Antiquity on the lower Danube Andrew Poulter,2019-09-30 Excavations on the site of this remarkable fort in northern Bulgaria 1996 2005 formed part of a long term program of excavation and intensive field survey aimed at tracing the economic as well as physical changes which mark the transition from the Roman Empire to the Middle Ages a program that commenced with the excavation and full publication of the early Byzantine fortress city of Nicopolis ad Istrum The analysis of well dated finds and their full publication provides a unique database for the late Roman period in the Balkans they include metal work pottery local and imported fine ware glass copper alloy finds inscriptions and dipinti on amphorae as well as quantified environmental reports on animal birds and fish with specialist reports on the archaeobotanical material glass analysis and querns The report also details the results of site specific intensive survey a new method developed for use in the rich farmland of the central Balkans In addition there is a detailed report on a most remarkable and well preserved aqueduct which employed the largest siphon ever discovered in the Roman Empire This publication will provide a substantial database of material and environmental finds an invaluable resource for the region and for the Roman Empire material invaluable for studies which seeks to place the late Roman urban and military identity within its regional and extra regional economic setting Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals ,1999 Resources in Education ,2000 Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1991 Animal Contests Ian C. W. Hardy,Mark Briffa,2013-05-30 Contests are an important aspect of the lives of diverse animals from sea anemones competing for space on a rocky shore to fallow deer stags contending for access to females Why do animals fight What determines when fights stop and which contestant wins Addressing fundamental questions on contest behaviour this volume presents theoretical and empirical perspectives across a range of species The historical development of contest research the evolutionary theory of both dyadic and multiparty contests and approaches to experimental design and data analysis are discussed in the first chapters This is followed by reviews of research in key animal taxa from the use of aerial displays and assessment rules in butterflies and the developmental biology of weapons in beetles through to interstate warfare in humans The final chapter considers future directions and applications of contest research making this a comprehensive resource for both graduate students and researchers in the field Art Index Retrospective ,2000 Intelligent Giving Jonathan P. Caulkins,Jay Cole,Melissa Hardoby,Donna J. Keyser,2002-06-20 Provides an intellectual framework for guiding prospective major donors in giving more effectively to higher education Although most major gifts are profoundly motivated by charitable intentions the noble impulse to give to higher education can quickly generate complicated choices Which school Which program Under what terms or conditions Even very talented people who have enjoyed exceptionally successful careers in business and other fields can become disoriented by academe's idiosyncrasies This book provides an intellectual framework for guiding prospective major donors in giving more effectively to higher education It supplies some insight into the higher education sector donor opportunities the development process and how to think about and get the most from a _negotiation_ with the institution of the donor_s choice The insights and strategies are culled by a RAND research team mainly from interviews with development officers institutional leaders and donors themselves Ultimately the giving process that works best for any donor will depend on his or her individual interests and needs The best advice is to be clear on what effect the donor wants his or her gift to have to seek as much information on the school situation as possible and to consult with an attorney and a good financial advisor at all stages of the giving process Rock Music Mark Spicer,2017-07-05 This volume gathers together twenty articles from among the best scholarly writing on rock music published in academic journals over the past two decades These diverse essays reflect the wide range of approaches that scholars in various disciplines have applied to the study of rock from those that address mainly the historical sociological cultural and technological factors that gave rise to this music to those that focus primarily on analysis of the music itself This collection of articles some of which are now out of print or otherwise difficult to access provides an overview of the current state of research in the field of rock music and includes an introduction which contributes to the ongoing debate over the distinction or lack thereof between rock and pop U.S. Exports ,1967

Neue Instrumente zur sozialen und ökologischen Gestaltung der Globalisierung Hans H. Bass,2004 Bibliographic Guide to Music New York Public Library. Music Division,2004 The American Faculty Jack H. Schuster,Martin J. Finkelstein,2008-12-15 Higher education is becoming destabilized in the face of extraordinarily rapid change The composition of the academy s most valuable asset the faculty and the essential nature of faculty work are being transformed Jack H Schuster and Martin J Finkelstein describe the transformation of the American faculty in the most extensive and ambitious analysis of the American academic profession undertaken in a generation A century ago the American research university emerged as a new organizational form animated by the professionalized discipline based scholar The research university model persisted through two world wars and greatly varying economic conditions In recent years however a new order has surfaced organized around a globalized knowledge based economy powerful privatization and market forces and stunning new information technologies These developments have transformed the higher education enterprise in ways barely imaginable in generations past At the heart of that transformation but largely invisible has been a restructuring of academic appointments academic work and academic careers a reconfiguring widely decried but heretofore inadequately described This volume depicts the scope and depth of the transformation combing empirical data drawn from three decades of national higher education surveys The authors portrait at once startling and disturbing provides the context for interpreting these developments as part of a larger structural evolution of the national higher education system They outline the stakes for the nation and the challenging work to be done The Rise of the City Karima Kourtit,Peter Nijkamp,Roger R. Stough,2015-08-28 Cities and city regions are growing throughout the world and this trend is forecast to continue well into the 21st century The authors of The Rise of the City see the next 100 years as being the Urban Century In this book they examine urban growth Business Periodicals Index ,2001
