Constantinople And Istanbul:

Constantinople and Istanbul 1921- Ashenden, Sidney E. P. Nowill OBE, 2011-12-01 The book gives a colourful collection of fascinating personal memoirs Sidney Nowill OBE recounts his carefree childhood in Moda and the idyllic village of Bournabat outside Smyrna and how this blissful innocence was cut short when he was sent off to boarding school in England Not long after the outbreak of World War II Sidney found himself recruited for duties with MI6 he was even asked to continue this role in a different capacity after the war had ended but saw no reason to continue such work After the war Sidney began working for his father's import business before he set up independently manufacturing a range of products The business required that he undertook sales tours extensively throughout Turkey and this gave Sidney the unique opportunity to get a feel for the understanding and opinion of the average provincial Turkish male There follow some amusing tales how Sidney managed to scramble out onto the dome of the Hagia Sophia by clutching onto a rusty Byzantine chain how he and the Turkish Police chased a gang of counterfeiters how he hung from a chicken wire cradle during the construction of the first Bosphorus Bridge and how he managed to amass a fortune on the nascent Turkish Stock Exchange Many other amusing and colourful stories are told in the book In the early 70s Sidney became an External Economic Advisor to the Shell group of companies in Turkey and was frequently sought for his advice on Turkey's financial affairs by people ranging from Prime Minister S. Leyman Demirel to workshop meetings in the World Economic Forum Sidney finally retired to England in 1993

Judith McKenzie, Peter Roger Stuart Moorey, 2007-01-01 This masterful history of the monumental architecture of Alexandria as well as of the rest of Egypt encompasses an entire millennium from the city's founding by Alexander the Great in 331 B C to the years just after the Islamic conquest of A D 642 Long considered lost beyond recall the architecture of ancient Alexandria has until now remained mysterious But here Judith McKenzie shows that it is indeed possible to reconstruct the city and many of its buildings by means of meticulous exploration of archaeological remains written sources and an array of other fragmentary evidence The book approaches its subject at the macro and the micro level from city planning building types and designs to architectural style It addresses the interaction between the imported Greek and native Egyptian traditions the relations between the architecture of Alexandria and the other cities and towns of Egypt as well as the wider Mediterranean world and Alexandria's previously unrecognized role as a major source of architectural innovation and artistic influence Lavishly illustrated with new plans of the city in the Ptolemaic Roman and Byzantine periods reconstruction drawings and photographs the book brings to life the ancient city and uncovers the true extent of its architectural legacy in the Mediterranean world

1453 Roger Crowley, 2013-02-12 A gripping exploration of the fall of Constantinople and its connection to the world we live in today The fall of Constantinople in 1453 signaled a shift in history and the end of the Byzantium Empire Roger Crowley's readable and comprehensive account of the battle between Mehmet II sultan of the Ottoman Empire and Constantine XI the 57th emperor of Byzantium illuminates the period in history that was a precursor to the current conflict between the West and the Middle East For a thousand years Constantinople was quite simply the city fabulously wealthy imperial intimidating and Christian Singlehandedly it blunted early Arab enthusiasm for Holy War when a second wave of Islamic warriors swept out of the Asian steppes in the Middle Ages Constantinople was the ultimate prize The Red Apple It was a city that had always lived under threat On average it had survived a siege every forty years for a millennium until the Ottoman Sultan Mehmet II twenty one years old and hungry for glory rode up to the walls in April 1453 with a huge army numberless as the stars 1453 is the taut vivid story of this final struggle for the city told largely through the accounts of eyewitnesses For fifty five days a tiny group of defenders defied the huge Ottoman army in a seesawing contest fought on land at sea and underground During the course of events the largest cannon ever built was directed against the world's most formidable defensive system Ottoman ships were hauled overland into the Golden Horn and the morale of defenders was crucially undermined by unnerving portents At the center is the contest between two inspirational leaders Mehmed II and Constantine XI fighting for empire and religious faith and an astonishing finale in a few short hours on May 29 1453 a defining moment for medieval history 1453 is both a gripping work of narrative history and an account of the war between Christendom and Islam that still has echoes in the modern world Daily Life in Ancient and Modern Istanbul
