Staging Masculinity Carla J. McDonough,2006-07-19 The men in plays such as Arthur Miller's Death of a Salesman or Sam Shepard's True West are often presented as universal little attention is given to the gender dynamics involved in the characters This work looks at how contemporary playwrights including Miller Shepard Eugene O'Neill David Mamet and August Wilson stage masculinity in their works It becomes apparent that male playwrights return often to the issues of troubled manhood usually masked in other issues such as war business or family The plays indicate both the attractiveness of the model of traditional masculinity and the illusive nature of this image which all too often fractures and fails the characters who pursue it O'Neill's play The Hairy Ape and the character Yank receive much attention

Kovic's Born on the Fourth of July, Didion's Democracy, O'Brien's Going After Cacciato, Rabe's Sticks and Bones and Streamers. Kinney draws a powerful picture of a nation politically, culturally, and socially divided and a war that has been memorialized as a contested site of art, media, politics, and ideology.

Routledge Revivals: David Rabe (1988) Philip C. Kolin, 2016-11-10 In the twenty years that preceded the publication of this book in 1988, David Rabe was in the vanguard of playwrights who shaped American theatre. As the first full-length work on Rabe, this book laid the groundwork for later critical and biographical studies. The first part consists of an essay that covers three sections: a short biography, a summary and evaluation of his formative journalism for the New Haven Register, and a detailed and cohesive stage history of his work. The second part presents the most comprehensive and authoritative primary bibliography of Rabe to date, with the third section containing a secondary bibliography including a section on biographical studies.
