Basic Science And Technology Statistics 2001:

Statistical Abstract of the United States, 2010 Science & Engineering Indicators, 2004 The Oxford Handbook of Innovation Jan Fagerberg, David C. Mowery, Richard R. Nelson, 2006-01-19 This handbook provides academics and students with a comprehensive and holistic understanding of the phenomenon of innovation Closing the Gap in Education and Technology David M. De Ferranti, 2003 The fundamental elements to unlocking the potential of technology to speed up economic growth in Latin America and the Caribbean LAC are investing in education opening up new technologies through foreign trade and investment and encouraging private sector research and development Closing the Gap in Education and Technology advises Latin American and Caribbean governments to address the region's deficits in skills and technology and thereby boost productivity ultimately improving growth prospects To close this productivity gap in the region the report calls for a range of policy approaches and strategies depending on a country's level of development It identifies three progressive stages in a country's technological evolution adoption adaptation and creation and observes that policies should be designed to address the particular challenges that accompany each stage In conclusion Closing the Gap in Education and Technology argues that many countries in the Latin American and Caribbean region have been improving education and social risk management systems so that they are now ready to benefit from the rewards associated with creating stronger trade and technology ties with countries that are more technologically advanced Basic Science and Technology Statistics 2001 Edition, Measuring the Information Economy 2002 OECD, 2002-11-12 With over 80 indicators based on the most up to date official statistics this study provides a comprehensive international comparison of OECD Member countries performance in the information economy Innovative Tokyo Kuniko Fujita, Richard Child Hill, 2005 Fujita and Hill compare and contrast Tokyo's innovation structure with the industrial districts model and the international hub model in the literature on urban and regional development The model embraces and yet transcends both industrial districts and international hub models The authors provide key elements making up the Tokyo model organizational knowledge creation integral and co location systems of corporate research and development and new product development test markets industrial districts and clusters participative consumer culture continuous learning from abroad local government policies the national system of innovation and the historical genesis of Tokyo in Japan's political economy They find that the Tokyo model of innovation will continue to evolve with the changing external environment but fundamentally retain its main characteristics The lessons from the Tokyo model is that openness a diversified industrial base the continuing development of new industries and an emphasis on innovation all contribute to the dynamism of a major metropolitan region This paper a product of the Development Research Group was prepared for the East Asia Prospect Study Abstract The Nonprofit Sector Walter W. Powell, Richard Steinberg, 2006-01-01 Provides a multi disciplinary survey of nonprofit organizations and their role and function in society This book also examines the nature of philanthropic behaviours and an array of organizations international
