THE IMPLEMENTATION OF MODERN AFRICAN
CONSTITUTIONS: Challenges and Prospects

Edited by CHARLES MANGA FOMBAD

PULP

In The implementation of modern African Constitutions: challenges and prospects, the author tries to identify obstacles to constitutional implementation in Africa and, on the basis of good practice, assess how this could be overcome. A single volume like this cannot unravel the complexity of the causes and effects of, and solutions to, the problem of non-implementation of constitutions in Africa; the subject is far too intricate. Nevertheless, this study represents a first attempt to draw attention to the issue, and hopes to open a serious debate about it and pave the way for making this issue an integral consideration in constitution-building in the future.

The variety of perspectives provided in analysing the challenges to constitutional implementation in this volume should make it of appeal to academics, practitioners, policy makers and postgraduate research students interested in the vicissitudes of comparative African constitutional law.

Decentralization and Constitutionalism in Africa Charles M. Fombad, Nico Steytler, 2019-09-10 This collection of essays assesses the efforts of African governments to constitutionalise decentralisation be it in the form of federalism local government or traditional authorities Since the end of the Cold War jurisdictions across Africa have witnessed an ostensible return to multi party democracy within the paradigm of constitutionalism and the rule of law Linked to the democratisation process many countries took steps to decentralize power by departing from the heavily centralized systems inherited from colonial regimes The centralization of power typically characterized by the personalization and concentration of power in the hands of leaders and privileged elites in capital cities mostly resulted in repressive regimes and fragile states As decentralisation is a response to these challenges this volume analyses the dynamic relationship between the efforts to implement decentralization and presence or absence of constitutionalism This volume examines a variety of forms and degrees of decentralization found across Africa It advances a new understanding of trends and patterns and facilitates the exchange of ideas among African governments and scholars about the critical role that decentralisation may play in democratization of and constitutionalism in Africa Human Rights Law in Africa, Volume 4 (1999) Christof Heyns,2021-11-15 A wide range of topics is covered for the first time in this volume including resolutions of various OAU bodies in respect of human rights the relevant provisions of the treaties establishing sub regional inter governmental organisations and the founding documents of national human rights institutions in Africa South Africa's Crisis of Constitutional Democracy Robert A.
