Inception Workshop, 2004 Tropical Forest Genetics Reiner Finkeldey, Hans Heinrich Hattemer, 2006-11-22 This book is intended to provide information on fundamental genetic processes in tropical forests It is based on lecture notes by the authors prepared for post graduate students mainly from tropical countries of the M Sc course Tropical and International Forestry at the Faculty of Forest Sciences and Forest Ecology Georg August University Göttingen Germany The intended readership is students researchers and practitioners interested in the genetic variation of species in particular forest trees living in complex forest ecosystems in the tropics Particular emphasis is placed on the human impact on forest genetic resources in the tropics Readers should be familiar with basics of classical and molecular genetics such as the structure and function of DNA double helix structure replication polypeptide synthesis transcription and translation and the transmission of genetic information during sexual reproduction Mendel's rules This knowledge is easily available from recently published genetics textbooks we recommend the book by Griffiths et al 2000 The development of biochemical and molecular marker techniques and their application to species of tropical forests have greatly improved our knowledge of genetic variation patterns of wild plants in the tropics during the last two decades Many examples in this book are based on gene marker techniques Guidelines for the Management of Tropical Forests: The production of wood Ian Armitage, 1998-01-01 THE STATE OF THE WORLD'S FOREST GENETIC RESOURCES Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-05-25 The publication was prepared based on information provided by 86 countries outcomes from regional and subregional consultations and commissioned thematic studies It includes an overview of definitions and concepts related to Forest Genetic Resources FGR and a review of their value a description of the main drivers of changes the presentation of key emerging technologies an analysis of the current status of FGR conservation use and related developments recommendations addressing the challenges and needs By the FAO Commission on Genetic Resources for Food and Agriculture, FAO Forestry Paper, 2005 The Challenge of Sustainable Forest Management Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 1993-01-01 New Directions for Agriculture, Forestry, and Fisheries Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 1994-01-01 Journal of Tropical Forest Science, 1999

Forest Resources and Sustainable Development Kailash Chandra Bebart, 2004 This Book Presents A Detailed Account Of

Global Forest Resources And Principles Of Sustainable Development It Will Be Useful For Researchers Students Professionals And Policy Makers      Forestry Policies of Selected Countries in Asia and the Pacific Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,1993-01-01      Plant Genetic Conservation Nigel Maxted,B.V. Ford-Lloyd,J.G. Hawkes,2013-12-01 The recent development of ideas on biodiversity conservation was already being considered almost three quarters of a century ago for crop plants and the wild species related to them by the Russian geneticist N Vavilov He was undoubtedly the first scientist to understand the importance for humankind of conserving for utilization the genetic diversity of our ancient crop plants and their wild relatives from their centres of diversity His collections showed various traits of adaptation to environmental extremes and biotypes of crop diseases and pests which were unknown to most plant breeders in the first quarter of the twentieth century Later in the 1940s 1960s scientists began to realize that the pool of genetic diversity known to Vavilov and his colleagues was beginning to disappear Through the replacement of the old primitive and highly diverse land races by uniform modern varieties created by plant breeders the crop gene pool was being eroded The genetic diversity of wild species was equally being threatened by human activities over exploitation habitat destruction or fragmentation competition resulting from the introduction of alien species or varieties changes and intensification of land use environmental pollution and possible climate change      Governance Principles for Concessions and Contracts in Public Forests Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,Andrew Frank Howard,John A. Gray,2001-01-01 This report reviews the types of contracts used in the management of public forests Agreements for forest utilisation are analysed along with contracts for the acquisition of goods and services The study illustrates the importance of an effective institutional and legal framework The key elements to consider when awarding contracts are detailed along with valuation administration and ensuring the terms of the contract are fulfilled Special attention is given to the importance of awarding contracts through a transparent and competitive process      Forestry Policies in the Caribbean ,1998      Forest genetic resources conservation and management: status in seven South and Southeast Asian countries ,2009      Valuing Forests H. M. Gregersen,Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,1995-01-01 In recent years issues related to forests have come to prominence on the international agenda This reflects growing concern over the fate of forest ecosystems and possible loss of the benefits which they provide In the process of moving towards sustainable management of forests there is growing demand for practical methodologies for full valuation of forests which permit the contributions of forests to be presented more clearly and in a manner which decision makers can readily appreciate Appropriate techniques should be able to adequately capture forest values in terms of the environmental social and production functions and to recognise the worth of both marketed and non marketed goods and services This publication reviews approaches which can overcome the limitations of conventional analysis and provides a reference framework to help clarify what approaches to forest valuation can or cannot work The publication is not itself a manual on valuation techniques but by reviewing the various approaches

makes it possible to select appropriate methodologies for which it then refers readers to other publications which can provide how to do details Better Forestry, Less Poverty Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2006-01-01 This guide suggests ways to design and implement forest based interventions that have the greatest potential to reduce poverty Areas for action include timber production in both natural and planted forests non wood forest products woodfuel bushmeat agroforestry and payment for environmental services For each topic the guide outlines key issues summarizes successful case studies and identifies sources of additional information The document highlights the importance of using participatory approaches and of tailoring activities to local circumstances Emphasis is on making changes that will improve the livelihoods of people living in or near forests and on helping users to gain a better understanding of the forms of rural poverty and of how decisions made at the local level affect segments of poor rural communities in different ways women children and the elderly being the most vulnerable The guide will be of interest to forestry and rural development practitioners and the communities they serve including district forestry officials extension workers local planners and administrators and owners of small scale enterprises and their employees
