Constitution Nation Establishing The Constitution:

The Antebellum Origins of the Modern Constitution Simon J. Gilhooley, 2020-10-29 Locates the origins of the modern sense of a Founder's Constitution in Antebellum debates over slavery in the nation's capital To Establish Constitutional Procedures for the Imposition of Capital Punishment United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Criminal Laws and Procedures, 1977 China's Transition from Communism - New Perspectives Guoguang Wu, Helen Lansdowne, 2015-11-06 As China moved from a planned to a market economy many people expected that China's political system would similarly move from authoritarianism to democracy It is now clear however that political liberalisation does not necessarily follow economic liberalisation This book explores this apparent contradiction presenting many new perspectives and new thinking on the subject It considers the path of transition in China historically makes comparisons with other countries and examines how political culture and the political outlook in China are developing at present A key feature of the book is the fact that most of the contributors are China born Western trained scholars who bring deep knowledge and well informed views to the study The Constitutional History of England Since the Accession of George the Third Thomas Erskine May, 1886 Constitutional History of the United States from Their Declaration of Independence to the Close of Their Civil War George Ticknor Curtis, 1897 The Metaethics of Constitutional Adjudication Bosko Tripkovic, 2018-01-11 In this book Bosko Tripkovic develops a theory of value based arguments in constitutional adjudication In contrast to the standard question of constitutional theory that asks whether the courts get moral answers wrong it asks a more fundamental question of whether the courts get the morality itself wrong Tripkovic argues for an antirealist conception of value one that does not presuppose the existence of mind independent moral truths and accounts for the effect this ought to have on existing value based arguments made by constitutional courts The book identifies three dominant types of value based arguments in comparative constitutional practice arguments from constitutional identity common sentiment and universal reason and explains why they fail as self standing approaches to moral judgment It then suggests that the appropriate moral judgments emerge from the dynamics between practical confidence which denotes the inescapability of the self and the evaluative attitudes it entails and reflection which denotes the process of challenging and questioning these attitudes The book applies the notions of confidence and reflection to constitutional reasoning and maintains that the moral inquiry of the constitutional court ought to depart from the emotive intuitions of the constitutional community and then challenge these intuitions through reflective exposure to different perspectives in order to better understand and develop the underlying constitutional identity The book casts new light on common constitutional dilemmas and allows us to envisage new ways of resolving them The Constitutional History of England Since the Accession of George the Third, 1760-1860 Thomas Erskine May (Baron Farnborough.), 1871 Report of the National Constitutional Commission, 1991/1992 National Constitutional Commission (Lesotho), Lesotho.
