superiority. When these directives were issued it was envisaged that as well as attacks by RAF Bomber Command and the US 8th Air Force based in England, the strategic bomber forces in Italy would begin operations once suitable bases were available. After the Allied landings in Italy and resulting collapse of the Italian fascist regime, a network of bomber bases was hastily developed. Thus on 1 November 1943 the US 15th Air Force was formed to conduct the daylight bombing offensive against strategic targets in southern Germany and across southeastern Europe. Key among these were the Rumanian oilfields and traffic along the River Danube. This new formation was joined by the smaller but highly effective 205 Group RAF that was trained and equipped for night bombing, so mirroring their equivalent British based formations. The damaging attacks on the Reich's oil supplies and the highly effective Danube mining campaign conducted at night by 205 Group delivered huge strategic effect. The latter reduced vital oil and goods traffic into the Reich to a trickle but also dislocated the supply and logistics train into the southern part of the Eastern Front, so giving manifest support to the Soviets. In this volume the early months of this hugely significant air campaign are described in minute and original detail and are accompanied by hundreds of hitherto unpublished photographs. In combating these attacks Germany's Axis allies such as Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria and Slovakia were encountered for the first time by the Western Allies.
